BLAST THAT ROCKS DUBLIN DESTROYS FOUR COURTS

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

DUBLIN, June 30.—The beautiful Four Courts building, facing the Liffey, is in ruins tonight, and Rory O'Connor, Liam Mellowes and the irregular troops who had been holding it since Wednesday morning against attacks by the Free State forces are prisoners in the hands of the provisional government.

O'Conner and his adherents surrendered this afternoon after a tremendous explosion had set the building on fire. They are declared to have capitulated unconditionally.

The explosion resulted in casualties to more than thirty of the regular troops who were inside the building. It is said none of dissident forces was injured.

PRISONERS NUMEROUS

Prisoners to the number of 110 were taken when the O'Connorites ran up the white flag of surrender.

Tonight isolated fighting is proceeding at various points throughout Dublin.

The fire is still raging among the ruins of the courthouse.

All those inside the Four Courts building were made prisoners by the provisional government forces. Lined up four deep along the quays, the prisoners were marched away under a strong guard. Altogether there were 150 of them.

Lieut.-Gen. Connell, assistant chief of staff of the government forces, to the kidnaping of whom by the O'Connorites is attributed the attack of the government on the Four Courts, was among those who came out of the building after the surrender. He had been imprisoned in a cellar, out of reach of the shot and shell that had raked the building since hostilities began Wednesday morning. The surrender was made to Brig.-Gen. O'Daly.

The fight was preceded by negotiations for a truce made by some of the leaders of the dissident troops at the instance of a priest who was with them inside the building.

BLAST SHAKES CITY

Some time prior to the capitulation there were deafening explosions that shook the center of the city. The detonation sent up a huge cloud of black smoke, filled with debris and portions of burning documents. Then it was seen that the building was on fire. Portions of the papers picked up in the street showed that they once had belonged in the offices of the land registry and the registry of deeds.

The fire brigade promptly turned out, and with the understanding that the firemen would not be fired on by either side volunteered to assist in removing the wounded from the building. Every available ambulance in the city was requisitioned and was whizzing through the streets of Dublin throughout the afternoon.

Between twenty-five and thirty wounded soldiers were awaiting medical attention when the doctors from the nearest hospital and the ambulances hurried to the scene.

The Free State troops engaged in the operations against the irregulars in Dublin were apparently turning their attention today to meeting the insurgent measures in the outlying parts of the city, taking up positions in dozens of buildings, fortifying them strongly and establishing observation posts. The city is thus rapidly becoming a huge fortress, with hundreds of snipers firing almost continuously. The peril to people in the streets hourly is becoming more acute.

DANGER POINTS MANY

Talbot street, where, in front of Moran's Hotel, two lorries containing British soldiers speeding toward the north wall were fired on by the mutineers, shortly after noon today, is becoming one of the greatest danger points. The fire from the hotel was maintained throughout the morning in the di-

IT'S EUROPE VS. AMERICA

Nations Combine to Annul Debt

Leniency to Germany Means Reciprocal Action by United States

Uncle Sam is Rich, We Are Poor, Burden of Argument on All Sides

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, June 30.—Events of the last few weeks have made one thing certain beyond the shadow of a doubt—that the nations of Europe which are creditors of Germany have combined to compel the United States to reduce or wipe out entirely their debts to her.

The fact was stated clearly in the debate in the Belgian Senate on the report of the Delacroix commission, as the committee of bankers was called which met in Paris to discuss the feasibility of a loan to Germany to enable her to make reparations payments.

It will be remembered that Belgium's representative on that committee, M. Delacroix, voted with the British and Italian representatives in favor of asking the reparations commission to give it authority to discuss the reduction of German reparations as a helpful step toward making a loan possible. The reparations commission, the French representative dissenting, gave the requisite authority. Later, in the bankers' committee M. Delacroix declined to admit a reduction of either the French or the Belgian reparations claims. Thereupon the bankers threw up their hands and decided that the time was inopportune for discussing a loan to Germany.

THEUNIS REPLIES

Questioned in the Belgian Senate, the Belgian Prime Minister, M. Theunis, made reply. He was in a different position. France had been disturbed greatly at the attitude of M. Delacroix in apparently deserting France by voting to permit the bankers' committee to discuss the reduction of the reparations total. It seemed to France as the vote of the reparations commission later indicated, that Belgium had been won over by England and Italy, and that she had lost her ally. It was up to M. Theunis to explain to France the attitude of M. Delacroix. He did so in these words:

"I can say to you that one day, in the committee of bankers, certain members agreed while recognizing that they had no right to touch upon the Allies' credits, to consider a situation in which a reduction of those credits might be necessary to insure the success of a loan (to Germany.) M. Delacroix then spoke. He declared that neither Belgium nor France could ever consent to a reduction

DAYLIGHT SAVING HURTS SHOWS

Chicago Owners Also Have Grievance Against Union Workers in Houses

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, June 30.—Daylight saving and hot weather have hurt their business so much that many outlying motion-picture theaters are now operating only Saturdays and Sundays. Exhibitors announced the fact at a meeting today when they declared war against daylight saving laws. Other troubles of the theater owners were said to be the high cost of film rentals and high wage demands by musicians and union employees.

LAST ECHO OF PICKFORD CASE HEARD

Petition for Rehearing Denied by Nevada Supreme Court in Short Ruling

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CARSON CITY (Nev.) June 30. The State Supreme Court of Nevada here today denied a petition of Atty.-Gen. Leonard B. Fowler asking for a rehearing of his action attacking the divorce granted at Minden, Nev., to Mary Pickford from Owen Moore, both motion-picture stars. The Supreme Court recently upheld the divorce.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 30. — Refusal of the Nevada Supreme Court to grant the petition for the rehearing of the attack on Mary Pickford's divorce means that the case is ended, Gavin McNab, San Francisco attorney, who represented Miss Pickford in the matter, declared here today.

For more than two years the case has been in the Nevada courts, having been filed on April 16, 1920, not long after Miss Pickford, who was granted the divorce March 21, 1920, had married Douglas Fairbanks, another star.

Fowler moved that the divorce decree be set aside "in the interests of the State of Nevada" and charged Moore and Miss Pickford with "fraud and collusion."

Attorneys for Miss Pickford, in reply, claimed that Fowler had no authority under Nevada laws to bring his action and declared that if the principle on which the State's suit was predicated were sustained, the Attorney-General could review all divorce cases ever tried in Nevada.

BOB SHULER HOOTED BY TAFT CROWD

Los Angeles Pastor Defends Klan; Compares Order to Masons

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

TAFT, June 30. — Rev. Robert Shuler, known as "Fighting Bob Shuler," a Los Angeles minister, last night addressed a public meeting in Taft on "Americanism."

Rev. Shuler's remarks brought an angry demonstration from the crowd of 500 who heard him when he compared the Ku Klux Klan with fraternal organizations such as the Odd Fellows and Masons and asserted that he "could not see" why any 100 per cent American should not join the Ku Klux Klan.

The speaker declared that he had read the Klan oath and constitution and had found in those instruments no regulations that would restrain good citizens from becoming affiliated with the "Invisible Empire."

His statements concerning the Klan were greeted with hoots from the audience. Cries of "where's your mask" and "his feet never left the ground," referring to testimony in the trial of John H. Vitelle, convicted of assaulting Dr. Dwight R. Mason, greeted declarations of the pastor.

Following the address of Rev. Shuler, W. A. Waltman spoke to the assemblage attacking the assertions of the speaker.

HARDING TO SPEND WEEK FROM WORK

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Plans made by President Harding to return next week to the now famous "front porch" on the occasion of the celebration by Marion of the centennial of its founding, were revealed today, and show that he expects to be absent just a week from Washington.

The President, accompanied by a small party which will include Mrs. Harding, Gen. Pershing, Charles G. Dawes, retiring director of the budget; Brig.-Gen. Charles E. Sawyer, personal physician to the President, and George B. Christian, Jr., secretary to the President, is expected to leave Washington by automobile tomorrow afternoon.

Chicago Police in Hunt for Missing Los Angeles Girl

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, June 30.—Coast guards and police are dragging the lagoon in Lincoln Park in a search for the body of Miss Phoebe Allen, 16 years old, a "mystery girl" scenario writer whose purse was filled with epigrams of love and marriage, who is believed to have committed suicide. The girl registered at the La Salle Hotel June 25, giving her address as Los Angeles. The following day she checked out and went to a rooming-house on Dearborn street.

As the police were searching a telegram from a young attorney in Roanoke, Va., who signed himself "Hal," came to her room. The message urged her to "quit chasing rainbows."

Whether the rainbows referred to her attempts to earn her own living by writing, as evidenced by rejected manuscripts in her room—or whether the young lawyer was referring to some ideas of love and marriage which the girl evidently believed—is not known.

OFFER OF MARRIAGE

The message from the young attorney arrived this morning. It read: "Your wire frightens me. I can't come now. Practice bad all year. Be sensible and come home and forget your blues. Can marry soon and get apartment near Aunt Em. Quit chasing rainbow myth. Mailing order tonight. Back to Roanoke Saturday. Disgusted at failure to land case. Lovingly,

"HAL."

And into the mystery there is intertwined a letter from another man who may well be her sweetheart, who signed himself "Wayne" in a letter postmarked Chicago and delivered to her room this morning, two days after she disappeared.

The search for the body of Miss Allen, described as pretty and vivacious by Mrs. Caroline Burton, housekeeper at the rooming-house address, was begun when a pedestrian in Lincoln park found her cape and vanity case on the banks of the lagoon this morning.

SEARCHES FOR GIRL

Miss Allen's suicide intentions were known to but one woman—a Mrs. Schaefer, who is believed to be an old friend of the girl. According to Mrs. Burton, Mrs. Schaefer came to the house Thursday night. She rushed into the building, asking for Miss Allen.

"I received a letter from her and she said she had only eleven cents left and was going to commit suicide," said Mrs. Schaefer. "We must hunt for her, and we must be quiet about it."

The letters had been mailed Wednesday night just before the girl disappeared. At the Hotel La Salle a Mrs. A. E. Schaefer was registered with her daughter from Lima, O. She left the hotel this morning.

In a notebook found among her effects the address "Sydney, Australia," had been written, indicating that the pamphlet, filed for the most part with the addresses and names of employment agencies, had been purchased in that city. But tucked away on one sheet of paper in the book was this notation:

"I wrote to Wayne and gave him my new address. Haven't bothered him for a long time."

HAD QUIT LITERATURE

In her room the police found much evidence that Miss Allen had been writing and endeavoring to sell her literary products. A number of rejection slips, crumpled and torn, were found in a waste basket. In her purse, indicating that she had temporarily forsaken literature, the police found a number of addresses of employment agencies.

An elevated car ticket and eleven cents in change also were found in her purse. Newspaper clippings told of the suicide of a number of persons, one in Tennessee and another in New York, both having killed themselves by drowning.

WILL SUPPORT FRAZIER

Senator McCumber Says He Will Not Bolt His Successful Opponent in North Dakota

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, June 30.—The outcome of the Republican primary in North Dakota appears to be a victory for the Nonpartisan League in naming the Republican candidate for Senator, former Gov. Lynn J. Frazier, but a defeat for the league in the effort to regain complete control of the State government to revive the original Socialistic program of State industries.

The defeat of Senator McCumber for renomination may fairly be attributed in part to the revolt against conservative statesmanship, manifested in the primaries in various parts of the country, and partly to the dissatisfaction of the conservative Republicans in North Dakota with McCumber, who they thought had not aided them in their fight to extirpate the Nonpartisan League.

STAND FOR McCUMBER

Senator McCumber says he never bolted a ticket in his life and that he and his friends will support Frazier as the regularly chosen nominee of the party. O'Connor, the Democratic candidate, will receive the support, presumably, of a good many Republicans identified with the Independent Voters' Association, the arch foe of the Nonpartisan League, but it is doubted that Frazier can be defeated.

Frazier, who was recalled from the Governorship of North Dakota last year, is known as a radical, but in the Senate he is likely to prove much less radical than he is painted, as has been the case of Dr. Ladd, the first Senator put over by the Nonpartisan League.

Senator Ladd said today that Frazier is "a progressive Republican of the modern school" compared with McCumber, whom he called a "staunch, uncompromising Republican of the old school." To illustrate the progressiveness of the candidate, Dr. Ladd enunerated the legislative measures Frazier backed as Governor, among them being the rural credits law, the exemption of farm improvements and small city homes from taxation, simplified court procedure, thirty days' notice before mortgage foreclosure, soldiers' compensation law, workmen's compensation law, women suffrage, eight-hour day and minimum wage for women, guarantee of bank deposits, improved grain grading and dockage reimbursement, hail and fire insurance at cost.

The nomination of Gov. Nestos means a rebuff for the Nonpartisan League as to its State program and

Flood of Europeans Await Letting Down of Bars at Ellis Island Today

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, June 30.—A flood of aliens, 7000 Europeans whose arrival in New York Harbor was timed to coincide with the opening of the country's gateways to the new half-year immigration quotas, will literally swamp Ellis Island tomorrow.

Twelve ships bear the great crowd of newcomers. Several of the vessels were waiting outside the three-mile limit this afternoon and the others are speeding to this port to insure landing of their immigrant passengers before the quotas are exhausted.

Immigration authorities at Ellis Island have announced that the new rules will be enforced rigidly. Not more than 20 per cent of any countries on the quota will be accepted in a single month and all passengers in excess of that number will be sent back across the ocean without a hearing and at the expense of the steamship company which brought them.

The Centeroso and the President Wilson will anchor off Ambrose Lightship at the stroke of midnight and proceed up the harbor to be the first at quarantine when the bars for the new quota are let down soon after dawn. The Centeroso has on board 120 first, 415 second and 1069 third-class passengers. The President Wilson has forty-nine first, 453 second and 643 third-cabin passengers. The two ships sailed from Naples and their passengers will fill a large part of the Italian quota for July.

The Argentine is bearing into port with a large number of Italian immigrants. The King Alexander has a good portion of the Greek quota. The Latvia is bringing ninety-six passengers, mostly Russians. The New Amsterdam is expected tomorrow morning with a large percentage of the Dutch and German quota.

Buffalo Man is Chosen Unanimously as National Commander

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 30.—C. Hamilton Cook of Buffalo, N. Y., was unanimously elected national commander of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War at the annual convention of the organization here today. Previously Cook had nominated Judge Robert S. Marx of Cincinnati, the outgoing commander for the post, but Judge Marx refused to run again.

Ralph Horr of Seattle, retiring senior vice-commander in a speech before the nomination began, announced that he was not a candidate for office. He said that various attacks had been made on his character and that he preferred to meet his traducers on an equal footing.

Commander-elect Cook went overseas with the 77th division, as a captain in the 305th infantry. He was wounded at Vesle River but after a term in the hospital, returned to his unit against the advice of army physicians and was gassed in the Argonne. He is now in the moving picture producing business in Buffalo.

RAILROAD SHOPMEN DEFY BOARD; STRIKE TODAY

Union Leader Ignores Summons and Keeps in Hiding; Other Crafts Postpone Final Action

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, June 30.—Federal intervention by the United States Railroad Labor Board today failed to halt the strike of 400,000 railway shopmen called for 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. Flouting, according to Ben W. Hooper, the board's efforts to effect a settlement of the shopmen's grievances before the walkout took place, B. M. Jewell, head of the shop crafts unions, and the six international union heads refused to appear for an official investigation of the strike by the board. No further attempt to forestall the strike will be made, Chairman Hooper announced in adjourning the Federal body's inquiry.

A threatened strike of 400,000 railway maintenance-of-way employees was at least postponed, however, by the board's intervention. The strike of this group, which had been expected to parallel that of the shopmen, will not be announced at present, but will await further action of the organization's executive council, according to the announcement of President E. F. Grable before the board this afternoon.

BLOOD ON OWN HEAD

President Jewell's failure to attend the peace conference brought severe condemnation from the chairman of the board, who, in closing the inquiry, declared the rail union chief's blood was on "his own head."

"Mr. Jewell has flouted a government tribunal," concluded Chairman Hooper, "charged with the duty and responsibility to investigate this matter, not only in the interests of the public, but in the interests of his own organizations, the interests of the carriers and the railway transportation system of this country.

"He has shouldered the responsibility of his own volition and the board declines to pursue the matter no further."

Neither Jewell nor any of the shop crafts heads answered the board's summons. Instead they sent a letter maintaining the right of the shopmen to strike and expressing the belief that the board's hearing would but result in "a confused and disorderly strike movement, lacking authoritative control and almost inevitably resulting in a mob-like action, pregnant with grave possibilities."

HEALY BROUGHT IN

Timothy Healy, president of the stationary firemen and oilers, likewise failed to appear when the board's hearing convened and subpoenas were issued forthwith, summoning both Jewell and Healy before the board. Healy arrived just before the close of the session, but Jewell was not found, and it was said that he had left the city until after the hour set for the walkout of his men tomorrow.

In contrast to the complete failure to throttle the shopmen's strike, the labor board's inquiry met with marked success in the case of the maintenance-of-way employees and the contract cases of the twenty-three railroads also cited to appear at today's investigation.

Twelve railroad representatives turned the session into a testimonial meeting as they arose, one after another, and announced their willingness to cancel all existing contracts for the performance of railroad work by outside firms. Practically all maintained that it was their legal right to contract such work, but expressed a desire to comply with the board's ruling if, thereby, the strike crisis might be relieved.

WON'T ISSUE CALL

Three other union heads in addition to president Grable of the maintenance-of-way brotherhood, gave assurance to the board that, although their organizations were taking strike votes, no call to quit work would be issued immediately.

The announced delay of the maintenance-of-way strike call, which had been expected tonight from the headquarters in Detroit, came after a lengthy discussion between Mr. Grable and Chairman Hooper. Grable told the board that more than half of the 228,000 votes had already been canvassed, the results thus far

RAIL BOARD SUPPORTED

White House Defines Policy

Administration Stands Behind Body; Decrees Must be Backed Up

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 30.—The administration, speaking today through the White House on the eve of the called strike of 400,000 union railroad shopworkers, declared its determination to stand squarely behind the Railroad Labor Board. It is because of the decision of the Labor Board that the shop craftsmen have decided to quit work at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

The administration view set forth in language as forcible as the spokesmen could command, was that the Labor Board was an agency of the government dealing with the disputes between the roads and their employees and therefore its decrees must and would be backed up by the government.

BOARD IS GOVERNMENT

The Labor Board "is the government when it speaks" was the way the spokesman summed up the administration view adding that his view held, whether the board's decisions drew the protest of labor organizations because they involve cuts in wages or whether they were protested by the railroads because they required the managements to desist in contracting out repair work to private shops. The determinations of the board, the administration further was asserted to hold, are by the delegated authority of Congress and in a field definitely marked out in the law of the land.

The administration pronouncement was made just a few minutes before there occurred in Chicago what Chairman Hooper of the Labor Board declared to be a flouting of a government body by B. M. Jewell, head of the railroad department of the American Federation of Labor, namely, the refusal of Jewell and some of his colleagues to appear in answer to a summons of the board.

TO MAINTAIN STAND

Whether the administration view went so far as to take further action was therefore a question left open for the time being. The general belief, however, was that as the transportation act clothed the Labor Board with no powers to enforce its decision, there were no steps left for the government to take at this stage except to

MAYOR OLES HAS ENOUGH

Youngstown Executive Will Resign Because He Can't Run City in His Own Way

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

YOUNGSTOWN (O.) June 30.—Mayor George L. Oles of this city announced today that he would put his resignation as Mayor to the City Council at a special meeting he has called for 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

He gives as his reason for resigning that he has been so hampered by politicians that he has been unable to accomplish anything in his efforts to run the city affairs with the same efficiency that he would his private business.

"My head is full of public troubles, enough to last me the balance of my life. My head is full of praise, enough to last me the rest of my time," said Mayor Oles. Later in setting forth reasons for his resignation effective Saturday, he said, "I am resigning the Mayorship for the reason it is impossible for an honest man to do anything in the Mayor's office. If I enforce laws I make enemies. If I do not enforce them I also make enemies. I cannot enforce the laws on account of the lawyers."

The Mayor then scored business men for supporting a referendum to keep police on duty at wartime pay with the city broke.

"Talk about a thankless job, if there was ever any such job on earth there is none compared to this. I cut the budget $600,000 and made many enemies and only one taxpayer had time and conviction to write me and thank me for it."

The Mayor promises some sensational statements tomorrow morning when he meets the City Council to submit the resignation.

Mayor Oles, who was elected in November, 1921, gained the reputation of being the "most widely advertised Mayor in the United States." His administration in Youngstown's City Hall has been a stormy one. Controversies with his police department and influential political powers reached a climax a few days ago when application was filed with Gov. Davis asking Oles's impeachment.

BANDITS FREE AMERICANS

Men Held for Ransom All at Liberty, State Department Is Notified by Tampico Consul

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Americans working for oil companies in the Tampico region all have been released from restraint by bandits who had held them for ransom, in the face of full information as to what had occurred at the two camps raided by the marauders.

Consul Shaw at Tampico merely reported today that the thirty-five persons held by the raiders at Pecera camp of the LaCorona Company were no longer held. He had previously estimated that about alf a dozen American citizens were included in this group, and new representations that they be protected were sent to Mexico City by the department.

Consul Shaw was asked for a more detailed report of the most recent incident in the oil fields. It was not known whether the bandits had been bought off through payment of ransom or driven off by the approach of Federal forces. In view of the dearth of information officials here continued the silence that has characterized their attitude since the report of the capture of A. Bruce Bielaski near Cuernavaca.

With regard to the statement made by Mexico City newspapers that Bielaski connived in his own abduction, officials had nothing whatever to say. It was pointed out, however, that official informa-

The employees' grievances, he explained, included the $60,000,000 pay cut which goes into effect under a board decision tomorrow, the contracting of track labor and removal of the eight-hour day through several rules changes recently issued by the Labor Board. "If the men could have some assurance of a rehearing on these grievances, Mr. Grable said, he volunteered to "use his influence" to prevent a strike.

The power to sanction a walkout, the union chief continued, lies in his executive committee of five men. A meeting of that committee will be held in Chicago July 3, Grable said and at that time, a thorough reconsideration of the situation will be made.

COST OF LIVING

Touching on the wage cut, Grable declared that the cost of living as shown by government statistics, had actually risen in the face of the impending wage cut. Chairman Hooper immediately agreed that, whenever facts warranted, the board would readily reconsider wages in the light of changing conditions. Mainly upon this assurance of renewed consideration of his men's wages, Grable agreed that no strike call would be issued tonight and that his own efforts would be directed toward averting one.

Then followed interrogations of E. H. Fitzgerald, head of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, D. W. Helt, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Signalmen and finally of Timothy Healy, who appeared in answer to the subpoena issued by the board.

NO IMMEDIATE STRIKE

All three explained the strike votes being taken by their memberships, each assuring the board that no immediate strike would be called, although Fitzgerald predicted that freight handlers, members of his organization, might leave their work on some roads simultaneously with the shopmen tomorrow. They would leave, however, without the union's authority, as strike ballots are being cast on but sixty roads, where the power to authorize a walkout lies in the hands of the system general committee.

Helt said that only a few ballots had been received on the signalmen's vote and these would be insufficient to authorize any strike at present. The stationary firemen's vote is not returnable until July 10, Healy told the board, removing the likelihood of a walkout of his men at least until that date.

CANCELING CONTRACTS

In announcing the cancelation of contracts by the New York Central, Jacob Aronsen, general counsel for the road, read a statement asserting that while the road considered it entirely legal to continue the contracts, it would "in the interest of harmony" cancel its contracts, "if such action can avoid a strike."

W. L. Bleed, president of the Chicago and Alton, made a similar announcement, as did H. E. Byram of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, and representatives of other roads including the Chicago, Great Western, the Missouri, Kansas and Texas; the Wheeling and Lake Erie; Ann Arbor, San Francisco and St. Louis; Colorado and Southern; Pere Marquette, the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific and Chicago and Northwestern.

In concluding the hearing upon the failure of the sergeant-at-arms to locate Jewell, at his office or his home, Chairman Hooper sought to clear up any intimation contained in Jewell's letter to the board that the Federal body sought to throttle the right of the shopmen to quit work.

BOARD HAS POWER

"The board has ample powers to compel Mr. Jewell's presence here as a witness," said Chairman Hooper, "not as a party to this controversy, but as a witness to material facts involved in this hearing.

"Tomorrow is the day set for the strike of his organization and that being the case it is not worth while to adjourn the hearing until tomorrow to undertake to compel Mr. Jewell's presence here. No practical purposes could be served by it.

"This board feels that it has fully carried out the responsibility resting upon it under the Transportation Act, to use every available means to prevent labor disturbance which might result in interruptions to traffic.

The board right here might express its appreciation of the different courses of conduct adopted by the gentlemen representing the other organizations of employees, and also its appreciation of the very fine spirit shown by nearly all of the railroads."

JEWELL LETTER

The Jewell letter had urged "that no action be taken at the present time which would deprive the railroad employees of the immediate counsel and guidance of their chosen representatives" who were declared to be carrying out "the unmistakable desires and directions of their constituents."

The railroads, Jewell said, had the power "to open negotiations at any time for the purpose of agreeing upon acceptable wages and rules under which work may be resumed by the railway employees. The union leader pointed out that if a carrier decided to lay off employees because it could not afford to pay for their services, the board would not regard such action as a violation of any decision. Likewise, Jewell contended that the employees had the same right to stop work if they could "not afford to continue to render services under the wage and working conditions fixed by the board."

REMAIN IN HIDING

Neither Jewell nor any of the officials of the shop unions could be located here tonight. Rumors were afloat in railroad circles that the strike would be called off despite Jewell's firm stand in his letter to the board. Withdrawal of the support of the maintenance of way men, it was believed, would act as a damper on the shopmen's strike and the announcement that the farming out of shop work would be discontinued by a majority of the roads involved in the shopmen's contract grievance was said to be another incentive to kill the strike move at the last minute.

DECLARES VOTE FOR STRIKE WAS HEAVY

UNION OFFICIAL SAYS ONLY CHANGE OF ATTITUDE BY ROADS CAN STOP MEN

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, June 30.—Completion of the railway shopmen's strike vote tonight showed 96 per cent of the ballots in favor of the walkout which union leaders sanctioned yesterday for tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, it was announced tonight by John Scott, secretary of the shop crafts unions.

"Nothing can avert the walkout except a change in the attitude of the railway managers overnight," said Scott.

The 96 per cent vote was the average of the ballots on all three of the questions on which the shop workers voted, Scott said.

He declined to give out any actual figures because the ballots, although marked returnable by today, are not all in. The Pullman shops vote especially, he said, was still coming in, a large consignment of the pink, blue and white slips arriving today.

"There is absolutely no doubt about the result and the men will be out tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock," he said. "The roads have made no overtures which would justify suspension of the strike call. They have taken a defiant attitude and our men are just as defiant."

SITUATION IN MOBILE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MOBILE (Ala.) June 30. — Members of the federated trades employed in the big repair shops here of the Louisville and Nashville; Mobile and Ohio and Southern roads are making preparations for living up to the strike order that becomes effective Saturday morning at ten o'clock. Heads of the crafts in the Whistler shops of the Mobile and Ohio say that every employee in the place will come out.

NO TIEUP OF TRAINS IS LIKELY

Road Officials Say Public Won't Know There is Strike, Except by Papers

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, June 30.—"The trains will continue to run, strike or no strike," railway executives united in declaring tonight after the efforts of the United States Railroad Labor Board to halt a strike of 400,000 shopmen set for tomorrow had met with apparent failure.

Neither the maintenance-of-way employees, who have been taking a strike vote, but who have decided not to walk out tomorrow, nor the shopt craft mechanics, who are scheduled to throw down their tools at 10 o'clock tomorrow, have anything to do with the actual operation of the trains, the railway managers explained.

That work is carried out by the "Big Four" brotherhoods, whose international presidents issued orders yesterday that their members should continue to carry out their usual duties, irrespective of any strike action on the part of other unions. The maintenance-of-way men comprise the track repair gangs and other semiskilled labor. The shop crafts workers, who are more vital to the efficient operation of a road, make repairs on rolling stock.

Railway managers said, however, that their present equipment would be adequate for several months and that emergency repairs might be made in outside shops. They estimated that it would be at least three months before a walkout of shoft craft employees would seriously impair the efficiency of either passenger or freight transportation.

"The traveling public and shippers will not know there is a strike except by reading about it in the newspapers," declared one executive.

STARTS TO HIRE MANY GUARDSMEN

Southern Pacific Here Now Busy Employing Large Crew to Protect Property

Three hundred men to patrol and guard the property of the Southern Pacific Railway in the Los Angeles division during the strike are being sought by the division heads of the system in this city.

As soon as official word was received last night that the strike would go into effect at 10 o'clock this morning, officials of the railroad began to send out agents to hire guards.

No estimate was made in railroad quarters last night as to the number of men here likely to answer the strike call.

RAIL BOARD IS SUPPORTED

maintain its stand behind the board's decision.

Generally speaking officials appeared more concerned over the flouting of the board's authority than they were over the shopmen's walkout.

Officials for several weeks have watched the gathering storm clouds in railroad labor quarters but as it grew more and more apparent that the strike would be held by the shop crafts, with possibly the maintenance-of-way and some other workers joining, but with the train-operating force remaining out of the strike, a feeling of relief has been expressed.

The strike at the outset at least will not stop the operation of trains and that in view of the administrative officials of the government is the important point. Leaders in Congress seem to take the same view and except in one or two instances, there has been no move to intervene.

WOMEN'S FEDERATION WILL AID FILM MEN

RESOLUTION OFFERING CO-OPERATION PASSED AT CONVENTION

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHAUTAUQUA (N. Y.) June 30. The most controversial topic at the biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs was disposed of at the closing session today when a resolution on motion pictures was passed, offering co-operation to the members of the industry.

The resolution approves "the effort now being made by the motion-picture industry to raise the moral and artistic standard and develop the educational value of motion pictures," and "the effort of the industry to stabilize its economic conditions to the end that there may be the fullest freedom for development of creative ability."

The convention indorsed a uniform marriage and divorce movement, recommending a law which "will prevent hasty and ill-considered marriages, preclude interstate confusion and provide a proper justice for all members of the family when divorce becomes necessary."

A national immigration commission to restrict the admission of aliens to this country was indorsed, as was art instruction in the public schools and truth-in-fabric legislation.

Announcement of the re-election of Mrs. Thomas G. Winter of Minneapolis, as president was made today. Others elected included:

rection of the Nelson Pillar, where the Free Staters occupy an opposing position.

The irregulars, in their scattered outposts, are displaying frenzied activity. In Marlborough street they are occupying a number of houses and have made them resemble fortresses by cutting loopholes in the walls.

The insurgents also are in occupation of twelve hotels and a number of public houses, school buildings, business premises, etc. Several of these are in Parnell Square and other vantage points in Central Dublin.

The newspapers appeared this morning, but in abridged form. The street cars are continuing operations outside the danger zone, but because of the many snipers about the city these zones are numerous. The Dublin fire brigade had twenty-one calls yesterday.

MANIFESTO ISSUED

A manifesto to the people of Ireland issued today by the provisional Free State government says:

"For forty-eight hours, the soldiers of your army have unflinchingly borne the brunt of battle against the forces of anarchy in your capital. Some of them have given their lives and many others have been wounded in the defense of your rights as citizens.

"You are faced with a conspiracy whose calculated end is to destroy the treaty signed by your representatives and indorsed by yourselves. Under that treaty the government and control of your own country and its resources have been surrendered back to you after centuries of usurpation. You are asked to reject this surrender and engage in hopeless and unnecessary war with Great Britain.

"The people in the Four Courts say they are fighting for a republic. In reality they are fighting to bring the British back. Remember, we ask no man or woman to yield up any ideal or principle. Liberty will be secured to all under constitutional guarantees, but it will be a constitutional liberty, and no man shall be permitted to do violence to the views of his neighbors or the will of the majority.

"Least of all will profession of ideals or principle be permitted as an excuse for undermining the people's right to security of person, security of property and freedom to live their lives in their own way as long as they do not trespass on the rights of others."

REDS ARE HELPING

A point much stressed in the Irish situation is the increasing activity of the Communists in support of the Republicans. These, according to some reports, are acting under the instigation and guidance of a member of the Industrial Workers of the World from America, who is, rumors say, receiving financial help from Moscow.

A vigorous appeal to the nation for a general rising was issued in Dublin last night over the signatures of Liam Mellowes, Rory O'Connor and other Republican leaders, declaring that "the fateful hour has arrived," and appealing to the citizens to rally to the Republican "in this supreme test of the nation's destiny."

Reviewing the military strength with which the free staters could oppose a Republican rising, the correspondent says the provisional government commands and services of 11,000 regular paid troops, a great majority of whom can be relied upon. In addition it has the nominal allegiance of 20,000 volunteers, but many of these sympathize with the Republicans and still more are likely to be neutral.

ACTIVITY AT CORK

CORK, June 30.—There was intense activity throughout the day by the irregular forces here in expectation of an immediate attack upon their positions. They were busy collecting provisions and motor cars in preparation for a siege.

The irregulars were greatly chagrined when they heard the news of the fall of the Four Courts in Dublin and fearing their own positions would be attacked by Free State troops, began to prepare for their defense. They occupy the second largest military barracks in Ireland and all the police barracks of the county.

At 10 o'clock tonight the irregulars installed armed censors in the newspaper offices here, taking the ground that the papers are being used for Free State propaganda.

"MOP UP" RADICALS

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BELFAST, June 30.—The Free State troops in Donegal have commenced to mop up the irregulars in that district. At Bundoran a body of irregulars ignored an ultimatum of the Free Staters to surrender, not believing the regulars would attack. The Free Staters attacked quickly, however, killing an irregular officer.

The Sinn Fein camp, headquarters for Republicans, opposite Balleek, fell last night, according to reports. The Republicans lost one killed and two wounded. It is stated that Free Staters took Bundoran Station from irregulars today, causing the suspension of railway traffic from Londonderry to Carndonagh. The Republicans resisted an attack on Ballymacool House and commandeered a Unionist residence. In this skirmish they suffered two casualties.

JUDGE SENT TO PRISON

The Ohio Supreme Court has upheld the conviction of William McGannon, former Chief Justice of the Cleveland Municipal Courts, for perjury in connection with his trial for the death of Harold Karg. Though acquitted of a second-degree murder charge, the former jurist was held guilty of perjury and was sentenced to serve from one to ten years in the penitentiary. He was sentenced by a woman—Judge Florence Allen.—[Pathfinder.

REPUBLICANS HAVE SAVED COUNTRY BILLION DOLLARS, MONDELL SAYS IN REVIEW

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, June 30. — Representative Mondell, Wyoming, Republican leader in the House, reviewing the accomplishments of Congress just before the House started a six weeks' recess tonight, declared that the national debt had been reduced by $1,000,000,000 since the Republican party had come into entire control of the government.

"The interest-bearing national debt has been reduced by a billion dollars," Mondell said. "Through economy in appropriation in expenditure we have balanced the national budget and present a surplus, receipts over expenditures, of approximately $300,000,000. In appropriations for the coming fiscal year we have adhered to and improved upon our record of economy to have made a saving over the current year of approximately $215,000,000 in appropriations for the war establishments.

"We have reduced the annual burden of taxation nearly a billion dollars and the burden has been lifted fairly and equitably. We have well under way and nearing completion a general revision of the tariff schedules for the protection of American labor and industry. In the meantime we have provided by an emergency measure for the protection of the staples of agriculture.

"We have legislated wisely and judiciously along many lines. The beneficial results of the work of Congress and the administration are being felt in the revival of industry, the wiping out of unemployment and in a gradual but steadily progressive return to normal conditions. The record is one of which we may well be proud and which will, I am confident, meet with the approval of our constituencies."

REDS MUST FULFILL PACTS, SAY NATIONS

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, June 30.—Replying to the soviet government's recent note proposing the limitation of armaments, says a Central News dispatch from Riga today, the Polish, Finnish and Latvian governments have declared an agreement to reduce arms cannot be made until Russia fulfils her obligations entered into by peace treaties with those countries.

Four Flat Tires Foil Efforts of Bold Kidnapers

Four flat tires on the front wheels of two touring cars foiled an attempt to kidnap E. Neal Ames, the groom at one of Pasadena's most stylish weddings last night. The coup was about to be sprung when the lights in the home of the bride, Miss Esther Brown, daughter of Mrs. Charles Grant Brown, of 685 Marengo avenue, were switched off.

Twelve young men then made a rush for the groom, but he was not there. Then some one shouted that the tires were flat and in the excitement both bride and groom made a getaway.

Out on the road a big touring car was parked and into this both young people were bundled. They will make a night run of it for Santa Barbara and this morning will continue their tour of Central and Northern California being absent for about two weeks.

The wedding was conducted at the First Methodist Church, Rev. Merle Smith officiating, assisted by Rev. C. E. Cornell. About 700 guests attended. After the ceremony there was a reception at the home of the bride's mother with about 250 guests in attendance.

House Adjourns Leaving Senate Still at Work

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 30.—The House of Representatives adjourned tonight at 9:49 o'clock until August 15, thus giving members opportunity to return home to look after their campaigns while the Senate is still at work on the tariff. Democrats opposing adjournment almost solidly, forced a roll call. The vote to quit was 171 to 42 with two voting "present."

"The Democrats, having voted with their fingers crossed, I move that the House be adjourned," said Representative Mondell, the Republican leader. There was a shout and a wild race to taxicabs waiting outside to rush members to outgoing trains.

In opposing adjournment Democrats insisted the House ought to stay in session and act on Henry Ford's offer for lease of Muscle Shoals.

THE CASE OF MORSE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PORTLAND (Me.) June 30.—Charles W. Morse, and Rupert M. Mack, under indictment for conspiracy to defraud the government on Shipping Board contracts were discharged from custody today by U. S. Commissioner Arthur Chapman on the ground of a technicality in the complaint accompanying the warrant on which they were arrested. They were almost immediately re-arrested by Deputy Marshal Gilbert A. Brown.

Every man who lives in a Green House is not a Florist.

A great many people think that young man's clothes are young man's clothes and that's all there is to it.

But there is one group of folks who know the difference—and, thank goodness, that is the young men themselves.

A young man's suit is not a young man's suit because of a label in the collar any more than a bed of pansies would be a bed of forget-me-nots if someone changed the marker.

To our knowledge there are only two young men's lines in the United States that rate the distinction of catering to the young men we are acquainted with.

We sell one of these.

So what does it matter who sells the other?

Yours very truly,

MILLAN PRINCE IN LOVE AGAIN

Follower of Mahomet to Wed Debutante?

Zerdecheno Says He Is; Mother Quiet

Girl Concerned Lives in Chicago

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, June 30.—Prince Zerdecheno, who says he is a son of Ebu Hassan Pasha, ruler of Milian, in Asia Minor, is contemplating marriage again, according to cable dispatches from London. Though he is living at present with a Princess, the Prince operated matrimonially under the Mohammedan law and when he desires to be freed from a wife he merely tells her so and that suffices.

Miss Maxine Stresseureuter, 16-year-old daughter of Frank M. Stresseureuter of Chicago, is the latest debutante to capture the Prince's heart, the cable reports. She is at present in London with her mother and sister, Marjorie.

Miss Stresseureuter says they are going to Paris soon where the Prince is expected also.

On the question of her daughter soon becoming Princess Zerdecheno, Mrs. Stresseureuter was not very communicative, suggesting that an interview be sought with Mr. Stresseureuter in Chicago who, she says, is violently opposed to the engagement of his daughter to the Prince.

DIED BROKEN-HEARTED OVER CHINA'S TROUBLE

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

AMOY, June 30. — Wu Ting-Fang, former Chinese Minister to Washington, Foreign Minister in the South China government and dean of Chinese diplomats, who died at Canton June 23, went to his grave broken-hearted over the bloodshed that swamped the southern administration, and murmuring as his last words, "Five years for nothing," according to advices received today from Canton.

"I am too old and tired. I want to be out of it all," Dr. Wu is quoted as saying to a few of his American friends a short time before his death.

Following the seizure of Canton by Chen Chiung-Ming and Sun Yat-Sen's flight to his loyal navy, Dr. Wu pleaded with Sun not to bombard the city. Sun, however, turned a deaf ear on the advice of his Foreign Minister, and raked the business district with lead, damaging two American buildings during his operations.

Wu Ting-Fang's funeral June 24 is described in the Canton advices as one of the largest ever seen there. It was attended by the consular corps in a body. The American community of Canton, headed by the American Consul, placed a wreath on the bier.

TWO ARE DEAD IN BLAST AT BALBOA

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PANAMA, June 30.—Two persons were killed and several injured today by an explosion in a Balboa boiler shop caused by the blowing up of an acetylene tank.

The dead are a negro employee and Leopold A. Johnson of Portland, Or., employed as a riveter. The machinery of the plant was not damaged.

AMERICANS ARE FREED

tion on the Bielaski incident was confined to the few brief messages sent by Charge Summerlin in Mexico City. There has been no suggestion in any of these advices, it was said, that tended to cast suspicion around the abduction.

STATEMENT MAILED

In reporting the safe arrival of Bielaski in the Mexican capital Wednesday night, Mr. Summerlin's message added the full text of the statement made to him by Bielaski was being forwarded by mail. If Mr. Summerlin had received at that time any communication from the Mexican government indicating that the American had planned his own capture, no hint of such a note was contained in the telegram sent to the State Department.

So far as recent events in Mexico may affect the question of American recognition of the Obregon government, the action today of Representative Connally, Democrat, of Texas, in laying before the House a resolution proposing a joint Congressional inquiry into the instances of bandit depradations against Americans, may be significant of the impression being gained in Washington from these incidents. There was no discussion of the resolution, under the rules, but Mr. Connally pointed out that if the published reports were accurate they tended to cast doubt on the ability of the Obregon government to maintain order, while if they were not true, it was evident that someone was seeking to injure the standing of that government in the United States.

WARD COUNSEL TO GET JURY REPORT

WILL MAKE MOTION TO DISMISS INDICTMENT FOR MURDER

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, June 30.—The minutes of the grand jury, Westchester county, which indicted Walter S. Ward for the murder of Clarence S. Peters on May 16, will be turned over on Monday to counsel for Ward. The next move by Ward's lawyers, in their effort to prevent him from being tried on the murder indictment, will be a motion to dismiss the indictment on the ground that there was not sufficient evidence before the grand jury to justify a charge of murder.

Dist.-Atty. Weeks came from White Plains to Brooklyn today to ask Justice Kelly of the Supreme Court, to grant a stay of the order of Justice Morschauser, made some days ago, directing the District Attorney to deliver a copy of the grand jury minutes to Ward's lawyers. Justice Morschauser made this order when Weeks said he could not be ready to try Ward until October and Ward's lawyers insisted that it was unfair to compel Ward to remain in jail all summer awaiting trial.

Justice Kelly told Weeks that under recent decisions of the Court of Appeals the prosecutor cannot demand a stay pending appeal on an order for the examination of jury minutes.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NOTAS TELEGRAFICAS

Noticias de Washington

WASHINGTON, junio 30.—El resultado de la primaria republicana en Dakota Septentrional ha sido una victoria parcial para la Liga No-Partidarista, que ha nombrado al ex-Gobernador Frazier candidato republicano al Senado; pero no tuvo éxito en su esfuerzo para rehacerse del dominio del gobierno del Estado y revivir el original programa socialista de industrias del mismo Estado.

Las labores del Congreso fueron pasadas en revista por el Diputado Mondell en un discurso en que analizó las leyes votadas, y en el que manifestó que la deuda nacional ha sido reducida en mil millones de dólares desde que el partido republicano se halla en el poder.

El Presidente Harding confirma la noticia de que él considera la huelga con que amenazan las uniones ferrocarrileras, un reto a la Dirección de Trabajos ferrocarrileros, y la de que apoyará con todo su poder a dicha Dirección.

Ponen Libres a los Cautivos

WASHINGTON, junio 30.—En mensajes de hoy al Ministerio de Estado, dirigidos por el Cónsul Shaw, de Tampico, se expresa que han sido puestos en libertad los 85 empleados de la Corona Oil Company, empresa inglesa, incluyendo a los seis americanos que los bandidos detuvieron ayer para exigir rescate. El despacho era muy breve y no venía muy claro, por lo que el Ministerio telegrafió inmediatamente pidiendo explicaciones. El cónsul decía meramente que las 85 personas a que ayer se refirió al dar noticia del nuevo asalto, no habían sido detenidas. No expresaba si los bandidos se habían retirado de la propiedad en el campo de Pecera, ni si se había hecho algún pago.

El Bandido Gorozave en Actividad

VERACRUZ, junio 30.—El bandido Gorozave ha recrudecido ahora sus actividades en las cercanías de Ozuluama a cuarenta millas al sur de Tampico, y ya salen para ese lugar tropas federales a las órdenes de los Grals. Antonio Portas y Panuncio Martínez. Se teme haya un ataque general sobre la ciudad. Dícese además que, en sus nuevas operaciones, alrededor de Ozuluama, Gorozave ha asaltado ranchos y maltratado a los habitantes.

NOTAS LOCALES

Piden un Escrito para Libertar a Stewart

Donald D. Stewart, acusado de peculado y bigamia y detenido aquí por indicación de las autoridades de Boston, compareció ayer ante el tribunal del Juez Superior Reeves, en audiencia relativa a petición de un escrito de habeas corpus. El asunto fué aplazado por el tribunal hasta las 10 a.m. de hoy, para dar lugar a que el Estado se provea contra el preso de una orden de arresto para fugitivos.

El reo, que, hace unos cuantos años, fué predicador y reformador en California, rechaza los cargos de malversación, y alega que fué legal su enlace con la mujer de Boston.

Las Cifras del Crimen en Aumento

Las cifras contenidas en el informe anual del Departamento de Policía, publicado por L. W. Lyons, encargado de la estadística de la policía, revelan que hubo 63,400 más hombres que mujeres arrestados por cargos de felonía y mala conducta, durante el año. Las aprehensiones de hombres llegaron a un total de 67,201, y las de mujeres, a 3801. Estas cifras abarcan el año fiscal que terminó ayer. De los hombres aprehendidos por los cargos dichos, 62,498 fueron convictos, y 5069, absueltos. De las mujeres, 3035 quedaron convictas, y 679 absueltas. Hubo 61,908 sentenciadas por cargos de mala conducta y 4468 absueltos; al paso que 3672 personas fueron convictas de felonías, contra 1310 que fueron absueltas de iguales cargos.

Revive el Caso del Asesinato de Denton

El fantasma del caso de asesinato de Jacob C. Denton, que se creía enterrado para siempre con la sentencia a prisión perpetua en San Quintín de la Sra. Loftie Louise Peete, volvió a aparecer ayer cuando se supo que hay pendientes en los tribunales locales dos juicios, relativos a la negativa de una compañía de seguros de pagar seguros por la muerte del gambusino asesinado, y al pleito de los herederos de su segunda esposa para obtener la fortuna del difunto. Denton estaba asegurado en $15,000 con la Employees' Liability Assurance Company of London, Ltd., a la que se ha interpuesto juicio.

El juicio de los herederos de Dolly Winters Denton, segunda mujer del occiso, por $30,000, valor de los bienes, se verá el 27 de octubre ante el Juez Hewett.

STOWAWAY QUIZZED ON RATHENAU'S DEATH

SELF-ACCLAIMED MONARCHIST FOUND IN SHIPPING BOARD BOAT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, June 30.—Department of Justice agents went aboard the United States Line steamer President Taft at Hoboken today and questioned Max Siebert Petersen, a young Prussian stowaway, who was quoted by passengers as saying he belonged to the Ehrhardt "organization council," members of which have been accused by the Ebert government with the assassination of Walter Rathénau.

Petersen, it was said, declared he "knew all about" the plot to kill the German Foreign Minister, but professed not to have been implicated in the actual murder.

Petersen secreted himself on board the President Taft at Bremen the day before Dr. Rathenau was shot down. Petersen and Hans Niebuhr, another stowaway, were discovered a day out. Radio messages from Berlin asking that a search be made for possible participants in the crime led to the finding of Petersen and Niebuhr. They said they left to avoid consequences.

Passengers also quoted Petersen as telling them it was part of the conspiracy that all who were in any way connected with it should scatter to different countries. It was recalled that his statement fitted in with dispatches from Germany stating that members of the Ehrhardt organization had fled in all directions from Berlin. Petersen told immigration officials that his life would not be spared if he were deported. He made no effort, it was said, to conceal his monarchistic leanings and spoke in derision of the present regime in Germany.

Petersen, who is 28 years old, was well groomed and gave evidences of high breeding and good education. He speaks English fluently and seemed to understand the questions put to him by the Department of Justice men, except, as one of the agents put it, "when he didn't want to understand." He said that during the war he was a marine aviator stationed at Zeebrugge. He told of post-war activities as an instructor in flying in Afghanistan and Persia.

Council Asked to Banish All Rock Crushers

The second battle of property owners near the Arroyo Seco to banish the privately owned rock crushers and excavators there was begun yesterday when a petition was filed at the City Hall by more than 500 residents of the district requesting that the zoning laws be changed so as to prohibit the operations of the rock companies. Specifically, the petitioners ask that the area bounded by Loretta, Leon and River streets and Dayton avenue be placed in zones inside of which rock excavation and crushing work is prohibited. The petitioners declare that if these operation are not stopped the district will be rendered "useless for residences and for business purposes."

The property owners won their first fight against the rock crushers when the extension of the rock-crushing work in the vicinity of Sycamore Grove was recently prohibited by the City Council.

Morphy Ends Long Service With Edison

Alan E. Morphy, secretary of the Southern California Edison Company, and one of the best-known corporation men in the Southwest, tendered his resignation at the meeting of the board of directors yesterday to accept the position of secretary-treasurer of the Pacific Gasoline Company. His resignation was accepted, effective July 7. Clifton Peters, assistant secretary, was advanced to the position of secretary, and Edgar G. Miller and Horace B. Pratt of the executive department were advanced to assistant secretaries.

Mr. Morphy has been with the Edison company for fifteen years, entering its employ as a clerk in the auditor's office.

When the United States went into the World War, Mr. Morphy was among the first to volunteer. Entering an officers' training school, he won his commission as first lieutenant and at the time of the armistice, was retired with a rank of captain.

WORK HASTENED ON TARIFF BILL

Extraordinary Progress is Made in Senate

Agricultural Bloc Wins Corn Victory

Increase Received Over the House Rate

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 30. — Although two-thirds of its session was devoted to cleaning up conference reports so the House might start on its vacation, the Senate made more rapid progress today on the tariff bill than it had in any single one of the sixty odd days the measure has been before it. Thirty-eight amendments to the agricultural and food schedule were disposed of, this including those relating to all cereals, except wheat and rice, consideration of which was deferred.

OUTSTANDING FEATURE

An outstanding feature of the day was the victory of the Republican agricultural tariff bloc in its fight for a duty of 20 cents a bushel on corn, an increase of five cents a bushel over the House rate. The bloc recommended 20 cents to the Finance Committee majority early in the year but the committee stood pat on the House rate. Before the item was reached today, however, the committee reversed itself and recommended the higher rate.

Other rates approved by the Senate included:

Oats, 15 cents a bushel, House rate 10; hulled grain 45 cents per 100 pounds, House rate 32 cents; oat meal, rolled oats, etc., 90 cents per 100 pounds, House rate 60 cents.

Rye 15 cents a bushel, House rate 10 cents; rye flour, 45 cents per bushel, House rate 30 cents.

Barley, 20 cents a bushel, House rate 15 cents.

Buckwheat, 10 cents per 100 pounds, House rate 30 cents.

Macaroni and other alimentary pastes, two cents per 100, House rate ½ cent. Bread, 15 per cent ad valorem, House free.

Biscuits, wafers, etc., 30 per cent ad valorem, House 25 per cent.

Cereal breakfast goods, 25 per cent ad valorem, House 17 per cent.

Bananas, fresh, House rate 20 cents per bunch.

Dried and banana flour, four cents per 100.

Cheese, five cents per 100 but not less than 25 per cent ad valorem; House rate five cents per 100 on that valued up to 30 cents and 25 per cent ad valorem on all other.

CRAB AND LOBSTER

Crab meat and lobster meat, 15 per cent ad valorem, a reduction of 10 per cent in the original rate recommended by the committee and 13 per cent below the House rate.

Fish paste and fish sauce and caviar and other fish roe for food purposes, 30 per cent ad valorem; House rate, 25 per cent.

Bran, shorts and other by products, feeds obtaining in milling wheat and other cereals, 10 per cent ad valorem; House rate, 15 per cent.

Mixed feeds, 15 per cent, ad valorem; House rate, 6 per cent.

Screenings, scalpings, chaff or scourings of wheat, flaxseed or other grains or seeds, unground or ground, 10 per cent, ad valorem; House rates, 75 cents per ton.

Cider, 6 cents gallon; House rate, 10 cents.

FUTILE FIGHT

Senator Walsh (Mass.) Democratic member of the Finance Committee conducted a single-handed and futile fight against the committee rates. No record votes were demanded, and the only extended discussion was on the proposition to raise the House rate on offering the amendment on the item, Chairman McCumber said he did so by direction of a majority of Finance Committee Republicans. Questioned by Senator Pomerene, (Demo. Ohio) he said he thought the Republican agricultural tariff bloc had had "some hand in the matter."

Pointing out that the United States was the world's largest corn producer and shipped this commodity to all parts of the world, Senator Walsh of Massachusetts, a Democratic member of the Finance Committee, declared this to be a "paper duty which illustrates perfectly the attempt made in this bill to deceive and mislead the people of the country.

"I protest against the deceit, fraud and camouflage which is evidenced by an increase over the House duties on cereals," said Senator Walsh.

"This is done simply so candidates for offices can tell the farmers in their States that they are being given protection."

REPORT FAVORS THE ANTILYNCHING BILL

SENATE JUDICIARY COMMITTEE MEMBERS BOW TO WISH OF LODGE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, June 30. — By a vote of 8 to 6, the Senate Judiciary Committee today ordered a favorable report on the Dyer antilynching bill recently passed by the House.

Notwithstanding misgivings of members of the committee as to the constitutionality of the measure, a majority of them voted in favor of it largely out of deference to the wishes of Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Republican leader, who was keenly anxious for action.

Although the bill will now be placed on the Senate calendar, it will be some time before it will be passed. Southern Democrats are prepared to filibuster against it indefinitely as an unwarranted invasion of States' rights.

PRESIDENT PLEASED BY WHITE HOUSE PARTY

GRATIFIED BY RESULTS OF SHIP SUBSIDY DINNER TO FARMERS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, June 30.—President Harding was gratified today at the results of the dinner held at the White House last night to go over with agricultural leaders questions relating to the ship subsidy bill and other matters, it was said today by an authoritative spokesman for the administration.

President Harding, it was said, is not making an appeal in behalf of the ship subsidy, but endeavoring to commend it to the country.

The President is convinced, it was said, that when the country understands the situation there will not be any opposition to the bill, except that petty, narrow opposition, born of old-time prejudice.

Agricultural leaders, while agreeing that the President and Chairman Lasker had made an impressive argument insisted that their views concerning the subsidy bill were unchanged.

Senator Capper, Kansas, leader of the agricultural bloc in the Senate, still in studying the question, but he expressed doubt as to whether the President and Mr. Lasker had made any converts to the cause at last night's dinner.

COUNTRY'S FOREIGN WHITE STOCK FALLS

ITALIAN MOTHER TONGUE GROUP SHOWS LARGE INCREASE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 30.—The number of persons included in the "foreign white stock" of the country's population whose mother tongue was reported as English or Celtic—including Irish, Scotch and Welsh—decreased from 9,920,000 in 1910 to 9,129,000 in 1920, or about 2 per cent, according to census figures of the latter year announced today by the Census Bureau. Those classified under foreign white stock include immigrants and persons born in this country, one or both of whose parents were immigrants.

With the exception of the German linguistic stock, which showed a decrease in the ten-year period from 8,646,000 to 8,164,000 or 5 per cent, all the others showed an increase. Of these the highest increase from 2,135,000 to 3,365,000, or 57 per cent was reported for the Italian mother tongue group, while the Polish increased from 1,884,000 to 2,426,000, or 44 per cent, and the "Yiddish and Hebrew" from 1,664,000 to 2,043,000, or 22 per cent.

BOYISH PRIDE ENDED IN PAINFUL DEATH

YOUTH SEVERELY BURNED PLAYING "STUMP THE LEADER" DIES

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PORT CHESTER (N. Y.) June 30.—"I did it because I didn't want the fellows to think me yellow."

Fourteen-year-old Thomas Murray smiled bravely as he uttered these words just before he died today of ghastly burns. He was speaking to his father, seated beside the hospital cot. Wednesday night the boy was playing "stump the leader." The leader climbed a steel signal tower on the New Haven tracks. Murray followed half way and then stopped.

Stung by the taunt, the boy climbed up to the platform.

"Do this if you can," he called to his fellows, and bent perilously over the edge of the platform. Accidentally he touched a high tension electric wire, and was hurled back onto the platform and his clothes set afire. For two days he lay unconscious in the hospital.

Then a moment of clear thought, his explanation to his father, and the end.

INTERNATIONAL ROMANCE FIRST STARTED ON BEACH AT WAIKIKI

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 30.—An international romance, which budded under the gentle skies of Honolulu, resulted in the marriage here yesterday of Capt. Alvan V. Percival, formerly of the Royal Air Force, and Miss Winnifred Lee Owen of Ventura, Stanford graduate of the class of 1917.

Capt. Percival, son of Dr. John Percival, professor at Cambridge University, was credited with bringing down four German planes in the World War. He returned to his old calling as automobile race driver and was injured in a French race. That was the start of a world tour of rest and recuperation.

Miss Owen, formerly government teacher in university extension work at Ventura, sought Hawaii for rest. There she met Capt. Percival. They returned to the mainland for the ceremony, and will tour the United States before returning to make their home in England.

GIRL WHO SHOT BOY WEEPS AT HEARING

LAD WOUNDED BY SCHOOL CHUM TESTIFIES IN HER FAVOR

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN JOSE, June 30.—Irene Grandstedt, 14-year-old girl of Mountain View, near here, who is charged with having shot Harold Galloway, her 17-year-old playmate during a quarrel April 18, broke down and cried when, during her preliminary examination here today, Kenneth Carlyle, Galloway's chum, testified how the young victim cried, "I've been shot," immediately after the shooting.

Carlyle was the first to reach Galloway after the boy had been shot. While he was on the stand Miss Grandstedt cried for a few minutes on the shoulder of the matron of the court. She soon recovered herself, however. Galloway declared in his testimony, he believed Miss Grandstedt did not intend to shoot him.

Curtis Morgan, another Mountain View youth, who loaned Miss Grandstedt the revolver, said she appeared to be unfamiliar with the weapon's mechanism. Miss Grandstedt is charged with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to do bodily harm.

Pursued by infuriated witnesses to the killing, Bass fled a half block, and when capture seemed certain, he again shot himself twice under the heart.

Mrs. Bass, after receiving her death wound, staggered about ten feet and crumpled down, dying without a word. Bass was hurried to a hospital, but died on the operating table, moaning, "I love her, I love her." The couple have a boy a year old.

PARIS CRITICS OF ART DUPED

Modern Statuette Placed in Sacred Louvre

Paris Paper Holds Gallery Locks Guards

Editor Proves Contention; Gets Arrested

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PARIS, June 30.—The Louvre, its personnel—Ministry of Fine Arts—and all American tourists in Paris, have been unconsciously duped for the last two weeks.

During that time the sacred precincts reserved only for works sanctified by the test of time and opinion have been violated by the presence successively of two works by a living artist, each being a statuette by Joanny Durand of Jules Dupaquit, "mayor and dictator of the commune of Montmartre."

This unprecedented state of affairs is the result of a campaign conducted by a Paris newspaper to show that the national museums of France, and particularly the Louvre, are insufficiently guarded. The editor of this newspaper, to prove his contentions, decided two weeks ago that a physical demonstration was needed, but that it would be better for the purpose surreptitiously to introduce a statue from the hand of a living person than to abduct a work belonging to the museum.

He selected Durand's statuette of the Montmartre mayor, showing him in a frock coat and battered stovepipe hat, which he named "Casse-tout Des Epinettes"—the "strong man of Epinettes," one of the Paris apache districts. With the statue under his overcoat and accompanied by two witnesses, he invaded the Louvre and ran the gauntlet of the guards to the Salle Du Tibre, adjoining the resting place of the sacred Venus De Milo, where he deposited it on a marble pedestal.

After eight days, during which time the presence of the statuette was noted by witnesses, but, unobserved by the personnel of the museum, the editor, accompanied by witnesses, again repaired to the Salle Du Tibre and substituted a duplicate statue of Dupaquit for the first, which he carried away under his coat.

The next day, while visiting the Louvre, he passed a critical moment when a young American woman demanded of a guide information regarding the Durand statuette. The guide, however, after some deliberation, said it had been found in the ruins of Pompeii.

The following day it was decided to bring the game to an end, but in this process the abductors came under the observing eye of some American tourists, who caused their arrest. As the statuette was properly inscribed as the property of the newspaper, and several witnesses to the farce were present, the curator grudgingly released the culprits.

SANTA FE READY FOR STRIKE OF SHOPMEN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN BERNARDINO, June 30.—Every possible preparation is being made here tonight by officials of the Santa Fe Railroad to meet the strike of the shopmen set for tomorrow. Cars are being moved so as to leave an open area around the shop inclosure fences. Extra locomotives are being moved inside of the shop inclosure and guards are being hired to prevent damage to the company's property. Everything is quiet, but a tense situation prevails among the 2000 men employed in the shops here.

It is believed by those in close touch with the situation that from 30 to 40 per cent of the shopmen will refuse to obey the strike call as many are not identified with the unions and a considerable number of those who carry union cards will not go out, not wishing to lose their seniority or chances for a pension.

From moves being made here tonight it is expected that all locomotive repair men remaining in service will be transferred to the round-houses to maintain engine repairs during the time the main shops are shut down. Santa Fe rolling stock is said to be in first-class shape and service can be maintained indefinitely without shop service.

FREIGHT RATES ARE TO BE CUT TODAY

INTERSTATE COMMERCE BODY ORDER WILL GO INTO EFFECT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 30. — Freight rates throughout the United States on practically all commodities will be reduced tomorrow 10 per cent when the carriers of the country put into effect the decision rendered last month by the Interstate Commerce Commission in the general rate case. New schedules incorporating the reduction have been completed in the weeks since the decision was handed down in every territory, according to the commission's reports, though a series of orders abrogating rules and regulations concerning publication of new rates and like details were necessary to prevent delays in some instances.

Agricultural commodities will be the only important traffic which the 10 per cent cut will not affect, rates on these commodities having been reduced last January. One or two other classifications of freight have also been given lower rates by commission orders in recent months and these also are excluded from the new cuts. Railroad statisticians since the decision have worked out the estimate that the general rate decision will cause a decrease of $350,000,000 annually in the nation's freight bill.

FALL IN RIVER FORECAST

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

YUMA (Ariz.) June 30.—Falling stages are forecast at Yuma until about July 12, when the Colorado River should reach the twenty-foot mark, according to a bulletin issued by the Weather Bureau today. The gauge reading tonight is 22.04, with an estimated discharge of 76,000 second-feet.

COMBINE TO CUT EUROPE'S DEBT

of their claims without compensation; he declared that public sentiment in both these countries would not allow it, and he developed this thesis with such force and such authority that discussion was at once halted."

COMMENT OF "TEMPS"

"Without compensation" are the important words in this paragraph. The Temps, commenting on the proceedings of the Belgian Senate, gives this explanation:

"In leaving the hands of the Delacroix committee free the Belgian government did not ignore that the committee might decide for a reduction of the German debt. But it hoped for compensation. In his speech M. Theunis said in effect: 'We should have had to take responsibilities; we should have had to see whether the conditions proposed were such that the sacrifice imposed was greater than the advantage to be realized. We should have had to see if we could not obtain, in counterpoise to an eventual abandonment of our credits, the abandonment of other credits.'

"What other credits? M. Theunis recalled justly that the question was discussed in England last December. 'A reduction of the German debt ought to have, as a corrolative measure, a reduction of the American and British credits.' The Belgian government counted them, on the Delacroix committee recommending a general reduction of the war credits, and that this recommendation would make England, and the United States as well, decide to abandon all or part of their claims on the Allied nations in proportion to the reduction of the German debt."

So there is the situation—Europe putting the question of reducing the German reparations debt up to the United States. Europe has "passed the buck." David Lloyd George has said that Great Britain will not let off France, Belgium and Italy unless the United States lets Great Britain off. But Great Britain wants the German reparations total reduced in the interests of peace and trade. France and Belgium have refused to reduce their claims on Germany unless Great Britain and the United States reduce their claims on France and Belgium.

France's adverse votes in the Delacroix committee and in the reparations commission were due to the fact that she did not believe that the United States was ready to make any reduction of her claims. Belgium's vote was prompted by the fact that she thought that Britain and America might be persuaded by a sign from the continent that under certain conditions there could be a reduction of reparations. And as it stands Great Britain, France, Belgium and Italy are united in bringing pressure to bear on America to reduce her claims to create better conditions in Europe.

GREAT BRITAIN'S POSITION

The position of Great Britain is peculiar. While on the one hand she is in sympathy with this European attempt to induce America to write off several billions of European debt (which virtually means making Germany a present of that sum, since each European nation which benefited by America's action would reduce her claims on Germany to the same extent) Great Britain at the same time is arranging to pay interest on the sums which she borrowed of America to pass on to the Allies.

At one and the same time she is loyally recognizing her indebtedness to America and trying to bring pressure to bear on America to relieve her of that indebtedness. It makes no difference to her American obligation, whether she obtains money from Germany or not. To the other Allies it makes all the difference in the world. Their public men say frankly that if America is to be paid, Germany must supply the money; if America does not insist on payment, then Germany can be let off proportionately. And thus Germany's interests are identical in this matter with those of Great Britain, France, Italy and Belgium. It is Europe against America. On one point all the nations of Europe are united, friends as well as enemies—Uncle Sam is rich, they are poor; therefore, Uncle Sam must let them off, for the good of the world.

LATEST RETURNS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

FARGO (N. D.) June 30.—Belated reports that trickled in today from Wednesday's State-wide primary election in North Dakota seemed to bear out early indications that Lynn J. Frazier, Non-partisan, had captured the Republican Senatorial nomination by a majority of less than 10,000 votes.

While Porter J. McCumber, the State's senior Senator, dropped behind Frazier in returns tabulated today, reports from a number of the scattering precincts favorable to McCumber tonight cut down to less than 2000 the margin that separated them.

Friends of McCumber here, conceding his defeat, admitted that most of the missing precincts undoubtedly would be favorable to Frazier.

Meanwhile Gov. Nestos, Independent, had a lead of 16,000 over R. F. Baker, Non-partisan, in the Republican gubernatorial contest, and Independent headquarters declared tonight there seemed no reason to alter its prediction of a 10,000 plurality for Nestos.

MILITIAMEN NEAR MINES IN COLORADO

State Adjutant Inspects Northern Cold Field and Finds All Quiet

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DENVER, June 30. — With small detachments of National Guard troops and State rangers quartered at Frederick, in the center of the Northern Colorado coal fields, and larger units mobilized and held in readiness in half a dozen different towns, today passed quietly in both the Northern and Southern Colorado coal fields.

The movement of State troops, which were ordered mobilized yesterday following the burning of railroad bridges and the damaging of mines the night before, began early today under orders from Col. Patrick J. Hamrock, Adjutant-General.

A medical detachment, cavalary troop and tank company, all from Denver, are quartered tonight at the Puritan mine, near Frederick, in the northern field.

Following a tour of inspection through the northern field, Col. Hamrock reported all quiet in the district. He will inspect the southern field later, probably tomorrow, it was announced.

WARNING IS ISSUED BY ESPEE OFFICIAL

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 30.—The following statement was issued today to all Southern Pacific shop and car department employees by J. H. Dyer, general manager, Southern Pacific Company.

"Southern Pacific shop and car department employees:

"Reports are to the effect that leaders of your labor organizations may attempt to require or induce you to quit work and go on strike at 10 a.m. Saturday, July 1, the proposed strike being against decisions of the United States Railroad Labor Board, which, as you know, was created by the Transportation Act, 1920, for the express purpose of deciding disputes between the railroads and their employees as to wages and working conditions, the provisions of the decisions against which you may be asked to strike were found to be just and reasonable after full consideration of all the facts having a bearing upon the points at issue, therefore, the proposed strike will be in violation of Federal law and against your government because the labor board is the government under the law.

"You accepted the increased wages and improved working conditions awarded by ther railroad administration and the labor board during the period of high prices caused by the war and should now in all justice contribute your part toward the necessary return to normal conditions.

"Let me assure you that employees who remain loyally at work, if the strike is called, and take new men who come in to help will be fully protected in their work and rights. Those who quit should have the full knowledge that they have nothing to gain and everything to lose because the actions of the labor board will be upheld by public opinion and there are many good men among the ranks of the unemployed, who are ready to take their places. The strikers will lose their jobs, seniority, pension and other privileges and in most instances their families will be forced to suffer with them.

"Let me suggest that you now give very serious consideration as to the action you should take as an individual in event of strike and its probable effect upon the future of yourself and family after which I am of the firm belief that you will decide that it is to your best interests to remain in the service of the company."

BAKERSFIELD SHOP MEN WILL STRIKE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BAKERSFIELD, June 30.—Approximately 400 employees of the Southern Pacific lines and the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad, working in the local shop yards, will leave their jobs tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock in response to the nation-wide strike call of officials of the Federated shop crafts, issued this week, M. T. Palmer, secretary-treasurer of the local federation of shop crafts announced today.

The local walkout will be practically 100 per cent, with the possible exception of a few members of two unnamed crafts, Palmer declared. Six crafts will be affected by the strike.

The crafts involved are the boilermakers, machinists, blacksmiths, electricians, car repairers and shop men. On being requested to take a strike vote by national officials, following official announcement of the cut in the wages of shopmen effective July 1, Bakersfield's shop crafts polled a 90 per cent vote in favor of the walkout, according to Palmer, who is also an official of the machinists' union.

Official confirmation of the strike call sent out from national headquarters at Chicago was received by the local federation last night at 10 o'clock, Palmer said, during a meeting of the various crafts at the Labor Temple.

YOUNG GIRL IS HELD FOR FATHER'S DEATH

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LAKEPORT (Mich.) June 30.—Mary Luedtke, 15 years old, is held by the officers here on the charge of killing her father, George Luedtke, 55 years old, Tuesday afternoon, by slashing him across the right wrist with a butcher knife. He bled to death.

Mary confessed today, the officers say. The Coroner's jury Wednesday returned a verdict of suicide. The father's body was found in the kitchen and it was supposed he had hacked his wrist with the knife which lay near him.

The girl declares that her father came into the house Tuesday afternoon in the absence of her mother and three brothers and tried to attack her. She says she defended herself with the knife. The father, she declared, threw up his right hand as she struck and the blade hit him on the wrist, severing the artery.

War Declared on Evolution by Churchmen

Four hundred delegates to the fourth annual convention of the Christian Fundamentals Association, which has been in session at the Bible Institute during the last week, re-declared war upon evolution and "modernism" in a series of resolutions adopted yesterday.

It was recommended by the delegates that a laymen's movement, with William Jennings Bryan at its head, be started in connection with the association. Its function would be to "oppose modernism and preach the truth once delivered."

Meanwhile the delegates resolved to "wage a relentless warfare" upon textbooks and teachers who "attempt to undermine the Christian faith or pupils" by teaching "pure speculation in the name of science." Evolution was characterized as "a guess"—something that should not be imposed upon "defenseless children."

NEGRO NATIONAL BANK READY FOR BUSINESS

CHICAGO COLORED CITIZENS ARE CAPITALIZED AT $300,000

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, June 30.—The first and only national bank in the United States, if not the world, whose officers and stockholders are negroes, will open for business tomorrow. It is known as the Douglass National Bank, is capitalized at $300,000 and is a member of the Federal reserve system. More than a score of negro lodges and organizations throughout the country have made it their depository. It is located in the heart of the "black belt," where negroes own stores, theaters and thousands of homes.

Labor unions also will open a bank of their own tomorrow, known as the Amalgamated Trust and Savings. It is chartered under the Illinois laws, is a member of the Federal reserve system and has capital of $250,000. Its stockholders are chiefly members of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers. The directors are nearly all members of the Clothing Workers' Union, but the officers are bankers of experience and not affiliated with labor unions.

FAILS TO INDICT

Federal Grand Jury Takes No Action in Mann Act Case

The charge of violating the Mann white slave law, involving Ophemia Sahdala, age 20 years, and Genevieve Sahdala, 18, both natives of San Domingo, and stepbrother and sister, having the same father, was investigated by the Federal grand jury yesterday, but no action was taken.

Sahdala was for some time engaged in the brokerage business in New York City, and it is said agents of the Department of Justice that a month or so ago he sent to San Domingo for his stepsister, forwarding $1000 for her expenses to New York. She later arrived there, and two weeks ago they appeared in this city, living as man and wife, the Federal authorities assert. They were arrested by Detectives Bartley and Allen of the local police on advices from New York.

The only indictments returned were for asserted violations of the Harrison narcotic law, the accused being Julius Hess, Lorenzo Vasalo and Ramon Ferera.

MORMON LEADERS HELD FOR BIGAMY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PHOENIX, June 30.—J. E. Robinson, former president of the California Mission of the Mormon church, embracing California and Arizona, and J. J. Huber, also a member of the Mormon church, were indicted by the special Maricopa county grand jury here today on charges of bigamy.

Contract for building the Phoenix State Armory here was let today; the city gave the State a ninety-nine-year lease on a site at a nominal rental of $4 a year. Stipulations are that the Armory must cost not less than $36,000 and must be completed within one year.

Doane Merrill, former treasurer of the Water Users' Association, was appointed State Superintendent of Banks by Gov. Campbell today.

NO RECONCILIATION, SAYS LOU TELLEGEN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PITTSBURG, June 30. — "Absolutely nothing to it. Things are just as they were," is the way Lou Tellegen answers questions regarding the reported reconciliation between him and his wife, Geraldine Farrar.

"I received a wire from New York early today," Tellegen said, "and answered that there is not truth in the report. I do not know how or why or from what the report started."

INDICT MRS. HIRSCH ON ASSAULT CHARGE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MINEOLA (L. I.) June 30.—Mrs. Hazel Hirsch, 28-year-old wife of wealthy 45-year-old Oscar A. Hirsch, was indicted for assault in the first degree by a grand jury here today. She is charged with having shot her husband in the face in the course of a quarrel on the lawn between their home and the residence of Miss Reine Davies, sister of Marion Davies, motion-pictures actress, at Freeport last Saturday night following a party in Miss Davies's home.

Mrs. Hirsch will surrender tomorrow, Dist.-Atty. Weeks said tonight.

The same grand jury returned an indictment charging murder in the first degree against William Creasy, of Covington, Ky., who is alleged to have shot and killed Miss Edith Lavoy, formerly his sweetheart. Creasy declares she committed suicide. The trial was set for July 17.

News From South of Tehachapi

BOND PROBLEM IS A PUZZLER

Pasadena Chamber Wrestles With Factions

Program on Which City Can Unite is Sought

Tournament of Roses Hangs in the Balance

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PASADENA, June 30.—Pasadena's proposed park bond issue simply will not be a good boy.

The Chamber of Commerce sweetened up the proposal the other day something like $30,000 to take care of parks on the north, east and south sides of the city, and thought they had the infant nicely tied in his crib, where he could not stir.

But they had no sooner done this than the child began making faces at the nurse, and a special meeting of the chamber's executive committee was held today to wrestle with new developments. What happened remains a mystery, but it was said a statement on the whole matter was being prepared to be issued later.

The chamber, in fact, faces a dilemma. Either a considerable amount of money will be spent in the Arroyo Seco this summer and fall, or Pasadena may not see any football game January 1 or a Tournament of Roses, because there will not be enough ways to get to the new $300,000 stadium. The grand stand at Tournament Park cannot be used again. It has had a lot of patching to keep it safe in the last few years, but it has been deteriorating steadily, engineers say, and would hardly stand the strain of another big crowd.

PARKING SPACE

Roads and automobile parking space in the vicinity of the stadium simply have to be built or the big winter shows cannot be held. Then, too, the Arroyo channel must be straightened and several other things have to be done.

If the chamber includes in its proposed bond issue all the parks all sections of the town want. It fears the voters will reject the proposal, as they did the last one. On the other hand, if they do not include them, they will lose a lot of votes, too, because the north, east and south point out that the geographical position of the Arroyo Seco is west of the biggest part of town.

The chamber is said to be divided in opinion as to whether to nail its colors to the Arroyo Seco mast and stand only for what is necessary, or to try to please everybody by including things that are desirable but can be done without. Hence, it is said, today's meeting.

We expect to run the preliminaries of the city and county championship swimming meet, with the finals on July 4th; also 100-yard and 440-yard Southern Pacific championship swims at Coronado Tent City. Main 3917.—[Advertisement.

PIERS ARE TOO SHORT TO FISH ON

Not Room for Anglers or Autos on Those at Venice and Santa Monica

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA MONICA, June 30.—Extension of the Municipal Auditorium Pier at Ocean Park and the municipal pier at Santa Monica, each 1000 feet, is embodied in a plan now being worked out by W. H. Carter, Commissioner of Public Works.

Commissioner Carter said today that the extension of the Ocean Park pier is necessary because of the lack of parking space for automobiles on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays. Under his plan the pier would be extended 1000 feet to sea, with numerous "Ts" on either side to accommodate automobiles. The extension of the municipal pier at Santa Monica is desired largely by fishing enthusiasts. On days when the fish are running it is virtually impossible to secure a place on either side from which to cast a line. Under Mr. Carter's plan this pier would also be extended 1000 feet to sea, with possibly a 400-foot "L" on either side at the end.

He said that by this improvement the Santa Monica sewage problem would be solved, as all waste would be dumped into the sea at the extreme end of the pier. This 1000-foot addition would remove all possibility of the beach waters being polluted.

The cost of the improvements would be covered by a bond issue. No estimate of the cost was given.

There will be a wealth of entertainment on land and water for "Over the 4th" guests at Hotel del Coronado. Make reservations at 511 Spring st. Norcross, agent. Phone Main 3917. — [Advertisement.

TINY INFANT THRIVING

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

POMONA, June 30.—George David Mitchenson, four-weeks-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Mitchenson of Seventh and Gibbs streets, is breaking all previous records at the Pomona Valley Hospital. George David was one of twin boys. His twin weighed four pounds at birth, but lived only a few hours. George tipped the scales at one pound eight ounces, the smallest baby to be born at the hospital, according to hospital authorities.

Today he weighed two pounds. Every twenty-four hours he consumes six ounces of milk. Interesting statistics on the physical dimension of this remarkable baby are: Chest at birth, 7½ inches, now 8 inches; head at birth, 9 5-8 inches, now 10 inches; thigh at birth, 2¼ inches, now 3 inches; ankle at birth, 1 3-4 inches, now 2 inches; wrist at birth, 1 5-8 inches, now 1 5-8 inches.

With the program practically completed for the big Southern California Knights of Pythias picnic to be held here on the Fourth of July, final arrangements are now being made to insure that the affair will be the greatest outing ever held by Southern California Pythians. It is expected all previous gatherings will be surpassed both in attendance and in program features.

Prosperity of Crown City is Clearly Shown

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PASADENA, June 30.—Pasadena's increase in prosperity over last year is shown by figures for building permits and for bank clearings during June, both of which surpass the figures for June, 1921, by a large margin.

Building permits for the month totaled $900,092, an increase of $347,774 over June, 1921 figures, which were $552,318, and constituted a record for the month in Pasadena's history. There were 308 permits last month, compared with 275 a year ago.

Bank clearings totaled $17,184,-580.25, an increase of nearly $4,000,000 over June, 1921, which was $13,610,383.74. The six months' period shows a gain of more than $16000,000 in clearings.

Newspapers are Auto Accessory Judge Declares

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONG BEACH, June 30.—Newspapers came under a new classification here today when Police Judge Carl V. Hawkins declared them to be an automobile accessory of first importance.

Newspapers can play an important part in aiding police in enforcing traffic laws, Judge Hawkins said at the close of a court session during which a long file of motorists passed before him and offered excuses for violating traffic ordinances.

"Ignorance, plus the failure of motorists to read current newspapers telling of traffic regulations and the State laws governing the driving of automobiles, brings more motorists into court than any other cause," Judge Hawkins declared.

VENICE IS NOW MORAL TOWN

By a Staff Correspondent

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

VENICE, June 30.—Bootleg liquor is as scarce in Venice today as a bare chin in an army of Bolsheviki. The gambling joints have hung out "Gone on Vacation" signs and other law violators are scarce.

And all because Trustee John G. Harrah has been appointed chairman of the police committee and given carte blanche by the Board of Trustees to hire private detectives to gather evidence against law violators.

This action was taken last Monday night. On Tuesday morning there was a quiet exodus of "hip-pocket" bootleggers and "tin-horn" gamblers. They haven't returned.

Newspaper at Venice to Have New Managers

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

VENICE, June 30.—Purchase of the Venice Vanguard, an evening newspaper by F. W. Kellogg and Edward A. Dickson, publishers of the Los Angeles Express was announced here today. George Tompkins, the owner, relinquished control immediately and the new owners have taken possession.

The policy of the paper will be one of civic betterment for the city. "Annexation to Los Angeles," the new editors announce, "should only be considered as an absolute necessity, which does not exist today and which cannot exist for several years. Such necessity may become apparent some day if there is no possibility of securing an adequate water supply for Venice, Ocean Park and Santa Monica.

The new owners pledge the paper to support of the opening and widening of Maine street and Trolleyway; the acquisition of the Santa Monica beaches by the city, the building of the yacht harbor, and will seek to bring about more harmonious co-operation between Venice and Santa Monica.

Edward S. Kellogg will be the new business manager of the Vanguard, the name of which will not be changed. Fenner H. Webb will continue as city editor.

Novel Defense is Offered at Robbery Trial

The novel defense that the complaining witnesses were so engrossed in the charms of each other that they did not know what was happening was set up by counsel for W. R. Goulding, on trial in Judge Avery's court yesterday for highway robbery. Goulding is charged with having taken $30 from Joseph L. Griffen.

According to the defense of Goulding, there were a gallon of wine, a quart of whisky, a quart of brandy, a motion-picture actress, and Griffen's daughter-in-law in the rear seat. He accuses Griffen of devoting considerable time to the young actress.

On the stand yesterday Griffen admitted that the party had had something to drink, but denied that anyone was intoxicated. He stated that he employed Goulding to drive his car in, but that he did not consider himself too drunk to do it.

New Undersea Craft Due Soon at Local Base

Twenty-two submarines are berthed at the Los Angeles Harbor Submarine Base today. The underwater craft range from the now obsolete H and L-type boats to the huge S-31 and 32.

The force of the Pacific Coast's biggest submarine base was augmented yesterday morning with the arrival of the eight R-type boats from Division Nine at San Francisco. The S-1 left Thursday for the Philippines and on July 5 her sister ships, the S-21 and S-23 will sail for New London, Ct. Twelve obsolete submarines will depart for Norfolk on July 15 to be scrapped.

Their crews will remain at Los Angeles Harbor to man nine submarines which have just been completed by the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation at Fore River, Mass., due here shortly.

Didn't Know Hubby Wasn't Coming Back

Charles W. Glass, promoter of a company to construct mausoleums in the Southern States, deserted his wife under rather joyful conditions, Judge Hahn was told yesterday. When he announced he was going to Louisiana on business his wife gave him a farewell dinner to which she invited their friends.

"I had no idea he was not coming back," she testified in court, where she was represented by Attorney Martin Forrest. Mr. Glass wrote his wife a letter which was an exhibit in the divorce case.

"I have received fourteen letters all saying the same thing. Why not write your letters and hold them until about the tenth or fifteenth of the month and mail them under one stamp? I will get them just as soon, and you will save enough on postage to write some one else. I am not going home."

WHEN TO GO HOME

Mr. Meek and his wife had just settled themselves in their seats at the movie when three large, buxom women took seats in front of them, cutting off their view of the screen. "If you had the soul of a worm," declared Mrs. Meek angrily to her spouse, "you'd do something." "Hush, my dear," replied Mr. Meek. "There's one thing anyway—when everybody gets up, we'll know it's time to go home."—[American Legion Weekly.

A FRIEND IN NEED A FRIEND INDEED

Writes Mrs. Hardee Regarding Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Los Angeles, Calif.—"I must tell you that I am a true friend to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have taken it off and on for twenty years and it has helped me change from a delicate girl to a stout, healthy woman. When I was married I was sick all the time until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was in bed much of my time with pains and had to have the doctor every month. One day I found a little book in my yard in Guthrie, Oklahoma, and I read it through and got the medicine—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and took eight bottles and used the Sanative Wash. I at once began to get stronger. I have got many women to take it just by telling them what it has done for me. I have a young sister whom it has helped in the same way it helped me. I want you to know that I am a 'friend indeed,' for you were a 'friend in need.'"—Mrs. GEORGE HARDEE, 1068 Byram St., Los Angeles, California.

BUSINESS NEWS OF BUSY MARTS

Branch Banking is a Live Wire Subject

English Cotton Expert Likes California Product

June Bank Clearings Very Close to Record

Has the extension of branch banks in Los Angeles reached the saturation point? State Superintendent of Banks Jonathan S. Dodge, who has been granting branch charters with a liberal hand during the past year, and the more progressive element in the financial district, maintain that it has not. On the other hand, bankers of the old school are saying that Los Angeles banks already have too many branches and that any further expansion means courting the grim financial spectre of excessive overhead. These differences of opinion are making branch banking the liveliest subject in financial circles today.

This discussion was stirred up again this week when it was learned that Comptroller of the Currency Crissinger had decided to permit national banks to operate branch agencies within the city in which they are located. The entry of the national banks into the field complicates a situation already made cloudy by the orgy of branch extension which the State banks are now carrying on in this city.

Adherents of the branch banking system justify their views on the grounds of changed conditions within the city and on the particular magnitude and complexity which attends the financing of California's many crops. Growth of the city, heaviness of downtown traffic, and the springing up of many neighborhood business communities have made it imperative, they say, for banks to have depositaries in outlying districts in order to preserve their business. Justification for the State-wide chains of banks which are being formed is found, it is said, in the fact that California is raising large crops of perishable commodities twelve months of the year. Money is needed in one section at one time of the year and elsewhere at another period. A great banking institution with branches in all sections is able to keep its funds constantly turning over and directed to the section which needs them most at any given time.

Old line bankers, however, prefer the time-proven system of having large independent downtown banks with smaller banks in the outlying districts acting as correspondents, but at the same time preserving their separate entities. They point out that perhaps the chief evil of the new system is the danger of overexpansion.

When one bank is scattering branches throughout the city, the other banks are obliged to follow suit in order to protect their own business. One banker complains that the location of a branch bank nowadays requires as much strategy and knowledge of the territory as spudding in an oil well. Branches are installed in different localities often purely to off-set other branches in the same section, according to this observer. Oftentimes, he says, the opening of a branch is not motivated by prospects of new deposits but purely for self-protection. Carried out to its logical extreme, this system might eventually put a good many banks in the position where it would cost them more to operate their branches than the branches would bring in net profits.

Superintendent Dodge, whose duty it is to pass on all branch applications, said on his return this week from the East that he recognizes this danger of too many branches but does not think that the time has come yet to restrain any branch bank expansion in Los Angeles. Eventually, when he considers the saturation point as having been reached, the State Banking Department will call a halt on further expansion.

A COTTON OPINION

A distinguished visitor in Los Angeles cotton circles during the week has been Sir James P. Reynolds, head of the famous Liverpool firm of Reynolds & Gibson, which has been a leading factor in the British cotton industry since 1801 and is said to be the oldest going concern of its kind in the world. Sir James was here on his way from the Orient to England, completing a trip around the world.

Three things impressed Sir James particularly during his visit to the cotton fields of the Pacific Southwest; first, the absence of the boll weevil and other injurious insects; second, the very large amount of available irrigable land and third, the high tonnage of yield per acre. Before leaving for the East he said that he had real grounds for believing that the Southwest might become, within a reasonably short time, the heaviest producing part of the cotton belt.

The firm of Reynolds & Gibson has for many years handled a considerable amount of Pima long staple cotton through their local correspondents, Edward M. Fowler & Company and were the first to introduce this kind of cotton in the Lancashire spinning district. At present, however, according to Sir James, a certain type of lower grade Egyptian cotton known as Tocar fiak has invaded the Pima field to the latter's detriment, mainly due to a slump in the demand for high class goods, in which Pimo cotton is chiefly used.

Because of this situation Pima cotton has been thrown into competition with high-class Egyptian Sakellarides cotton for the making of high count yarns. Sir James considers Pima inferior to Sakellarides because of the careless picking and ginning in this country. However, should this feature be overcome, he believes that Pima cotton would in all respects be equal to, if not superior, to Sakellarides.

Sir James showed a keen interest in the varieties of cotton grown in the different sections of the State, remarking that the best Pima cotton that he has seen was that grown near Bakersfield in the San Joaquin Valley, and that the best white cotton came from the planting of Acala seed. He was not at all pleased with the Durango variety, stating that it lacked body and strength and was not suitable generally for the Lancashire trade. The best land for cotton production, according to this English expert, is that with a light, sandy soil.

CLEARINGS RECORD

June bank clearings in Los Angeles reached the highest level ever set during a single month with the sole exception of May, 1922. Total bank exchanges were $488,827,978.04, an increase of nearly 19 per cent over June, 1921, and a decrease of only 1 per cent from the peak.

The fact that the June clearings were able to keep almost on a par with the May totals is particularly encouraging in that it shows that Los Angeles business is expanding at a steady and consistent rate. May was perhaps the most phenomenal month local financial circles have ever known. During that period, retail sales showed a 34 per cent increase over 1921 and bank clearings a 26 per cent increase.

However, the weight of these comparative percentages is somewhat lessened by the fact that while May, 1922, was an exceptionally strong business month, May, 1921, was considerably below normal. There was a slight recovery in June, 1921, as is shown by an 8 per cent increase in bank clearings over May of the same year. It is chiefly because of the unusual conditions which existed last year that the comparative figures for this June are not as large as those of May, 1922, although in reality the volume of local business turnover kept at practically the same high level during both months.

LOWER BANK RATE

Reduction of the rediscount rate of the New York Federal Reserve Bank to 4 per cent and likelihood of changes in other reserve districts is of sweeping importance. It means:

(1.) That the credit situation is exceedingly sound.
(2.) That open market money rates will work lower.
(3.) Reduced cost of borrowing by the government.
(4.) It invites business interests to borrow necessary funds.
(5.) Reduced cost of manufacture, etc.
(6.) Indirectly it should further cut unemployment.
(7.) It helps to lower cost of living.
(8.) It lessens the burden of those still carrying bank loans
(9.) It tends to restore confidence.
(10.) It bolsters market value of investment securities.
(11.) Indirect promotion of greater buying power.

CALIFORNIA GRAIN

Considerable doubt hangs over the prospects for the Southern California barley crop, according to local grain men. Early in the year, predictions of a bumper crop were rife, but it is gradually appearing now, it is said, that due to the early rains and generally unfavorable weather during the growing season, these optimistic reports are a long ways from being realized. The moisture during the past six weeks, however, is doing a good deal towards counteracting the unfavorable influences of the early part of the season. In any case, say the grain men, it is still too early to predict what the actual size of this year's harvest will be.

The Los Angeles grain market is still operating mostly on a supply and demand basis with receipts from day to day being the chief factor of influence on price fluctuations. Because of this unsettlement, the mills are holding off forward buying until the market shows more signs of a permanent and stable trading basis. Many traders are looking for a turn in this direction during the first part of July.

FRANCHISE TAXES

Corporations subject to the King franchise tax bill have been advised by Scott, Mitchell & Herger, San Francisco tax experts, to protect their rights by filing a protest at the time of payment. These taxes are due next Monday and will be delinquent Aug. 14, 1922. The increase in tax rates on account of the King bill is still being contested by the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe railways and a decision is not anticipated within the statutory time limit for payment of the tax. The suit is set down for a hearing this month.

AGAINST UNMERGER

Resolutions against the dismemberment of the Southern Pacific and Central Pacific systems have been adopted by the Associated Jobbers of Los Angeles on the grounds that the interests of the leading jobbers, shippers and manufacturers of this community would be seriously affected by such action.

DIVIDEND DECLARED

The Owl Drug Company paid its regular semiannual dividend on its 8 per cent preferred stock yesterday. The company's reports for the past six months are of an optimistic nature. Three new stores have been installed during that period, and plans for extensive expansion are being considered.

GOVERNMENT FINANCING

The government is planning to offer a large issue of bonds within the next month or two, according to financial circles here. Secretary Mellon is understood to be working on the plans. Tentative arrangements are for long-term bonds bearing a fair interest rate. The size of the offering is given as about $500,000,000. While it is said many details are practically settled, the rate is still in doubt. The government is anxious to fix an interest rate that will be attractive to all classes of investors. Such government financing is regarded as a further step by Secretary Mellon in refunding outstanding Federal issues that soon will mature. Outstanding Victory notes may enjoy the privilege of conversion. The government has been confining current financing to short-term certificates of indebtedness and notes. Official announcement is looked for by midsummer at least.

DAILY TRADE TALK

Financial Rehabilitation of Mexico; Miller Week Adds Thousands to Edison Stockholders List

Wall Street is satisfied of Mexico's good will and honesty; that is the meaning of the agreement signed by Mr. Adolfo de la Huerta, the Mexican Secretary of Finance, and the group of international bankers headed by Mr. Lamont. Wall Street is satisfied of Mexico's ability to pay and of the efficiency of the present Mexican government and its capability of fulfilling its obligations. The compromise is the most important financial step ever taken by Mexico and the most successful accomplishment ever reached by those in charge of her financial affairs during the last fifty years.

By this agreement Mexico recognizes all its legitimate obligations, discarding debts contracted during Huerta's usurpation including the packing-house loan. The bondholders have agreed to waive all their claims against Mexico until January 1, 1923, when current service on the debt will be resumed. Past due coupons will be surrendered to a trustee by the holders who will receive scrip for the face value with no interest.

The service of this debt will amount to $15,000,000 United States currency per year and Mexico is in a position to effect this payment out of funds received from income specifically created for that purpose without touching its regular resources and without imposing additional burdens on its people or its domestic industry. The export tax on oil as per decree of June 1921, and which has already produced $4,000,000.00 which the government has deposited in the National Bank of Mexico in a special fund for the service of the debt, will produce as a minimum $11,000,000 and the remaining $3,000,000 will be covered by a surcharge on gross railway receipts.

The government of Mexico owns 56 per cent of the stock of the National Railways of Mexico. However, the debentures of the lines were held by outsiders and in accordance with the mortgage contracts the bondholders had a right to take possession of the properties because interest payments had been suspended since 1914. Another victory of Mr. De la Huerta's diplomacy and ability is the fact that the bondholders have waived their right to take the roads; the agreement regarding this partirular point being to the effect that the government will turn over the railways to a board of directors elected by the stockholders among whom the Mexican government has 56 per cent voting power. Finally, as the government will take care of the debt of the railways, interest payments made will be placed by the roads to the government's credit, who will thus become perhaps the largest creditor of the lines.

The return of the roads to private management is a fortunate feature of the agreement. The operation of the national railways by the Mexican government during the revolution, while not so disastrous and not so costly as similar experiences elsewhere, has meant an actual expenditure by the government and was detrimental to the efficiency of the service. A net of lines capable of producing enormous returns to its owners and also considerable revenue to the government although saved from total destruction during the revolution by the strenuous efforts of the men the government put in charge, had been handicapped by the inevitable effects of official administration. The railroads in a country like Mexico are the backbone of the nation and its reorganization and progress was retarded by the lack of an efficient railway system. The return of the roads to private management means that these important sinews of industry will afford their whole assistance to the development of the country.

As the arrangement will benefit not only the bondholders but largely Mexico itself because its financial reputation will be re-established, because the moral victory won by Mr. De la Huerta will strengthen the position of the present government and last but not least because of the industrial and commercial revival that the return of the roads and the re-establishment of credit will mean, every one interested in the welfare of Mexico and in the cordial relations of the United States and its southern neighbor may centainly have in the recent agreement a cause for rejoicing and will certainly feel appreciation and admiration for the men who have been instrumental in briging the two nations together again.

EDISON COMPANY GROWTH

Eleven thousand seven hundred twelve new individual stockholders subscribed for Edison common stock during John B. Miller week, which commenced June 13 and ended June 19, according to the complete returns which were tabulated and checked yesterday. The Edison company now has 46,106 stockholders, nearly all of whom reside in Los Angeles and the ten counties of Central and Southern California which are electrically served by the company. These stockholdings aggregate a par value of $61,100,900. This gives the Southern California Edison Company the largest number of stockholders of any electric utility in the world. The nearest approach to it is the Commonwealth Edison Company of Chicago, which, according to the last reports, has 24,000 or approximately one-half the number of persons who are now holders of local Edison stock.

CONFIDENCE GROWS

Dun's today will say: "The half year just ended brought a distinct advance in business with most of the gain in confidence and actual transactions achieved during the second quarter. Unsettled labor conditions in some industries have long been a detriment, curtailing operations and enhancing costs of production and the threatened railroad strike increased uncertainty this week. Despite various drawbacks, however, recovery from previous recessions has been substantial, if highly irregular and many interests will be more active this summer than was anticipated. Interruptions from inventories and vacations will be experienced, as usual, but there is clearly more work to be done this year and shut downs will be less general and extended.

"A new and rather unexpected phase has arisen with the more frequent reports of labor scarcity in certain lines, the steel industry among them and competitive bidding for workers is heard of in isolated instances."

DULL DAY IN STOCKS BUT PRICES FIRM

Sterling Exchange Shows New Strength; Rails Firm; Marks at New Low Level

BY ALEXANDER DANA NOYES
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, June 30.—General recovery in the stock market, but with the amount of business reduced to barely one-half the recent average, a distinctly stronger tendency to bond market prices, and a rise in exchange rates on every important point except Berlin, marked somewhat more definite tendencies today than have recently prevailed. Perhaps the most interesting single movements of the day were the rise of sterling exchange, to a rate nearly 5 cents above last Monday's low level of reaction, the fall in the German mark to a new low record price of 26½ one-hundredths of a cent and the further advance of the Fourth Liberty 4 1-4s to $100.36, considerably the highest price yet reached by this typical war loan.

Sterling's recovery has this time followed so closely the action of that market after each of the recent reactions from a high objective point was reached, that interest is likely to be excited in the question whether the often predicted continuous decline on approach of autumn may not fail to materialize. It is probably too early as yet to say. The movement of the mark is not at all mysterious; foreign indemnities, balance of trade and currency inflation have alike explained it in advance. The bidding for the long-term Liberty bonds is a consequence, not so much of purchases for mid-year reinvestment as of replacement of capital dislodged by recent retirement of short-term Victory loans.

Today's advances on the stock exchange were irregular in scope and distribution. Mostly they seemed to indicate merely repurchases by recent professional sellers. The recovery was hardly a matter of current news; for, although the railway shares were strong, the industrials led the market. Mexican Petroleum closed lower. At one time it touched a price 20¼ points below last Monday's highest.

WHAT'S BEHIND ACTIVE STOCKS

Kennecott Copper 33 1-8
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, June 30.—The recent past of the Kennecott Copper Corporation like that of the industry in general is not inspiring. In the coppers more than in any other group of stocks the market is looking into the future. Kennecott, incorporated in 1915, controls the Mother Lode Coalition Mines Company, Braden Copper and the Alaskan Steamship Company and has a large interest in Utah Copper.

The Kennecott properties produced 64,000,000 pounds of copper in 1921, while the mines of many other large companies were idle and in the first three months of 1922 production was at the rate of 86,000,000 pounds annually. The Kennecott properties and investments are carried at $107,430,000. The 2,788,218 shares of stock outstanding are preceded by a funded debt of $15,000,000.

On Dec. 31, 1921, the net assets applicable to common stock were $42.41 a share. Net current assets exceeded current liabilities by $32,-$14,000. Net earnings for the six and seven-twelfths years of operation since incorporation averaged $6,200,-000, or $2.26 a share on the stock, after an average of $4,850,000 was deducted from earnings annually for depletion.

Range of stock since 1915, high, 64 1-4 in 1916; low, 14 5-8 in 1920; yesterday's close, 33¾.

Enormous Land Holdings Secure These Bonds

THE $8,000,000 Sutter Basin Company Land Mortgage 6% Gold Bonds, due 1937, are fundamentally sound because they are secured by good agricultural and horticultural land whose value is large and stable.

The 54,208 acres of land are located in Sutter County, California. The soil is rich, sedimentary silt. Most of the property is in Reclamation District No. 1500, and under an extensive gravity system, protected alike from drought and overflow.

Practically this entire acreage is now under cultivation, the crops consisting of wheat, barley, rice, beans, grain, vegetables, fruits, cotton, sugar beets, etc.

These bonds are secured by a closed first mortgage on these properties.

The entire stock of the Sutter Basin Improvement Company, which owns over 7000 acres of land adjacent to District No. 1500, is also deposited as further security.

The safety of this investment is further strengthened by the unconditional guarantee of prompt payment of principal, interest and sinking fund of this issue by J. Ogden Armour, and this guarantee is incorporated in the bonds.

The bonds are obtainable in denominations of $1000, $500 and $100; are priced at 97 and interest, to yield over 6.30%.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, June 30. — Dullness incident to the approaching holiday was the feature of today's aimless stock market. In the turnover of barely 500,000 shares, many of the usual leaders were quoted occasionally and some were utterly neglected.

Rails were the strongest issues. Accumulation of some of the more seasoned shares of that group evidently indicated Wall street's growing conviction that means would be found to break the deadlock between employees and railroad executives.

Oils resumed their uncertain course, but pressure against that division was less insistent. Mexican Petroleum reacted, however, after an early show of firmness, its extreme decline of 4 points being reduced to 1 1-4 points at the end.

Aside from the strength of Baldwin, Crucible and Studebaker, at final advances of 1 to 2½ points, most other gains of the day were limited to obscure industrials and specialties. Chief among the latter were Coca Cola at a gain of 3 1-8 and in American Ship and Commerce, which was sustained by the declaration of an "extra" dividend on Crump Ship shares.

United States Steel moved within fractional limits the greater part of the day, but was in demand later with several of the independent steels. Brooklyn Rapid Transit's additional rise of 1¾ points, accompanied reports showing further marked recovery in the company's financial position.

Call money's gradual rise from the opening and renewal rate of 4½ to 5 per cent, just before the close, was traceable to further withdrawal of funds to meet tomorrow's interest and dividend payments. Time loans running into the year's last quarter were reported at 4 1-4 per cent, shorter dates being offered at 4 per cent on high-grade security.

Excepting the German rate which made yet another decline to the new low of .026½, and another slump in Greek bills, the entire range of European exchanges was substantially better. Recovery in sterling amounted to almost 2 cents, aided remittances gained 5 to 7 points, and Dutch, Swiss, Spanish and Scandinavian quotations rose 5 to 10 points with slight improvement in Austrian, Polish and Czecho-Slovakian rates.

MRS. ARBUCKLE LEAVES AGAIN

Goes for Indefinite Stay in New York

Report of an Estrangement is Denied

Departure Has Been Kept Deep Secret

Mrs. Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle, after several years of comparative estrangement from her husband, hurried across the continent to rejoin him when he was arrested and charged with responsibility for Virginia Rappe's tragic death, has again departed from Hamilton's roof.

Mrs. Arbuckle will live indefinitely in New York with her sister, Marie Durfee.

Mr. Arbuckle remains at the palatial mansion on West Adams street which, at the height of his career, was his own home. At present he is only a guest in the house. At the time of his two trials in San Francisco he rented the house to Joseph Schenck, husband of Norma Talmadge. Lou Anger, Mr. Arbuckle's former manager, has rented the house and the corpulent former motion-picture comedian is residing with him.

TRIP KEPT SECRET

For two weeks, since Miss Durfee's departure for New York, her contemplated trip has been kept secret, but was verified yesterday. Miss Durfee could not be found and Times representatives in New York last night, nor could Mr. Arbuckle be reached. But persons closely associated with him branded the report of a separation because of clashing temperaments as emphatically as "bunk."

"Bunk," exclaimed Lou Anger, when Mr. Arbuckle's manager

THOUSANDS SEE GIANT ENGINES

"Prosperity Special" Reaches Los Angeles

Leviathans of Rails Brought by Southern Pacific

Will be Used to Haul Trains Over Mountains

Cheered by thousands lining the tracks in Southern California towns as it made its way into Los Angeles, the Southern Pacific Prosperity Special of twenty new Leviathans of the rails reached the city last night and was parked in the Figueroa-street switch at Exposition Park. It will remain for the inspection of the public today and tomorrow, after which the giant locomotives will be distributed over the weastern end of the Southern Pacific system for mountain climbing with heavy loads.

At 10:30 a.m. today at Exposition Park a formal welcome to the train will be extended. The city, the Chamber of Commerce, railroad officials and the public will take part in the ceremony, a part of which will include christening the powerful engines with California grape juice.

LACY WILL PRESIDE

William Lacy, second vice-president of the chamber will preside. The city will be represented by acting president of the Council, O. P. Conaway and T. H. Williams, assistant general manager of the Southern Pacific, will officiate for the railroad.

The train was informally welcomed yesterday at Ontario by representatives of the railway, the chamber, cameraman and newspaper writers. It is being brought to Los Angeles by W. J. McCarroll, assistant to the vice-president of the Baldwin Locomotive Works of Philadelphia, which is filling the order of the Southern Pacific for fifty of the largest locomotives ever made. The trip across the continent started May 26, and was made without accident or having to break the train. From two to seven locomotives were used to draw the twenty "dead" engines. Superintendent W. H. Whalen of the Southern Pacific met the train at Colton and brought it in.

HEAVIEST EVER OPERATED

The train is the heaviest ever operated. Each of the engines weighs 634,000 pounds, and is more than 100 feet in length. Each cost $80,000, making a total value of $1,600,000 for the train. Thirty more are being made ready for delivery, the entire order amounting to $4,000,000.

The public is invited to view the huge locomotives today and tomorrow. An inspector is in charge of each engine and visitors will be permitted to make a close examination. The Prosperity Special is proclaimed by the Chamber of Commerce to be of interest to every resident of the Southland, as it indicates that the largest and most modern engines are needed in quantity in this section to move the rapidly growing production.

GETS CONGRATULATIONS

Numerous telegrams of congratulations were received yesterday by William Sproul, president of the Southern Pacific. Among these

ASK WRIT TO FREE STEWART

Attorneys Begin Fight to Liberate ex-Minister Accused of Bigamy

Donald D. Stewart, charged with embezzlement and bigamy and held here for the Boston authorities, yesterday began his fight for liberty when he appeared in Superior Judge Reeve's court for a hearing on a petition for a writ of habeas corpus. The matter was put over by the court until 10 a.m. today to allow the State to get a fugitive warrant against the prisoner.

Stewart, known as the "man of many loves," was taken into custody ten days ago with Mrs. Ethel Turner Osbaldeston, the fourth woman he married. The complaint was lodged against him in Boston by Norma Ehrensaller, his fifth wife. It charged that he married her without obtaining divorces from his former wives. She also charged that he swindled her out of a sum of money.

The prisoner, who was a preacher and reformer in California a few years ago, denies the charges of embezzlement and contends that his marriage to the Boston woman was legal.

CANFIELD, JR., FOUND GUILTY

Disturbed Hollywood Peace, is Court Verdict

Boisterous Party Annoyed Neighbors, They Said

Widely Known Gambler's Son Makes No Defense

Richard Canfield, Jr., heir to $1,000,000, and son of one of the nation's widest-known gamblers, was found guilty late yesterday afternoon in Police Court of having disturbed the peace and serenity of Hollywood.

Judge Chambers, who made his decision after hearing the testimony of seven witnesses whose slumber was disturbed by a party held in Canfield's home, 6874 Fountain avenue, on the nights of June 3 and 4, will sentence the young man this morning.

The witnesses told of hearing loud and boisterous laughter, screams, profanity, the music of ukuleles, a Victola and a piano, of watching a man making love to a dog, of seeing a man "cavorting around" in blue silk pajamas and bathroom slippers and an overcoat, and of seeing and hearing various other things.

TELLS OF ARREST

"Mr. Canfield told me," he testified, "that many movie stars were at his house frequently."

Mrs. Elizabeth Gebhart, who lives next door, said she heard women using language she would not repeat.

The screaming, laughing, singing, music, the tamping of ice around champagne bottles and the sounds of autos kept her awake, she said. She could see women "shimmying around," she said, until the curtains were lowered.

GIRL TESTIFIES

Her daughter Myrtle, 16 years of age, said she heard Canfield arguing with one of his guests who insisted on leaving, and who shouted, "I may be drunk, but I know you cheated me." She also saw the man kissing the dog outside the house—"slobbering over him," she said—until Canfield came out and stopped him.

Mrs. Abbie Cooper saw the man in the pajamas and the overcoat get into an auto Sunday morning and come back with a woman. He went away in the car again and returned carrying a bundle. He was admitted by a young woman in a kimono, she declared.

Canfield made no defense. His attorneys asked for a dismissal.

SUNDAY CONCERTS

The Greater Los Angeles City Band has been engaged by the Board of Park Commissioners for concerts at Exposition Park Sunday afternoons, at 3:30 p.m., commencing on July 2, and continuing until September 17. Concerts also will be given at Westlake Park every evening at 7:30 p.m., starting on July 2.

DENTON MURDER RECALLED

Ghost of Noted Case Appears When Heirs File Suit for Insurance and $30,000 Estate

The ghost of the Jacob C. Denton murder case, which was believed to have been terminated with the sentencing of Mrs. Lolie Louise Peete to a life sentence at San Quentin Penitentiary, reappeared yesterday when it was learned that two suits, relative to the refusal of an insurance company to pay insurance on the death of the slain mining promoter and the fight of his second wife's heirs to obtain his fortune, are pending in the local courts.

Denton was insured for $15,000 by the Employees Liability Assurance Company of London, Ltd., which has declined to pay the amount to Judge Avery, administrator of the slain man's estate. An interesting phase of the suit, which will be tried by a jury in Judge Monroe's court on November 14, lies in the question:

Is a murder an accident?

REFUSES PAYMENT

The insurance company, it has been stated, has thus far declined to pay the $15,000 on the grounds that a murder is not an accident. The insurance policy set forth that the money would be payable if the insured died by accident.

Attorney Rush Blodget, representing the estate of Denton, is expected to contend that Denton died as the result of an accident since testimony in the trial of Mrs. Peete indicated he was not the aggressor in the fight which resulted in his murder.

Another objection, said to be given by the insurance company for not paying the $15,000 in question, is the company's contention that the body said to be that of Denton was not satisfactorily identified as Denton, and that notice of his death was not filed until ninety days after he was slain.

To offset the first half of the objection, Attorney Blodget went to Arizona last week to locate witnesses who had knowledge of Denton's fractured arm which he injured while cranking an automobile in Oatman several years ago. The body identified as Denton showed a fractured arm. Mr. Blodget stated he found a score of witnesses who would testify that Denton had fractured his arm.

The body was not found until ninety days after the murder.

The suit of the heirs of Dolly Winters Denton, the slain man's deceased second wife, for the estate, aggregating $30,000, will be tried in Judge Hewett's court next October 27. The suit was filed by the mother of Dolly Winters Denton, now a resident of Arizona.

Judge Avery, administrator of Denton's estate, will contend that the money should be inherited by the slain mining promoter's daughter, born by his first wife.

I.G.B. is up to his old tricks—spotting dentists' signs—again. At Washington street and Western avenue he saw this: "Witty-Snyder, Dentistry." I.G.B. supposes Witty keeps 'em in good humor while Snyder operates. Did you know, I.G.B. that in the Union Bank Building, Dr. Hirtz is competing with Painless Parker? S'fact!

BEACH FOLK MAY SMOKE HEREAFTER

Antitobacco Ordinance to be Softened by Permits in Case of Nicotine Addicts

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONG BEACH, June 30.—To smoke or not to smoke?

This question promises to become one of the most thrilling and sizzling issues that the good people of Long Beach have ever been called upon to settle, following action of the City Council recently in adopting an ordinance that will prevent the use of tobacco in the beach city's new municipal building, soon to be opened to the public.

With Filmore Condit, Vice-Mayor, coming to bat in defense of the Council's action; with a former president of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce attacking the city fathers for putting over "freak legislation," and with a meeting of the Anticigarette League called for Sunday afternoon, the anti-smoking ordinance promises to put in the shade such matters as the proper length of the bathing suits and the right of citizens to pitch horseshoes in the City Park.

In defense of the ordinance Mr. Condit declared today that not more than 15 per cent of the people of Long Beach, male and female, smoke tobacco, and that a careful canvass of all city departments and offices revealed the fact that no one was smoking during business hours.

"We wish to be very fair, however," Mr. Condit said, speaking for the Council. "Therefore if any city employees will file formal affidavits to the effect that they cannot live without tobacco even during working hours, permits might be issued by the City Clerk, giving such employees the privilege of smoking everywhere, both here and hereafter."

WANTS OPEN GATEWAY

Union Pacific Willing to Buy Central at Right Terms, Says President Gray

Other than being desirous of keeping the Ogden gateway open, the Union Pacific has little interest in the recent order of the United States Supreme Court that the Central Pacific be divorced from Southern Pacific ownership and control, was the statement yesterday of Carl Gray, president of the first-named railroad. Mr. Gray asserted that his line would buy the Central Pacific if fair and reasonable terms could be arranged, but that it is not anxious to purchase the road.

"All that the Union Pacific asks is that the Central Pacific be made an independent line and be operated as such," asserted Mr. Gray, "and that it perform its duties as the Union Pacific is performing its duties under the legislation by which both roads were constructed.

"If the Central Pacific is to be merged into any system, under plans being worked out by the Interstate Commerce Commission, it should be merged with the Union Pacific, with which it forms a continuous transcontinental line, competing with all others."

HELPS ESPEE

Mr. Gray pointed out that Southern Pacific ownership of the Central Pacific enables the former railway to send freight over its southern system, getting the long haul and all the revenue, at the same time diverting such freight from the Ogden gateway.

"It is inconceivable," continued Mr. Gray, "that the Interstate Commerce Commission ever would, even if it could, under the decision of the Supreme Court, put it in the power of the Southern Pacific or any other company operating and having a large interest in a rival and competing line, to close this gateway in the face, so to speak, of the shortest and by far the best and most efficient transcontinental transportation line."

COURT'S OPINION

Following is an extract from the recent opinion rendered by United States Supreme Court Justice Day, offered by President Gray in support of his statement:

"Proof is ample that the policy of the Southern Pacific system has been to favor transportation on its line by securing for itself, wherever practicable, the carriage of freight, which would normally move eastward or westward over the shorter line of the Central Pacific Railroad and its connections, for its own much longer and wholly owned southern route. The Southern Pacific owns and controls the southerly route, and receives 100 per cent of the compensation for freight transported by its road and water lines. Over the Central Pacific route it receives but a fraction of the freight

PLAN PATRIOTIC SERVICES

Churches to Observe Nation's Anniversary With Special Sermons and Programs

America's birthday celebration of July Fourth furnishes the inspiration for tomorrow's sermon topics announced today by Los Angeles pastors. Special patriotic services have been arranged at most of the churches and many of them are planning excellent musical programs of a patriotic flavor.

America's position in the world today, the meaning of Americanism, true citizenship and the birth of the republic are some of the themes announced as subjects for sermons.

Patriotic music of a high order will be the dominant feature of the morning service tomorrow at the First Presbyterian Church. The chimes will ring out a number of familiar national airs. Old and new songs will be sung by quartet and congregation. Dr. Hugh K. Walker's sermon on "Immediacy—the Slogan of a New Patriotism" will be a brief analysis of certain dangers of the present situation in the life of the nation and the outlining of certain imminent duties to be discharged by all lovers of the republic. In the evening he will present some new facts about the Holy City, recently brought to light by Gilbert Chesterton.

"OUR PLACE IN THE SUN"
DEAN MacCORMACK

The Rev. Dr. Southam, rector of the Church of the Holy Trinity, Winnipeg, Can., will be the preacher Sunday at 11 a.m., at St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral, temporarily holding its services at the Scottish Rite Auditorium, 926 South Hope street. Dr. Southam is one of the leading preachers of Canada. In the evening special patriotic services will be conducted by Dean William MacCormack. The program at this hour has been arranged to magnify the Fourth of July, the sermon being on the place the United States occupies in the councils of the world. The special topic will be, "Will the United States Maintain Its Present Premier Place in the Sun?"

"THE TEXAS TORNADO"
TEMPLE BAPTIST

Sunday will be Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher's last day in the pulpit before going East on a two months' lecture tour. He has invited Dr. J. Frank Norris, pastor of the "biggest Baptist church in the world," to have a part in the service with him. Dr. Norris is known as the "Texas Tornado" and in many ways is said to be the most sensational preacher in America. He has successfully battled the liquor interests in Texas and is now devoting his time to fighting infidelity in the schools. He will visit Dr. Brougher in the morning and will speak at night. In the evening a big patriotic service is planned. The Hollywood American Legion Band will give a patriotic program. Dr. Brougher will discuss the theme, "The Haunted House," and Dr. Atson, osteopath, will give a short talk on "Why Be Sick."

PATRIOTIC SERVICE
FIRST CONGREGATIONAL

Patriotic services will be conducted tomorrow morning at the First Congregational Church. In the evening the picture, "Cardigan," will be shown. Rev. Holland P. Bare, director of religious education, leaves next week for a month's vacation. Twenty-five delegates, eighteen of whom are young people, will represent this church at the Congregational Young People's Summer Conference at Pomona College next week.

BROADWAY CHRISTIAN
REV. W. S. BUCHANAN

Rev. W. S. Buchanan, pastor of the Broadway Christian Church, has planned a special patriotic address on the theme, "Our Nation—Past, Present, Future," for tomorrow morning. Mrs. Alma K. Moss and the chorus have prepared special patriotic music for both morning and evening. In the evening Chaplain Louis C. Dodsian of Victory Post No. 54, American Legion, will sing a number of selections. The pastor will preach a sermonette on the topic, "True Citizenship."

"QUITTERS OR FIGHTERS"
REV. T. O. GRIEVES

A discussion of national problems will be given by Rev. T. O. Grieves of the Westlake Methodist Episcopal Church tomorrow morning when he preaches on the subject, "The Raging Heathen and the People Who Imagine Vain Things." The sermon will be a presentation of present-day facts relative to the kingdom of God and American issues. In the evening his sermon topic will be "Quitters or Fighters! Who Are Needed?" Special music by the chorus choir under direction of Mr. E. A. Hahn will be rendered. Bible school will be at 9:30.

BIBLE INSTITUTE
SUMMER CONFERENCE

The annual summer Bible conference of the Bible Institute, known as the "B.I.O.L.A." conference, will open at 10:45 Wednesday, July 5, and continue for ten days. Speakers will include Dr. L. W. Munhall, Philadelphia; Dr. W. P. White, director of the conference; Dr. A. B. Winchester, Toronto; Dr. Cortland Myers, Dr. French Oliver, Dr. Frederic W. Farr, Dr. W. C. Sherman, Miss Winifred Bonnell, Mrs. A. L. Dennis and Miss Myrtle Scott. Many of the visitors to the Fundamentals Conference have signified their intention of remaining through the summer conference.

"FLAPPERS"
DR. HERBERT BOOTH SMITH

"It was recently asked whether any regulations had been made by my church with reference to flappers in the choir. A prominent Chicago minister discharged twelve chorus girls from his choir because of 'bobbed hair, knee skirts and rouge.' He contended that nobody ever saw a picture of a bobbed-haired angel. The choir leader insisted that velour instead of appearance counted in choir work." So said Dr. Herbert Booth Smith of Immanuel Presbyterian Church in speaking of his topic for Sunday evening. "My reply was that we needed no such regulations, though we recently had the experience of failing to employ one of the finest voices in this country

Crazy and Crass Views of the Bible

I CHARGE that the slogan "THE OLD BIBLE AND THE WHOLE BIBLE" is silly, slanderous, and wicked. That it debauches and makes a butt of the sacred book. That to call the Bible "The Word of God" is an affront to intelligence and an assassination of Sane and Spiritual Religion. I will make these and other charges good at the Universalist Church (1373 So. Alvarado St.) tomorrow morning.

Go To Church Sunday

"WHY PEOPLE SHOULD GO TO CHURCH"

Men and women have a spiritual nature. Their spiritual faculties should be developed. The greatest need of the present hour is a well developed conscience to distinguish between right and wrong; a thoroughly trained will to choose the right and refuse the wrong, and last of all a clean heart to love the right and hate the wrong. The one organization that has for its special objective the development of the spiritual life is the church. No one can neglect regular attendance upon the service of the church and at the same time gain the soul development that they need. "Let us not forsake the assembling of ourselves together."

vision. Windows of office buildings were filled with humanity as editorial procession glided by. Many a pair of nervous eyes were cast upon the proud enthusiasts below.

LOADED WITH BEAUTY

In each of the twenty automobiles were bathing girls. Some of them were fame as stars in motion pictures. They are appearing in the Swim Easy Bathing Girl Revue now at Grauman's Rialto. They and graced the parade with some stunning creations worn for the occasion that is making them the center of theme who admire youth and beauty.

Cheers frequently greeted parade as it proceeded along line of march, which began at First and Broadway, north on Broadway to First street, thence by Spring street and south to

Led by a section of mounted police, the Hollywood American Legion Band preceded the automobiles and the inspiring music of this organization was applauded along every block.

Sidewalks were packed and crowds pushed forward to catch a glimpse of the spick and span automobiles with their fair occupants, by which they had to pass slowly. The girls smiled over the crowds, and the crowds smiled back.

Immediately after the parade the automobiles were taken to Exposition Park, where a battery of cameras began to click and motion picture cameras were taken. Here also the automobiles and the bathing girls were the center of attraction, though others came to view the wonderful prizes that are to be distributed free among men and women in the greatest prize contest ever conducted by any newspaper in the West.

MANY ENTER RACE

The parade had its second day, many new nominations being received at the campaign office on the second floor of The Times building. The campaign staff is not busy until late at night, answering questions as to just what is to be done to share in the big and breathless prize distribution.

One can entertain no doubt of the tremendous popularity of the Times' campaign. Widespread interest is also being shown in the homes that head the $70,000 list of gifts. One of these is valued at $10,500 and will be erected once in Wilshire Crest. It is a $9000 bungalow, of Spanish type, and also be built in West Hollywood tract.

The automobiles which appeared in yesterday's parade, and which are included in the $70,000 prize list, to be given away September 30, are as follows. $4300 Lincoln Marmon, $2775 Nation, $2600 Stearns-Knight, $2685 Pierce-Arrow, $2495 Lexington Thoroughbred.

"Absolutely bunk," quoth Milton Cohen, attorney for Mr. Arbuckle in his trials at San Francisco.

One phase of the separation report was not denied—that regarding the trip of Miss Durfee to New York to remain indefinitely.

"Roscoe and Minta are on the best of terms," said Mr. Anger in Mr. Schenck's office at the United studios yesterday. "Mrs. Arbuckle simply went East with her sister on a pleasure trip. Do they still love each other? You ought to see the letters they still exchange! They're on happier terms now and understand each other better than ever before. Mr. Schenck purchased Roscoe's house, I am renting it and Roscoe is living with me."

Mr. and Mrs. Arbuckle were separated for several years before. When Mr. Arbuckle was arrested on the manslaughter charge in San Francisco last fall, his wife and his mother-in-law rushed to his assistance and remained with him throughout the three trials. She returned with him to Los Angeles after his acquittal of the charge and remained with him until two weeks ago.

Another intimate friend stated that the "separation"—if it may be called such—was an indefinite though friendly one, that Mrs. Arbuckle has returned East to remain until "Roscoe gets on his feet again." Then she will return, the informant stated.

Back in the ancient history of motion pictures Roscoe Arbuckle and Minta Durfee were married. He was a barker in 1908 for a small vaudeville theater on "The Pike" at Long Beach. He was soon afterward promoted to the position of a singer of illustrated songs. He was given a try-out as "comedian" in a musical comedy with a pony chorus. Minta Durfee was one of the "ponies." Their friendship grew and they were married on the stage following the regular show on Aug. 5, 1908. The theater changed hands and the fat boy and his pretty bride came to Los Angeles, where they obtained employment at the Sennett studios, where both of them appeared in film comedies and where Mr. Arbuckle made his debut on the motion-picture screen.

LOSES DAMAGE SUIT

Jane S. King, aged 60 years, yesterday lost her suit for $7600 against her landlady, Louise Bitenau, before Judge Burnell. Mrs. King testified that she had been injured by tripping on the floor which Mrs. Bitenau had neglected to repair.

WANTS OGDEN GATEWAY OPEN

...because the Union Pacific, with its eastern connections, takes up the carrying from Ogden to the East."

Mr. Gray was here yesterday with H. M. Adams, vice-president of traffic for the Union Pacific, looking over local improvements which are being made by the company to meet the community's great growth in rail and water transportation. They planned leaving today for an auto trip through Zion National Park in Utah.

SEES HEAVY TRAFFIC

H. M. Adams, vice-president of traffic for the Union Pacific, who accompanied Mr. Gray to this city, left with him today for Zion National Park, where he will look into the possibility of establishing a chain of summer camps for sightseers.

The opinion was expressed by Mr. Adams that in the near future there will be heavy travel to the park. He says that travel both to the east and west this year was greatly stimulated by low round-trip rates.

Speaking of business, he declared that traffic from all the territory which feeds the Union Pacific System is showing a marked increase, which he thinks is an indication that business is on the up-grade again.

LEGION TO PUT BONDS ON BALLOT

Aim to Get Signatures of Sixty Thousand Voters in Six Days

Sixty thousand names in six working days is the mark Los Angeles members of the American Legion have set for themselves in a campaign to put the $10,000,000 veteran bond issue on the ballot next fall by initiative.

Twenty-five men, wounded veterans, went on the downtown streets yesterday to gather signatures. Other members of the Legion carried petitions in their pockets, ready to gather the names of their friends and fellow-workers. Members of the Legion auxiliary canvassed their neighbors. Volunteer workers spent the day in factories and shops obtaining signatures. Petitions were placed in retail stores, in police and fire stations and other places where city employees congregate.

EASTERN NORTHERN —PRIVATE SCHOOLS— WESTERN SOUTHERN

In every section of the United States specialists in education have established schools that are entitled to particular distinction in shaping the characters of their students.

Just which school to select is a matter for the careful consideration of the parent or guardian, and we suggest that heads of families and prospective students read our school announcements carefully.

THE LITERARY DIGEST is prepared to make suggestions to parents and the School Advisory Department will be glad to answer letters. The requests must give name and address of parent or guardian; sex and age of child to be placed; approximate price to be expended for board and tuition; locality, and size of school desired.

For years we have suggested early application to the schools. It is difficult to find the ideal school during the last weeks preceding the opening of a new session.

BEING MILKED

Now that the milkman has become a bloated corporation we are being shown how we can get three grades of milk and four of cream from the same cow. Chemistry is a wonderful contrivance.

UP-TO-DATENT

The girls in Japan are bobbing their hair. The daughters of Nippon are achieving the heights of modern civilization at a single bound. The hand that uses the curling iron is the hand that rules the world.

GOING UP

Interurban lines are to be permitted to double their rates on traffic within the limits of the city of Indianapolis. They have only been collecting a nickel on city business, but will hereafter charge a dime. This will boost the high cost of living in the Indiana capital about 100 per cent. Is it worth it?

BEAUTY AND THE BEACH

If the bathing beauties who have been dazzling our eyes of late should venture near enough to the ocean to get damp there would be a heavy loss in millinery circles. Nowadays a swell bathing suit is not expected to stand up under any heavier strain than that furnished by the masculine eye.

PRINCIPLE OR INTEREST

Complaint is made that the orators at The Hague waste themselves on theories. They are discussing government principles which have no place in this particular conference. So far as Uncle Sam is concerned in his relations with Europe he has been unable to collect any interest, let alone the principal. There is no interest to the principles they are now discussing.

LADY LAWMAKERS

Mrs. Hooper of Oshkosh has also been nominated for United States Senator. Some years back this would have been considered farce comedy, but it is the real stuff in these days. Mrs. Hooper happens to be the head of the League of Women Voters in Wisconsin and if she can knock out Bob La Follette and a few others she may yet show up at Washington in a toga. That is a garment much like a nightshirt and knows no sex.

THE REFORMERS

One of the leading cities of Iowa has passed an ordinance forbidding the pitching of horseshoes on Sunday. Day by day man is being more and more hedged about by his fellows. His privileges are being curtailed and his liberties impinged upon. Even polygamy and porch-climbing on the Sabbath are forbidden at Des Moines. It is distressing that in another Iowa city the national pastime of pitching shoes may not even secretly be indulged on the first day of the week.

REDS REFORMING

People who wish to send Christmas presents to Russia will have less trouble hereafter in the doing. We are advised through the postal authorities that some of the restrictions have been removed. The package may weigh as much as twelve pounds and will be received at the point of destination subject only to such penalties as the customs duties affix. The Reds are anxious to make the way clearer for their beloved Americans to mail them their birthday remembrances. Anybody wishing to send Trotzky a razor may now do so with perfect safety.

CALL IN A LAWYER

If the proposed "lawyers' bill" will forbid anyone but a licensed attorney from making out a paper or document that may be filed for record there will be a hearty protest from the insurance and real estate fraternities as well as other lines. At present the bulk of the deeds and mortgages filed are drawn up outside of the legal profession. If a man will have to call in a lawyer to make out the papers every time he mortgages his home he will have to make the mortgage for a larger sum. What we want is a measure to reduce the opportunities for legal entanglement rather than enlarging them.

BRITISH TRAFFIC PERVERSITY

Once again the controversy has arisen in England about the British insistence upon keeping to the left for all road traffic. A mighty faction has arisen to demand a change conforming with other continental countries and the United States. The rights argue that this is the only sensible and reasonable course. The lefts answer that just because all the imported Fords have the left-hand drive is no good reason why the British right-hand drive cars should be penalized.

In the meantime foreign drivers in England and English drivers in foreign countries continue to bungle up the traffic.

However, the system in Italy is even more confusing. There they "Keep to the left" in the cities and "Keep to the right" in the country. There is an anxious psychological moment 'twixt town and country which only the expert Italian chauffeur seems to be able to gauge bloodlessly.

But if Ford can succeed in making the British "keep to the right" it will be a decided feather in his cap. There are evidently enough Fords in England to stir up quite a dust on the subject.

THE "KLUCKERS" LAST CLUCK

The conviction of the Exalted Cyclops, John H. Vitelle, in Bakersfield, and the threatened recall of certain county officials affiliated with the order have been staggering blows to the "Kluckers." According to reports from Kern county, the members of the "Invisible Empire" have meekly sued for peace, offering to ship all their hooded robes, their hoodoo words and their fancy titles back to Atlanta, Ga., if the people out here will let up with the prosecutions.

The probability is that the Los Angeles members of the order are, for the most part, just as sore and just as sorry as their Bakersfield brethren. The whole Ku Klux Klan movement will pass into history as a fool episode.

In the beginning it was without doubt organized for profit, trading on the romantic but traitorous record of the original Ku Klux Klan, which came into being after the Civil War—started by unreconstructed rebels in defiance of the United States government. It is very likely that the organizers of the second Ku Klux Klan took advantage of the fact that a great motion picture—"The Birth of a Nation"—had thrown an aura of chivalry around a secret society that never was anything but vicious and reprehensible and disloyal to the government.

As a lively method of collecting money the Ku Klux was amazingly successful. It proved very easy to find fat plumbers and romantic undertakers willing enough to dig up ten dollars initiation fee for the thrill of imagining themselves dressed up in hooded robes, tearing around the country on galloping horses, chasing mysterious black villains and avenging the slaughter of Mae Marsh. Everybody secretly likes to "play act"—even at ten dollars a head.

Although a few vicious fools rode around in the night, hidden behind masks, torturing people by the light of the inconstant moon, the probabilities are that most of the Ku Kluckers found the proceedings a bore and took little part in the affair, beyond buying a robe and paying the initiation fee and realizing they had been stung on both counts.

Public officials were the special victims of the Ku Klux organizers. They probably knew better; but they were too weak to resist this virtual blackmail. One of the penalties of running for public office is the compulsion of "joining." Just before election an amazing number of new secret and fraternal orders always spring into existence; last long enough to collect the initiation fees and then gracefully give up the ghost—but not the money. The candidates have to join them all; that's part of being a candidate. Just so, the candidates and the officeholders joined the Ku Klux.

They are all sadder and wiser now. It didn't prove, after all, to be very romantic galloping furiously to the rescue in Fords, especially when there were no fascinating young ladies to rescue. Plowing around the middle of the night with a couple of Mexican bootleggers tied to a rope and nobody knowing what to do next with them didn't seem to be such a thrilling affair, after all, and involved mosquito bites and a loss of sleep.

The Ku Klux Klan has passed, leaving certain romantic cavaliers of the sunny South with pockets bulging with initiation fees and with the rest of the world the richer and wiser for knowing the names of a large collection of damphools.

THE GERMAN JUNKERS

All revolutions seem to follow very much the same routine of events.

The deposed monarchical party always plots for a restoration and often succeeds. But the period of the restoration is almost always brief. Either the ruling party falls again by another revolution or the ruler is so shorn of his power that he remains only as a shadow.

In France the democracy was followed by Napoleon; and Napoleon was followed by another Louis; by another Napoleon; and at length by a sane republic. In England Oliver Cromwell was followed by a monarchy that was stripped of royal power and eventually reduced to a name and a figurehead.

This routine of events is embedded in logic. Revolutionists, in the nature of things, are inflamed partisans—zealous—unsuited to the calm, judicial function of popular government. Overthrown rulers are turned into one-sided partisans by the logic of events and they, too, become unsuited to the task of government. So the waves ebb and flow between them until the powers of government sink—or rise—to the control of a middle party directly interested in neither wing, but solely concerned with bringing about the peaceful administration of the country.

It was inevitable that the German Monarchist party should attempt a revolt and a restoration.

To the Junker party of Germany the difference between a military monarchy and a republic is more than a mere form of government. It is the difference between two fundamentally opposite theories of life. To most of the governed in most countries the government is little more than a theory, dimly realized and seldom of direct personal contact. But to the Junkers the military government of Germany was a philosophy of life.

In the present instance it would seem that the attempt of the Junkers to destroy the republic and to restore the monarchy has been a failure. A characteristic of the German military caste is its utter inability to gauge the feelings and impulses of the human heart. Hence, as in the assassination of Dr. Rathenau, they make fatal blunders every time they come in contact with popular opinion.

Whether the Junkers eventually succeed or not depends largely upon the attitude of France and Russia.

It is only acute national danger that keeps alive the military spirit in Germany. The German people are essentially commercial. They consented to become a nation of soldiers because it was clear to every German that war would bring on simultaneous attacks at two or possibly three frontiers; that the only hope of German defense lay in rapid mobilization, and that this rapidity of mobilization could be accomplished only by intensive training.

It was the Russian-French alliance that kept military Germany under arms and on its toes, eager to march, for many years.

To the extent that the external dangers are renewed, to just that extent have the Junkers a chance to snatch back the reins of power and to restore the empire.

They can never hope permanently to restore Junkerdom, Kaiserdom or the status of a military oligarchy; but the pendulum may swing back temporarily to whatever extent that France pushes it over by acts of unwise vengeance.

TITLES IN BRITISH COLONIES

Almost simultaneously Canada, South Africa and Australia protested against the conferring of titles by the King upon their respective citizens. The Canadian Parliament politely intimated that they would prefer that no further titles were conferred upon Canadians. Gen. Smuts in South Africa told the Union House of Assembly that he was in no wise responsible for the peerage which the King had conferred upon a South African banker and deplored the practice. New South Wales, Australia, was reported as declaring a knighthood with which an Australian had been royally complimented was "an insult to white Australia."

These are significant signs of the times. Even in England herself many notable citizens have recently been politely refusing titles. Balfour postponed the acceptance of his for years and is understood to have been finally persuaded because the Commons needed him in the House of Lords "to inculcate a little sense into that body." Gladstone repeatedly refused one to the day of his death.

All the same, the war, which was fought to make the world safe for democracy, also occasioned the creation of many new peers. But there is a good deal of evidence to show that when world affairs calm down somewhat and domestic affairs can get a reasonable innings Kings and Prime Ministers are going to receive considerable discouragement in the matter of titular reward for services rendered. Aristocracy by no means stands where it did—excepting only among American heiresses.

AROUND TOWN. By Gale

RIPPLING RHYMES

LOST LENORE

Beside the sea I saunter and long for Lost Lenore; I want her, oh, I want her, but she comes back no more. Here once we roamed together, when all the world was sane, and talked about the weather, the price of hay and grain. Then maidens were not flapping and they were full of grace; you didn't see them yapping around the market place. They thought of love and marriage, of wreaths upon the brow, of riding in a carriage to church to make a vow. And where is now the maiden who walked the shore with me? She chases voters laden with handbills fierce to see. She's out electioneering, she wants a public snap, while modern dames are cheering and all the flappers flap. She's making dippy speeches, she trots from door to door, and I can find no peaches along the sandy shore. The girls are all so busy! They leave no graft untried. I drive my old tin Lizzie and no one wants a ride. And once the laughing friskers came round me where I sat and poured sand in my whiskers and kicked holes through my hat. But now the girls are flapping or doing kindred chores, and I, an old man, napping, can't find my Lost Lenores.

WALT MASON.

THIS IS THE DAY

The Battle of Gettysburg, one of the great decisive battles of the world, was fought to the final triumph of the Union cause in the year 1863. The fighting lasted for three days and was marked by deeds of heroism and sacrifice on both sides never surpassed in history. With the final retreat of Lee's army the hopes of the South to force a verdict in their favor were eternally extinguished.

To Gen. George G. Meade belongs the credit for the northern victory. With an army of 90,000 Union men he met Gen. Lee's army of 75,000 marching to threatened invasion of the Northern States and the possible capture of Philadelphia and New York.

The two armies met at Gettysburg, Pa., in the forenoon of Wednesday, July 1. The Confederates started the attack on comparatively level ground; reinforcements came steadily to both sides. After six hours fighting the Union forces retreated to Cemetery Hill and the first day's battle ended.

On the night of July 1 almost the whole Confederath army arrived and took position on Seminary Ridge. Gen. Lee was personally in command. The two armies were about a mile apart on either side of a narrow valley. It was here Lee made one of the worst strategic errors in his brilliant career as a master of military tactics. Against the advice of Gen. Longstreet and other veteran southern leaders he decided on a frontal attack, though Meade had the advantage both in position and numbers. The Confederates were successful on the flanks, but the Union center held and saved the second day from being a disaster for the North.

On the morning of the third day the advantage seemed to lie with the Confederates. Lee was determined and confident. If the Confederates could capture Culp's Hill they would be in position to roll up Meade's right and in all probability win the battle. But they could not do so.

At 2 o'clock Lee gave the command for Longstreet's assault. Across the valley marched Pickett's splendid division of 4900 Confederates. Behind him swung forward steadily five brigades of Virginians and Georgians, the flower and chivalry of the young manhood of the South. Grapeshot and canister rained upon them, but forward they pressed, with elastic step, like soldiers on dress parade. Up the hill they charged into a blaze of hell fire and planted the Confederate flag upon the very crest of Cemetery Ridge. They had immortalized themselves in the grandest battle charge in all the annals of war.

But up on Cemetery Ridge were Union heroes no less inspired than the men of Pickett's brigade. The invincibles from Vermont, New York and Ohio closed in on the devoted band. It was the farthest north for the Stars and Bars. The fighting was hand to hand. The Confederates could not hold the hard-won heights. They were flung back down the hill. In a few minutes the casualty list in Pickett's brigade piled up to over 2000. Soon the whole of Longstreet's command was in retreat. Lee had failed in his supreme effort. He had lost the decisive battle of the Civil War.

TWO-MILLION DATE

Seven gentlemen went up to San Franciasquito Canyon the other day in Mr. Baker's six-cylinder machine to inspect the water works and power houses.

While enjoying their luncheon under a big oak tree it was remarked that the water plant was equal to the requirements of a city of 2,000,000 inhabitants. Mr. Knight asked in what year the city would attain that figure and following were the estimates:

Prof. Dozier, in twenty-three years—1945 (professor of mathematics.)

Mr. Baker, in twenty-five years—1947 (merchant.)

Mr. Dutton, in thirty-three years 1955 (Iowa banker.)

Mr. Schweinitz, in thirty-three years—1955 (capitalist.)

Mr. Knight, in forty years—1962 (scientific writer.)

Mr. Briggs, in sixty-three years—1985 (mining engineer.)

Mr. Armstrong, in seventy-nine years—2001 (art collector.)

STRONG PERSUASION

"That was a fine editorial you had on 'Woman As a Power in Politics.'"

"Thanks," said the editor of the Chiggersville Clarion. "A delegation of lady voters called and ordered me to write it on the pain of their instant displeasure. After they'd gone I got to thinking about the way they came in, what they said and the way they went out, and I concluded that maybe they are a power in politics."—[Birmingham Age-Herald.

The Spirit of Seventy and Ten

A man 80 years stole a horse to drive 150 miles to get a job in New York State. He had no money and was hungry when arrested, but was dead set on getting work. Many a man of 40, in the coal fields, for instance, shows no such anxiety.—[Chicago Journal of Commerce.

Too Far Ahead

"Seems to me," said Uncle Eben, "dat we's liable to keep on shortenin' a day's work till we gits quittin' time ahead o' startin' time."—[Washington Star.

The thousands of Angelenos who go into the national forest reserve this summer cannot afford to violate the rules and regulations relating to camp fires. The city, county, State and the nation are doing much for the big woods as a pleasure ground for the people and their efforts should be seconded by those who are interested in the care of the forest.

OUR SUNNY FRIEND

My Saint

I was reading the book of the saints last night,
How they lived and labored and died,
Of the ways they won their robes of white
Ere the paradise gates swung wide.
And I turned from the book to think of one
And the way she answered the call,
And it seemed to me my saint, my own,
Was the saintliest saint of all.

It was little of finespun creeds she knew,
Hair shadings of right and wrong,
But she did what love's voice said to do
With a will and a smile and a song.
When love said pay, she paid the price,
A price that was never small.
They deserved their crowns, good saints, but mine
Was the saintliest saint of all.

They paid the price on the wrack or the fire
Or the cross ere they won free.
She gave the life of her heart's desire
To bring my boy to me.
From the ramparts of paradise,
James and John,
Francis and Lawrence call,
But it seems to me my own good saint
Was the saintliest saint of all.

When Bagdad Laughed

20.—You Can't Get Away with It.

When word came to Ichabod that his brother Ali had been arrested on the charge of murdering Simeon al Ferash he hurried to the caliph's palace and arrived in time for the preliminary hearing.

Things looked pretty black for Ali, all right. A traffic cop had heard him quarreling with the victim at 7 the night before. A half-hour later Simeon's body was found weltering in blood in the street of the Three Moons.

And now, this morning, Miriamne, newly wedded wife of Hosen-al-Nathan, reported to the police that she saw the murder committed by Ali.

Ichabod gave a start at seeing this woman. He recognized her for the Damascus adventuress who had vainly vamped Ali a year, indeed almost to the time Hosen-al-Nathan fell for her charms.

The palace guard testified. Then Miriamne. Her husband had been called to the colors to fight the infidel. She was kissing him goodby at the front door when she saw the two men scuffle.

She had not realized that it was murder at the time and indeed had not even mentioned it to her husband.

"A moment, most noble Haroun," said Ichabod, "may I ask a question or two of the witness?"

"Go as far as you like," said the caliph.

"What sort of kiss was this you gave your husband?"

"The sort any bride would give under the circumstances."

"Did you give him a series of jumpy ones or a long, lingering one of the soul-kiss variety?"

"It was the lingering kind."

"Was it in operation when the men came in sight?"

"It was."

"And it was still in action when the murderer proceeded down the street?"

"It was."

"Oh, commander of the faithful," said Ichabod, "this woman is telling a lie. Had she really been kissing her husband when the crime occurred she would never have seen it."

And so it proved.

For it is a psychological fact, a fact known to savants of even that remote day, that when a woman kisses a man she shuts her eyes.

THREL FALL.

It is claimed by those in a position to speak by the book that the long reign of the rug is approaching its close and that the old-time carpet covering the whole floor of the room and fastened down is coming back again. One of the reasons for the change is the fact that there have been recent increases in the prices of rugs and multitudes of folks of moderate means who could buy them once can do so no longer. A carpet does not have to be "oriental" to be up-to-date and serviceable.

I know him at last,
After years have past,
Hearing her talk,
Exploiting what he has done,

She had talked him dumb,
That was the sum.
Stolen the promise of his youth,
Taken his flair
And stuck it like a jewel
In her hair!

She took his thoughts
Before he could express
Them—wore them like a crown!
She, a pretty little thing,
With a silly, tinkling song to sing,
Who hardly could be less,
Had taken the brilliance of his mind
And nailed it to a desk,
Kept him adding two and two and make four,
Crucified him day by day,
So she might have more and more,
So she might be free

His only thought, to meet her [illegible] demand.
His brain a drying blot,

To break so frail a thing!

Defer Hearing Woman's Story About Woolwine

Contrary to expectations the county grand jury did not meet yesterday to consider a communication to the body from the County Civil Service Commission relating to charges by Miss Ida Wright Jones, formerly an investigator in the District Attorney's office, that Dist.-Atty. Woolwine had been intimate with her for a period of years. Mr. Woolwine's letters in which he states his reason for dismissing Miss Jones were also forwarded to the inquisitorial body. He charged that she had offered to sell information to his political enemies for $10,000. The grand jury, it was stated, will meet upon call of the foreman, R. W. George.

We eat to live and yet how much thought is given to the care and preservation of the food we eat. This is a most important subject, however, for danger from contamination lurks in the average ice box. That is why every housewife should without delay fully acquaint herself with the marvelous economies and advantages of Frigidaire, the iceless refrigerator, which keeps your refrigerator cold by electricity. Have one shown you in operation and fully explained. Messrs. Ebert & Smith, 600 Metropolitan Bldg., are the distributors.

What have you planned for the Fourth — a picnic? Remember, won't you, that the Wilshire Community Kitchen, 323 S. Western avenue, puts up the most truly delicious lunches, full of surprises, too, dainty yet substantial. The cost is small. Just phone 566813 and tell them how many to prepare for.

Cream White Sauce (for Creaming Vegetables)—2 tbsp. flour, 1-2 cup milk, 2 tbsp. butter or substitute, ½ tsp. salt, 3-4 cup water. Melt butter or butter substitute, add flour and stir until thoroughly mixed. Add the milk and cook about five minutes or until the mixture thickens, then add seasonings. This recipe makes one cup of White Sauce.

So many women have the erroneous idea that clothes sent to a laundry are apt to be torn or worn out quickly. This does not happen at the Crown. Their mangles are constructed in such a way that this is impossible. The soap used contains no strong alkali either which would tend to eat into the material washed with it. Clothes come home beautifully washed and ironed, sweet smelling and a joy to wear.

Use waxed paper which comes on the bread—to wipe your iron over. This will prevent sticking.

Any cotton or gingham material you may have had lying around the house can be made into dresses as reasonable as $4, if simple in style, by the originator of "Merry Emma" aprons, balcony California Public Market.

One or two asbestos mats should be kept in every kitchen to place under saucepans on the fire, so as to prevent their contents cooking too fast.

The reason that so many recommend that you buy your beach umbrella and Komfort "one man" umbrella tent from the Progressive Tent and Awning Co., 124 S. Los Angeles, is because their low prices are appealing. See them and decide for yourself.

When making mayonnaise remember to mix the salt, mustard, powdered sugar, and any other of the dry ingredients used with the egg yolk and then pour over it one teaspoonful of boiling water. Mayonnaise made this way will never curdle.

Try making iced chocolate this way: A well-rounded teaspoonful of McDonald's Roof Garden Chocolate in powder form—it's partially sweetened, you know—add a teaspoonful of sugar, enough milk to make a moist paste, then a cupful of boiling water. Fill your glass with ice, pour over it this freshly made chocolate. Top it with a generous amount of whipped cream and you will have a cooling beverage which is rich in nourishment and pleasing withal. McDonald's Roof Garden Chocolate may now be bought from all the better grocers.

Turn the colander upside down over foods that are frying. This will keep the grease from sputtering on the stove, at the same time allowing the steam to pass through the openings.

So much satisfaction is derived by women who use Angelus polishes to clean their white shoes. Father will give a cheer for these excellent polishes when he finds his shoes spotlessly white when he puts them on. There is a dressing for each kind of shoe. Angelus "glossy" calls for white glazed kid. Buck or nu-buck require Angelus Cosmopolitan, while Angelus Artic White is made for canvas. Their White Suede powder in a bag is small enough to carry about conveniently and may be used on canvas successfully. Buy all from better drug, shoe or department stores.

Rice water may be used in meatless tomato soup.

All ice cream doesn't taste alike. If you are a wee bit of an epicure you can detect the difference at once. In Hughes Ice Cream very rich, thick cream is used, combined with pure fruits and their juices. In their French vanilla, quantities of eggs make that deep yellow. You know ice cream when made in the Hughes way is very beneficial. It is full of calories and is a pleasure to eat. It makes an ideal desert being made in varieties of flavor to please everyone. Order today from the dealer who displays a yellow and white sign.

Picture the deliciousness of the baked goods made in the I. D. Bakery, whose home is in the California Public Market, 9th and Spring. So many kinds of rolls to select from which are light as a feather and have a home-made taste which rivals those you make yourself. The white, graham, raisin and health breads are fine in texture and well baked, but their cakes, pies, Susie's doughnuts and Scotch short bread seem to make the greatest appeal, perhaps because most women are extremely fond of sweets. When next downtown do go in and try the I. D. Bakery.

In the selection of sausage, style, workmanship and material must all be carefully considered. For beauty is then well mated with practicality. The work of the Progressive Tent and Awning Co., conforms to these requirements. Not only that, but if you will phone them at Pico 8050 a man will gladly be sent to give prices and estimates, and his suggestions may prove very helpful.

Coffee creams—Take one cupful each of strong coffee and thin cream, one-half cupful of milk, four eggs beaten until well mixed, four tablespoonfuls of sugar and a pinch of salt. Cook in cups set in hot water, baked in a moderate oven. Serve cold. Nice with scones.

A watermelon feast on the beach—is all sorts of fun which "grown-ups" take as keen pleasure in as the youngsters. Why not plan one for tomorrow, say, or one day soon? To be certain of getting a good melon order from Young's. They will be perfectly iced and you can depend upon them being good. Everything bought in any of Young's markets, you see, carries with it a guarantee of satisfaction which women truly appreciate.

To prevent a crust from forming in your tea kettle put in an oyster shell.

Let's see what shall your Saturday's order from Vignolo's include? Something enticing surely. Their store seems filled to overflowing with every thing to tempt the most capricious appetite. "Pin Money" pickles are now handled by Vignolo's, a sale on Colonel's Anti-paste, a most delicious relish, should be taken advantage of. French extracts for making non-alcoholic liquids were highly recommended. Crosse & Blackwell's currant jam make one ravenous and French Morrons will nicely round out a menu. No need to dwell on their delicacy and appeal to the taste. 177 N. Spring is Vignolo's address. Pico 180 and 13811 their phone numbers.

Use a piece of candle instead of a cork in your glue bottle. It will not stick.

Suppose, for instance, that you are desirous of having your home given a thorough cleaning, wouldn't your first thought be of The Acme Cleaners? It would if you knew the kind of work they do. Dependable, efficient and quick. "From Garret to Cellar in one day" is their slogan, the size of the house makes no difference. To be convinced phone Pico 1680.

To Silk Corn—To silk corn easily, use one of the little, fan-shaped, wire brushes that come for cleaning pots and pans; run the brush lightly down each ear of corn, and the wires will catch up all the particles of silk. This greatly facilitates the preparation of corn for canning.

Your house and grounds overrun with ants, did you say? Quickly phone West 1366. It's the number of the Calpro Sales Co. Their system eliminates ants for once and always.

Cottage cheese is a most delectable side dish which you can always depend upon being welcomed by the dainty and fastidious of taste as well as those known as "substantial eaters." When you become lustily hungry on a picnic sandwiches made with L. A. cottage cheese, chopped nuts and dates taste might good, though eaten plain and thinned with cream is always a popular way to serve it. Each day you may buy it fresh in a waxed carton which assures you of a perfectly sanitary dairy product — ideal in summer—ideal in winter and extremely healthful at all times.

Did you know that the Thompson Adjustable Sprinkler Head is without any doubt the only one of its kind which can be regulated so simply? Another point is their accessibility, which is another advantage. Having these Sprinkler Heads installed means just this, that in twenty minutes time a lawn 32x44 feet can be properly watered at a cost of 2.8 cents, of our water rate, an interesting bit of news and one which should give you food for thought. They cost $8.00 a dozen and may be bought at your hardware store or from the Thompson Mfg. Co., Bdwy 3398.

When you see Guasti Pure Grape Syrup an assurance goes with it, an assurance and guarantee that in both the red and white there is no artificial coloring matter nor anything but the purest grape juice, boiled down to a syrup. Summer punches absolutely need Guasti Pure Grape Syrup. Phone Main 816 if your grocer or beverage dealer can't supply you.

Insects which infest your rosebushes, plants and shrubs soon kill them. Don't wait until they have wrought havoc but right now, phone Horace Moll & Co., 64343, for a can of Floral Anti-Pest, a pint of which diluted makes a sufficient quantity to last the summer. When giving your order better include Anti-Pest for ants and moths. You bet it is good, the way those pests scamper will delight your heart for ants in California are one of our biggest bugbears.

The common nutcracker makes a useful little wrench for cans and bottles with screw tops. Even glass stoppers will yield to it.

Have you noticed how easily White King Washing Machine Soap in granule form dissolves in our water which is admittedly hard? Even in cold water you will find it lathers freely into a soft cleansing suds. A small amount is just as efficient as a large quantity, a tablespoonful being sufficient for an ordinary bowl of water. White silk stockings washed with White King Washing Machine Soap in granule form, retain their original new appearance and do not become yellowed. This alone makes such a preparation invaluable during the summer months particularly, never be without a number of boxes at least.

Suppose you are underweight, and all sorts of suggestions are offered which will make you fat as a partridge in no time at all, these suggestions usually call for a month of utter idleness and the taking of all sorts of disagreeable tasting tonics. You don't have to do that, just stay at home and continue your usual social activities and regain your lost weight by drinking L. A. Milk. Of course, it is a simple, shall we call it remedy—give it any name, but order at least an extra quart delivered each day, then watch your whole system respond L. A. Milk, you see, is rich and wholesome. It is bottled fresh each day and you run no danger of getting so called old milk. Suppose you follow this "hennay" advice but give the credit to the L. A. Creamery. They deserve increased patronage because of their efforts to deliver the best milk securable.

A tablespoonful of freshly made coffee added to the apple pie just before baking will give it a most delicious flavor.

Do you scrub your wooden kitchen table or do you put oilcloth on it? Confess now, is either way really satisfactory? The table five minutes after beginning a meal is spotted by grease, which means either another scrubbing or an unsightly table. Oil cloth on the other hand soon peels off and shows stains. Now why not do the sensible thing and buy an "Angelus" white enamel top? They are made in three sizes especially to fit your old table. There is no upkeep; just the original cost and that is not excessive. Made in Los Angeles by the Smoot Holman Co. Their phone number is Bdwy 7934.

A cupful of sifted flour is equal to about three-fourths cupful of unsifted flour.

"Well, at last I have gotten my small bairns so they will drink water not only during their meals but between, and nary a day's illness have they known since beginning the practice, and nary a doctor's bill." This was told by the mother of a large and thriving family who had begun to drink Arrowhead Water in increased quantities as the heat increased, but doubtless the cool weather won't diminish their desire, for Arrowhead is pure mountain water, undistilled, remember, and bottled with utmost care. Phone South 381 and have a trial demijohn delivered today.

So many women, strange as it may be, do not know what to do to prevent their sinks, drains and bowls from getting stopped up. They know though, what big plumbers' bills mean. Now if you will always keep a can of "Pronto" near at hand, you will be assured of freedom from stoppage and never be annoyed in the way just mention. "Pronto" is sold by every dependable grocer. Don't be without a can longer than today, will you?

Cucumber Dressing — 1 large cucumber, ½-teaspoon salt, ½-cup sour cream, 1-4 teaspoon white pepper, 1-4 teaspoon mustard. Slice the cucumber, place in ice water for ten or fifteen minutes, drain and chop fine. Whip the cream, add the dry ingredients blended together, add the chopped cucumber, mix well, chill and serve with fish or vegetable salad.

WOMAN'S KEEN EYE BRINGS MAN TO JAIL

Miss Laura M. Davis of 316 South Van Ness avenue turned detective after she lost a diamond ring valued at $950, and yesterday aided operatives of the Firman Detective Agency and Detectives Lucas and James in arresting John E. Atkinson. Atkinson was accused in a complaint issued by Dep. Dist.-Atty. McClelland with grand larceny of the diamond ring. It is charged that the ring was pawned in Atlanta, Ga., and, learning this, Miss Davis watched constantly for Atkinson. She found him yesterday in a local dance hall.

PRACTICAL RECIPES

Helps for Epicures and All Who Appreciate Good Cooking

By Chef A. D. Wyman, M. C. A.

Chef Wyman will give The Times readers his tested and proved recipes, menus for special occasions and any information pertaining to the preparation and serving of foods they may request. All answers will be printed in this column every Saturday. Address all requests to Chef A. L. Wyman, Laboratory Kitchen, 424 Arden avenue, Glendale.—Ed.

The lady who asks if we think it would be wise to let her son take up cooking instead of studying medicine states that her son would rather help in the kitchen than study his lessons. Cookery and catering require many years of study and work, and to reach perfection one must have a knowledge of medicine, accounting, efficiency, chemistry, mechanics, botany, and, above all, the student of cookery must have a natural talent for blending foodstuffs, so that the combinations will make pleasing and palatable dishes. Cookery is an art, not a trade, and the masters of the art are the world's highest-salaried executives, men who command the respect of all classes. By all means give the boy a chance and if he is a born cook the world will profit by his creations. Travel will help the student to acquire a fund of ideas that will be impossible to secure through reading or working in one city.

EGGS BENEDICT

F. W. M., city, asks for a recipe for eggs Benedict. Split and toast halves of English muffins or pieces of bread cut thick and shaped with a large biscuit cutter. Cover the toast with a round piece of lean broiled ham, cover the ham with a poached egg, cover all with a sauce Hollandaise. To make the sauce Hollandaise divide half a pound of butter in six pieces; place in a double boiler the slightly beaten yolks of four eggs, and stir until smooth, add one piece of butter, and when that is thoroughly incorporated add another piece of butter, until five pieces are used. Stir constantly and do not boil. Remove from the fire and stir in a seasoning of salt and paprika, the juice of half a lemon and a teaspoon of Tarragon vinegar. Add the last piece of butter and stir until melted.

NEW ENGLAND MOLASSES PIE

G. L. C., Long Beach, longs for a piece of old-time New England pie, and asks if we will furnish the recipe. Mix four level tablespoons of flour with one cup of good molasses. Remove the seeds and pips from two lemons and grind them very fine, rind and pulp; add the lemon juice to the molasses and flour. Mix well and bake in a pie tin lined with pastry, cover with a top crust.

LOGANBERRY JAM

T. T. F., Hollywood, wants to know how to make loganberry jelly and jab. For the jam, place in the preserving kettle three-quarters of a pound of sugar to each pound of berries used. Cool slowly until the sugar is dissolved, and then boil fast for thirty minutes. A nice combination is half loganberries and currants with an equal amount of sugar, one pound of fruit to one pound of sugar. Cook same as straight loganberry jam.

LOGANBERRY JELLY

Heat the berries in a double boiler until they are very soft. Place in a jelly bag and strain. To each cup of juice add the juice of half a lemon and three-quarters of a cup of sugar. Cook until it will jell when a little is dropped on a cold plate.

PICKLED FIGS

J. D., Glendale, asks that we furnish her a recipe for spiced or pickled figs and asks what made her currant jelly cloudy. She states that she was told that she should get fifteen glasses of jelly from a basket of currants, and wants to know if that is right; also asks if she should add any water to her currants in cooking them.

The currant jelly was cloudy because she pressed the juice out of the jelly bag. Do not press the currants, let the juice run out slowly and add three-quarters of a cup of sugar to each cup of juice for jelly. To the pulp and juice that remains in the bag add an equal amount of blackberries and to each cup of fruit add one cup of sugar and make into jam. A basket of currants weighs five pounds and it is impossible to get more than six glasses of pure currant jelly from it. Do not add any water to the currants.

For the pickled figs select those that are just getting ripe, using a stone jar. Cover with a brine made with one cup of salt to three cups of water and let stand over night. Leave the stems on. Rinse three times in fresh cold water. Drain the figs well and pack in jars and pour over them hot spiced vinegar and let stand for two days, then draw off the vinegar, reheat and pour again over the figs. Repeat this operation three times. Keep closely covered. These will be ready in two months. For the spiced vinegar place in a cheese cloth bag one teaspoon each of whole cloves, allspice, and mace, a piece of cinnamon an inch long. Place the bag in one quart of vinegar add three pounds of sugar and let boil until the sugar is dissolved.

ICE BOX LUNCHEON

A. J. B., Artesia, requests that we give a menu for a luncheon that can be prepared and left in the ice box until serving time. She also wants a recipe for a large angel food cake. Double the recipe for angel food printed in this column two weeks ago. For the ice box luncheon would suggest that you serve the following: Fruit cocktail, celery, iced olives, chicken and ham loaf, potato salad in forms, currant jelly sauce, macedione of vegetables in lemon jelly, served on shredded lettuce and covered with mayonnaise, ice box cake, iced tea and fruit punch.

ENGLISH MEAT SAUCE

C. M. S., Hemet, asks that we mail her a recipe for an English store sauce that was printed in this column in July of last year. As we have not made a practice of mailing recipes, we will reprint it as it is a good sauce and we know that there are many readers who would like to have it. The recipe was given me by an old English cook when we were in Canada last year. Mix together half a pound of peeled, cored, and sliced apples, half a pound of peeled and chopped tomatoes, half a pound of salt, half, a pound of brown sugar, half a pound of chopped seeded raisins, three ounces of Cayenne pepper, four ounces of ground ginger, two ounces of chopped onion, half an ounce of chopped garlic, three pints of malt vinegar, and two cups of lemon juice. Place all in a stone jar and let stand for one month, stirring two or three times each day. At the end of the month strain the liquor through a jelly bag, let the residue drain well, do not press it. Pour into small, clean bottles and cork tight. This is an excellent sauce for cold meats or game.

CHILI CON CARNE

C. M. H., Monrovia, wants a recipe for chili con carne that will serve four or five. Cover 1 cup of Mexican or red kidney beans with cold water and let soak over night; pour off the water and cover with fresh water and cook until soft. Place in a saucepan 1 tablespoon of lard, 4 tablespoons of ground beef suet, and 1 chopped onion; cook until the onion is clear, then add 1 pound of coarsely ground top round steak and when the steak is lightly browned stir 1 tablespoon of flour, 1 cup of boiling water, 2 tablespoons of chili powder, and the cooked beans; cover and let simmer for ½ hour.

The Daily Fun Hour

BY HONOR WALSH

Sherlock Holmes and Hoop Race

The Rainy Race was described in an earlier article. Odd races of this sort make welcome diversions at picnics and other outdoor gatherings. The Sherlock Holmes Race is good fun and also a fine memory exercise. The leader arranges the racecourse, placing a number of different objects at either side of the course; for instance, a small box, a tumbler, a ball, stones in groups of different number and colors, a cap, a scarf on a tree, etc. The racers start together at a signal, and the winner is the one who gets back to the starting point first with the clearest recollection of all the objects scattered en route.

In the Hoop Race each runner is provided with a large wooden hoop. At the first signal "Go!" all run, rolling their hoops till they hear the command, "Halt! Hoops over!" when each runner is obliged to put the hoop over his head until it falls to his feet before he resumes the race, rolling the hoop as he goes.

At the end of the course the racers start back again without a signal, but at another point on the way home, they hear and obey again the command, "Halt! Hoops over!" when once more they put the hoops over them wherever they happen to be standing, and race again after they recover their hoops. The first one to roll his hoop in to the home plate wins the race. To make the race more difficult the "Hoop over" signal may be given four times instead of twice.

LAZY TIGER TO STAR SATURDAY AT ZOO

Luke, the laziest tiger of 'em all, will return to the Selig Zoo with his buddies Saturday as part of the special four-day entertainment ending on the Fourth of July. A tiger act is to be one of the new features on which the trainers have been working for the past ten days. Hundreds of "Picnics in Jungleland," a type of party which is growing popular this year, are booked for at the zoo during the holidays.

WRIGHT

LOCAL GOLFER IS OUTCLASSED

Defeated 6 Up and 5 to Go by Veteran

Wright Becomes Erratic on Last Few Holes

Wolf Trimmed by Von Elm in Other Match

[BY A. P. DEY WIRE]
HILLCREST COUNTRY CLUB (Kansas City, Mo.) June 30. — "Slick" Evans today shot his way into the finals of the western amateur golf tournament at the Hillcrest Country Club in one of the most wonderful exhibitions of golf ever seen here, and George Von Elm of Salt Lake City will be his opponent in the battle for the cup tomorrow. Von Elm defeated Clarence Wolff of St. Louis in a battle of nerves in their semifinal contest.

Evans completely outclassed Fred Wright of Los Angeles, 6 and 5, while Von Elm's margin was 4 and 3. Part of each contest was played in a driving rainstorm, but the moisture seemed to help Evans and Von Elm. Both matches started as if they would run to the thirty-sixth hole, each victor being 1 down at the ninth and 1 up at the twenty-seventh.

Evans, present western amateur titleholder, six times champion, and former national champion, never faltered in the tight playa. Wright, a nationally known star, failed in the end and despite a great display of nerve when his hands refused to obey his thoughts, blew up.

Von Elm, loser of only one tournament match in thirty, in three years, and holder of the Pacific Northwest and Trans-Mississippi titles, never lost his careless attitude. Wolff, fighting hard throughout, and several times being in the lead, lost control of his game when control meant victory.

Down at the two under par in his thirty-one holes, despite the rain, which at one time made it impossible to see fifty yards ahead.

The real brilliancy of the champion's game did not show in his cards, even though they were under par. It was his deadly accuracy and unerring control of every club in his bag that made Evans's game a play worthy of a place in the golf hall of fame. But for four bad breaks several more strokes would have been cut off his medal cards.

CLOSE MATCH

The Von Elm-Wolff match was anybody's most of the way. Neither man turned in the medal scores which graced their cards in previous rounds, but each played a good game and each made remarkable recoveries from bad shots into the rough and gullies.

When he was one down at the twenty-fifth Von Elm began rising to the super golf that has made him the most talked of player in the tournament. His long drive on the 524-yard twenty-seventh hit a small hillock and bounded over to the rough behind two trees which completely blocked a direct shot to the green. The Salt Lake City player took a brassie and playing an intentional slice from green from twelve high, curved the ball around the trees for a 230-yard flight onto the green. It was the most sensational and beautiful played shot of the tournament. Two shots gave him a birdie four and evened the match, halved the twenty-ninth and took the thirtieth when Wolff's second landed in a ditch.

Wolff began trying too hard at this point, and by continuing his steady playing Von Elm went into the lead, winning the match on the thirty-fourth green when his opponent hooked a mashie drive fifty yards to the side.

A. A. U. Refuses to Sanction Aquatic Meet

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, June 30.—A vigorous protest against the decision of the Pacific branch of the Amateur Athletic Union, declining to sanction the Pacific Coast outdoor swimming championships scheduled at Coronado next summer, has been made to M. O. Pfefferkorn, local representative of the A.A.U., and a communication addressed to him today demands that a hearing be had on all points in dispute.

According to word received here from San Francisco, officials of the latter Association declared brass medals wore given the winners of the events in 1920.

These allegations are denied.

CHANCE AND OVERALL WANT PORTLAND CLUB

"Big Jeff" Overall, formerly famous as a pitcher with the Chicago Cubs under Frank Chance, is on for a short visit with the Times Leader. Overall is now ranching near Visalia. He admits that he and Chance might take a run to the Portland franchise should it be offered at a reasonable price. As yet, however, they have not seen Klepper and do not know at what figure the club is held. Chance and Overall would make a strong and popular combination.

LOCAL GOLFER IS OUTCLASSED

Defeated 6 Up and 5 to Go by Veteran

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE]

HILLCREST COUNTRY CLUB (Kansas City, Mo.) June 30. — "Chick" Evans today shot his way to the finals of the western amateur golf tournament at the Hillcrest Country Club in one of the most wonderful exhibitions of golf ever seen here, and George Von Elm of Salt Lake City will be his opponent in the battle for the cup tomorrow. Von Elm defeated Clarence Wolff of St. Louis in a battle of nerves in their semi-final contest.

Evans completely outclassed Ted Wright of Los Angeles, 6 and 5, while Von Elm's margin was only 1. Part of each contest was played in a driving rainstorm, but the elements seemed to help Evans and Von Elm. Both matches started as if they would run to the thirty-sixth hole, each victor being 1 down at the ninth and 1 up at the twenty-seventh.

Evans, present western amateur champion, six times champion, and former national champion, was battered in the tight plays. Wright, a nationally known star, failed in the end and despite a fine display of nerve when his putter refused to obey his thoughts, lost.

Von Elm, loser of only one tournament match in thirty, in three years and holder of the Pacific Coast and Trans-Mississippi titles never lost his careless attitude. Wolff, fighting hard throughout, and several times behind in the lead, lost control of his driver and control meant victory.

Evans shot two under par in his victorious holes, despite the rain, which at one time made it impossible to see fifty yards ahead.

The real brilliancy of the champion's game did not show in his play even though they were under par. It was his deadly accuracy and unerring control of every club in the bag that made Evans's game truly worthy of a place in the golf hall of fame. But for a few bad breaks several more strokes would have been cut off his medal score.

CLOSE MATCH

The Von Elm-Wolff match was anybody's most of the way. Neither man turned in the medal scores which graced their cards in previous rounds, but each played a good game and each made remarkable recoveries from bad shots in the rough and gullies.

Then he was one down at the thirty-fifth Von Elm began rising to the super gulf that has made him the most talked of player in the tournament. His long drive of the 554-yard twenty-seventh hit a small hillock and kicked over the rough behind two trees which completely blocked Wolff's shot to the green. The Salt Lake City player took a brassie and playing an intentional slice from grass four inches high, sent the ball around the trees for a 250-yard fight onto the green. It was the most sensational and successful played shot of the tournament. Two shots gave him a birdie four and evened the match, halved the thirty-ninth and took the thirty-fourth when Wolff's second landed in a ditch.

Wolff began trying too hard at this point, and by continuing his fine playing Von Elm went into the lead, winning the match on the thirty-fourth green when his opponent hooked a mashie drive 20 yards to the side.

STANFORD DUET IS VICTORIOUS

Neer and Davies Get Revenge on Harvard Team

Defeat Duane and Pfaffman in Semifinals

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

HAVERFORD (Pa.) June 30.—Neer and Davies of Stanford revenged themselves on Jawn Harvard's boys here today for the defeat Jawn's youngsters handed them last year in the finals of the intercollegiate doubles. After playing in streaks for a whole set, and finally losing it after a game fight, the Stanford boys came back and copped the second set at love. It was a remarkable bit of playing. The first set see-sawed with the good and bad streaks of the Coast players, Duane and Pfaffman winning 7-5. In the deciding set the games angled back and forth till 3-all when Davies and Neer broke through for two games. Tey lost Duane's hard service and then dropped Neer's. Meeh to the surprise of all, Harvard's pair drove the cannon ball serve back into the far corners, and left the Cardinal bearers grasping. The latter won Pfaffman's service, and then proceeded to drop Davies. Duane served well and led at 40-15 on his serve, but three well-placed drives and a net routed his chances for pulling the game. Neer served four balls on his next service and Stanford had downed probably the best college net pair in the East.

YALE WINS

O'Connell and Park of Oklahoma had little trouble disposing of Harvard's second-string doubles team, Bradly and Guild, 6-4, 6-2, but in the semifinal round lost to Williams and Wheeler of Yale, thus leaving East to battle against West in the finals of doubles tomorrow. If Neer's leg does not cave in and Davies can steady, they have more than an even chance to bring the title to the Coast. Then, too, Williams will be tired from his singles match played just before the doubles are called.

The sun parboiled everyone today and the players had a tough time drawing a breath. Spectators braved the sun quite well, but many tanned necks were scored for old King Sol. Straw hats still predominate, although rolled sox ran a close second. Finals tomorrow.

BUD SOULES IS WHIPPED BY MARCUS

Four Knockouts Feature Card Staged by American Legion at Hollywood

BY GERALD FIDGE

Bud Soules must have had a lucky talisman concealed on his person as he entered the American Legion Hollywood ring last night for thrice did the bell save him from a possible knockout at the hands of Jimmy Marcus. So many times did it seem that Marcus was about to repeat his performance of last week that the fight fans went wild, some even tossing their hats into the air. Buddy was on his feet at the finish, but he was a beaten boy and the decision to Marcus was well received. Marcus dropped his man in the first round with a hard jolt to the jaw, but Soules was up in a hurry. Marcus continued his attack and had his rival hanging on at the bell. In the second round Marcus cut loose with a heavier volley of blows. He shot Soules through the ropes and under a rain of punches Soules went down for the count of nine. A few seconds later the gong spared him. Jimmy was not to be denied in the third and he uncorked another bombardment that found its mark and Soules hit the canvas. Again it was the bell that foiled Marcus's intentions. Soules showed a flash in the fourth, but the round was all Marcus's.

It was another wild night at the war vets' boxfest with four knockouts on the bill. Sailor Ritter traveled north some 135 miles to finish up Leo Matlock of Oakland in the semi-wind-up. The end came in the first round with a right to the jaw. Leo started to arise, but another punch laid him low.

Announcer Dan Tobey introduced a boxer as (Theodore) Eddie Roberts, in honor of the veteran actor, who was at the ringside and the fighter responded by tearing Wesley Toy loose from his moorings in the first round.

Eddie Sylvester outfought Mickey Dempsey all the way in their affair. Young Velardi had Jimmy Murphy all but out in the second round of the curtain-raiser, and finished the job by shoving him over. The bump received by Murphy sealed his doom.

They All Crave One-Half of the Coast Doubles Title

Stars to Start Glimmering

Fred Alexander, shown above at the left, is hoping to gather more laurels teamed with Manny McLoughlin. Cliff Herd, at the right, will attempt to upset Fred's plans with the help of Tom Bundy, but Willie Johnston below, who will play with Fred Griffin, has an edge on the dope. They play in the opening rounds of the Coast doubles tournament today.

DOUBLES TOURNEY OPENS

North and South Represented in Battle for Coast Net Title; Johnston and Griffin Favored

Not only the glory that goes with the Pacific Coast doubles championship is at stake in the tournament which begins today at the Los Angeles Tennis Club, but the right to participate in the national championships representing the West will spur the court performers to greater efforts. Over twenty high-calibered teams will attempt to win both the distinction and the trip, and tough competition is expected to start with the opening rounds.

Peck Griffin and Willie Johnston, who once held the national title, and the Kinsey brothers, present Coast champs, are generally considered the favorites. Both these duets hail from San Francisco, while Willie Davis and Ray Casey will also attempt to keep the title above the Tehachapi.

Opposed to the cream of brilliant racquet demons in the host bunch of players in the South, Fred Alexander and Manny McLoughlin, both of whom have been national champions and Davis Cup players on several occasions, have combined their forces in an effort to upset the Bay City brigade, and will be aided by a number of other fast combinations.

Tom Bundy, who held the national doubles title with McLoughlin, and Cliff Herd, present Chicago city champ, have teamed up for the tournament, as have those youthful demons, Harold Godshall and Bob Allen. Harvey Snodgrass and Roland Reinke and Tom Ferrandini and Miles Reinke are also scheduled to make things interesting for the northerners.

Others who will be in on the party are Clarence Barker and Nat Browne, Reed and Jones, Ray and Olerick, Ogden and Coffin, McMahon and Fisher and Ford and Adams. First rounds will be played this afternoon, beginning at 2 p.m., and the tournament will wind up with the finals Tuesday, July 4.

Several of the favored teams have drawn byes for today's play, although plenty of excitement is on tap when some of the outsiders get together. Most of the fans will have their eyes on the match between Johnston and Griffin and Bob Allen and Harold Godshall in an effort to get a line on the play of the northerners. The Stiles-Darsie vs. Neary-Lowry muss also is causing much speculation, although the latter team is a heavy favorite.

2 P.M.

Court 1—Johnston and Griffin vs. Allen and Godshall.
Court 2—Bundy and Herd vs. Snodgrass and partner.
Court 3—Wilson Jones and Hodgson vs. Brooks and Jones.
Court 4—Neary and Lowry vs. Stiles and Darsie.
Court 5—Ferrandini and Reinke vs. Ashe and Swift.

4 P.M.

Court 1—Kinsey brothers vs. Berry and Hitchcock.
Court 2—Strathmeyer and Hamilton vs. Coffin and Ogden.
Court 3—Smith and partner vs. Dodsworth and Shelton.
Court 4—Middleton and Fisher vs. Lotzkipper and partner.
Court 5—Godfrey and Wadsworth.

All matches to be two sets, three to win, unless drawing byes get finished in time for 4 p.m. play; second round Sunday afternoon; semi-finals Monday afternoon and finals Tuesday afternoon, July 4.

TINY MAXWELL DIES IN HOSPITAL

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NORRISBURG (Pa.) June 30.—Robert W. (Tiny) Maxwell, former all-American guard, weight thrower, sports writer and one of the best-known football officials in the East, died in a hospital today as a result of injuries received in an automobile crash early Sunday.

Maxwell was sports editor of the Philadelphia Evening Public Ledger.

Although he had seven fractured ribs and a dislocated hip, his condition did not become critical until yesterday, when fever and congestion of the lungs set in.

Maxwell was born in Chicago thirty-eight years ago. He came into prominence in 1902 as a guard on the University of Chicago football team. He was one of the foremost weight throwers in the country.

Cleveland and San Diego to Mix for Title

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, June 30.—The Cleveland West Tech baseball nine, purported high school champions of the East, will arrive here tomorrow over the San Diego and Arizona Railway for a series with the San Diego High School team. The first game will be played Sunday afternoon in the stadium to be followed by a second contest Tuesday. The third game if necessary will be played on Wednesday.

The local team easily vanquished the Clevelanders last year. West Tech, smarting under the only defeats received in several years, challenged again this year and was promptly accommodated by the San Diego boys. The heavy patronage accorded the 1921 games is expected to be repeated this year.

Sailor Burns Claims Wills Hasn't Chance

Sailor Burns, a welterweight, who used to fight in these parts, has returned and with his return he brings with him the statement that Harry Wills will have about as much chance with Jack Dempsey as a snowball in the Sahara. Burns has recently trained with the brown panther of New Orleans and should know whereof he speaks.

"Dempsey will lay Wills away in about three rounds," says Burns.

Sailor Burns fought here in 1914 against Kid Dalton and Steve Dalton and will be remembered by the old-timers. Burns's last appearance in Southern California was in San Diego when he won from Mike Gallindo. In 1919, while in the service.

While here, Burns would like to line up several bouts with the local welters and middleweights.

[BY UNITED AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

WIMBLEDON, June 30.—Suzanne Langlen, the world's woman tennis champion, and Miss Kathleen McKane, one of England's best players, proved that magnet which attracted thousands of persons to the stands at Wimbledon today to witness their play in the championship tournament. Mlle. Langlen won from Miss McKane in two highly interesting sets, 6-1, 7-5.

Randolph Lycett, the sterling Australian player, defeated Baron De Morpurgo, of Italy, in a hard-fought contest, 4-6, 6-2, 6-0, 6-3.

Other interesting matches on the various courts today were the victories of Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, United States, over Mrs. Hubbick, England. Miss Elizabeth Ryan, California, won over Mrs. McNair, England; J. O. Anderson, Australia, over A. H. Fyson, India; A. F. R. Jess Willard Plans to Work Out Privately

Jess Willard, who is last on the trail for another bout with Dempsey, went through a regular workout at the Hollywood boxing pavilion yesterday afternoon. The big fellow was in excellent spirits going two lively rounds each with Fred Zwickey and Tom Kennedy. Despite the fact that Willard is nowhere in prime shape, he was little distressed when he knocked off with his boxing stunts.

According to Gene Doyle, who is looking after Jess's interests, the ex-champion will work privately at the Hollywood arena for the next two weeks, only newspaper men being allowed to give him the once over.

BEES WALLOP WHEEZER DELL

Once More Upset Tigers in Stirring Scramble

Bathing Girl Parade Makes Attendance Poor

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS

Salt Lake Bees, equipped with a large harpoon, heaved same into Vernon Tigers yesterday and then broke same on. Ruthless!

Thus visitors tied series, 2 to 2. In order to even up the matter Manager Lewis sent to the mound one Hollis Thurston, a Los Angeles athlete, who in his bush days was not without baseball honor save in his own home town. Therefore, he went and got himself a job in Utah.

Wheezer Dell, on the other side of the argument, was not in an argumentative mood. Plainly, Wheezer had no quarrel with the visiting batters, who didn't share this spirit of modern Christendom, but insisted on soaking him when hits meant runs. Vernon counted a run in second, with Salt Lake tieing in fourth. Paddy Siglin's triple with two on one inning later put the Bees in front, and they added a couple of front feet later. Thurston was boss of the situation throughout, but was forced to work some in the ninth, when an infield hit by French, a wide throw by Sand and Smith's clean single gave Vernon visions of a great rally, which died out with one run.

BLONDES BEAT BALL

Bathing girls' parade downtown doubtless detracted somewhat from attendance at the ball yard. All experts seem to agree that young ladies wearing abbreviated bathing bloomers are more exciting than baseball, and piping them off the greatest midsummer sport. "Man needs but little here below," remarked the poet, apparently referring to the feminine knee, and doesn't demand much above.

Few more gorgeous spectacles in world than new cars completely equipped with hand-going mermaids in passionate colors. Demand either blonde or brunette with every purchase made on automobile row from now on. Red-headed lady with stream lines will be recherche this year. Also it is predicted that sorrel ladies with long bodies will be on demand on speedways. Brunettes will be built with broader tonneaus. When picking lady demand one which has something more than false hair under hood. Fat ladies will be listed F.O.B. in Detroit. Air-cooled model will be popular at beach this summer. This is the type which never goes in water.

TIGERS SCORE FIRST

Vernon was first to score, getting one in second on hits totalling five bases. H. Hercules Hyatt gathered his daily bases in the form of a triple, scoring on a double by Sawyer. One of most two guys was a simple cut, and other one drove into double play.

LEONARD SET FOR KANSAS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, June 30.—After boxing six rounds with five different sparring partners, Benny Leonard, lightweight champion, left tonight with his handlers for Michigan City, Ind., to finish training for his ten-round championship contest with Rocky Kansas, July 4.

The champion looks to be in excellent condition. He said the match with Jack Britton was just what he needed to get him into shape for his contest with Kansas and the match with Lew Tendler, the Philadelphia lightweight, to be staged in Jersey City late next month.

The Fourth of July match is attracting wide attention in this section. Several thousand Chicagoans will make the trip on special trains and by boat. The arena with a seating capacity of 21,000 is located on the edge of Michigan City and is only an hour and a half by train from Chicago.

ALBANY (N. Y.) June 30. — Gov. Miller will maintain a "hands off" policy in regard to the proposed world's heavyweight title battle between Jack Dempsey and Harry Wills.

The Governor said he had no objection to a negro fighting a white man.

No special events are carded for today and tomorrow, other than the cruise to Avalon and get-together parties, but Monday some real boat competition will get under way.

The entries for the sloop race are Mischief II, Brooks Hays; Mischief I, A. G. Maddock; Vite, Brooks Hays; Wasp, Paul Jeffers; Detroit, William Leplante, and the Joy, entered by Claud Putnam of Newport Harbor Yacht Club.

A sailing punt race is billed as an extra event for Monday afternoon, starting at 3 o'clock. A trophy has been offered for the winner by Paul Jeffers.

MOTORBOAT TILT

On Tuesday, July 4, the race for the motorboats of 610-cubic-inch displacement will be put on over a fifteen-mile course. The course will start from in front of the St. Catherine Hotel, thence across Avalon Bay, with a leg of about two miles out to sea.

GEORGE GIBSON QUITS MANAGERIAL POSITION

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PITTSBURG, June 30.—George Gibson, manager of the Pittsburg Pirates since the spring of 1920, today announced his resignation, effective immediately, to his players when they went to the showers after their defeat by St. Louis. Less than an hour later the management of the team announced that William McKechnie of Wilkinsburg, assistant manager, would succeed "Gibby."

Gibson did not relate the details of his decision in a short speech to the men, but a report had it that he has been dissatisfied with the poor showing of the team in the past two weeks and that he felt he should step out and give some other man a chance at the helm.

Strand singled, took second on Wilhelm's out and rode home on a single to center by Duffy Lewis, the hittin' manager.

BEES TAKE LEAD

Bees went to front unmistakably in fifth. After Thurston had whiffed, he becomes an expert pitcher, Strand singled and Sand walked. Duffy Siglin leaned on a Dell delivery for a three-bagger to right, Siglin and Heinie Sand scoring. Heinie coming home didn't make the track well enough for Dell to make the grade. Paddy was held at third on Strand's short fly to Chadbourne, while Wilhelm moved to Hyatt near the middle of the diamond. The Bees have a way of using their triples that is disconcerting to the opposition. More bunching of blows for two runs in eighth. Siglin singled, and scored from first on Strand's single to the ouija board. Play at first was close and puzzling, but Mr. Eason didn't seem to hesitate, spreading out hands like a pelican does its wings when volplaning. Wilhelm filed to Hawk, and Lewis walked. Tony Lazerre singled safely to center, counting Strand, Lewis being overtaken between second and third by Chadbourne's fly and run down. Byler ground-scored.

Opposed to Lectures by Judge Landis

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Clark Griffith, president of the Washington American League club, today took exception to the reported lecture recently given at Kenesaw Mountain Landis, baseball commissioner, to members of the New York and Boston American League clubs, declaring he endorsed Judge Landis's remarks that the ball players must not drink, bootleg, or carouse around at all, a direct insult to 98 per cent of the ball players of the country.

SAC WIN FROM OAKS AND EVEN UP SERIES

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OAKLAND, June 30.—The Oaks dropped back into sixth place today, a berth they left but recently when they took an eleven-inning defeat from the Senators, 2 to 1. It was a pretty duel of pitchers between Prough and Krause and the former, although touched for ten hits to Krause's seven, was effective in the pinch.

Schang's single, steal of second and Cather's boot of Ryan's grounder, followed rapidly by another boot on the same play with a wild heave to the plate, brought one Sacramento's winning run. Prough pulled out of a bad jam in the seventh when the Oaks pushed four hits, one a double, all scored but one run. The score:

Jack O'Judgment

By Edgar Wallace...

At the end of the week came his great chance. He had been sent down to the docks to do some repairs on a small steamer and had pleased the skipper, who was himself an elderly man, by the ability he had shown.

"You're worth twice some of these young men," grumbled the old man. "Are you married?"

"No," said the other.

"Why don't you sign on with me?" asked the skipper. "I want a carpenter bad."

"Where are you going?" asked Boundary, breathing more quickly.

"Were going to Valparaiso first, then were going to work down the coast, round the Horn to San Francisco, and maybe we'll get a cargo across to China."

"I'll think it over," said the colonel.

That night he called on the captain and told him that he had made up his mind to go.

"We shan't leave till tomorrow at twelve," said the captain. "You might as well spend a night on solid earth while you can. It will be a long time before you smell dirt again."

The colonel secured lodgings in the town and retired to his room early. He had purchased all the newspapers he could find, and he wanted to study them quietly. It was with unusual relish that he read the account of an inquest on himself. There was no breath of suspicion that he was not dead.

"Old Dan Boundary has tricked them all."

He chuckled at the thought. He had deceived all those clever men at Scotland Yard—Sir Stanley Belcom, Stafford King, Jack o' Judgment! Yes, he had deceived Jack o' Judgment, and that seemed the least believable part of the affair. All the rest of the gang were captured or fugitives. He wondered whether Lollie Marsh and Crewe had reached Portugal, and what they were doing there, and how long their money would last, and how they would earn more. He had his own money well secured. He had managed to get together quite a large sum, for there were other banks than the Victoria and City—odd accounts in assumed names which he had drawn upon on the very day of his supposed death.

There was a tap at the door.

"Come in," said Boundary, thinking it the landlady.

He was in the middle of the room as he spoke, and he went back step by step as the visitor entered. His tongue clove to the roof of his mouth, his eyes were starting out of his head.

"You!" You!" he gasped.

"Stop!" cried Boundary hoarsely. "I know you, damn you! I know you!"

He pulled back the curtains and glared out of the window. There was no need to ask any further questions. The house was surrounded. He swung round again at his tormentor and faced the white mask in a blind fury of rage.

"You're clever, aren't you," he said, "cleverer than all the police! But you weren't clever enough to save your son from death!"

"Ah, that got you, Little Jack o' Judgment!" mocked the colonel. "That's hit you where it hurts you most, hasn't it? Your only son, too! And he went to the devil all the faster because of me—me—me!" He struck his breast with his clenched fist. "You can't bring him back to life, can you? That's one I've scored against you."

"No," said Jack o' Judgment in a low voice, "I cannot bring him back to life, but I can destroy the man who destroyed him, who blighted his young life, who taught him vicious practices, who sapped his vitality with drugs."

"That's a lie!" said the colonel. "Crewe picked him up at Monte Carlo, when he was on his beam ends."

"Who sent him to Monte Carlo?" asked the other. "Who was the gambler who brought him down and received the wreck he had made with the pretense that he had never met him before? It was you, Boundary!"

The colonel nodded.

"It was I," he said with satisfaction. "I was a fool to deny it. I pretended to Crewe that I hadn't met him before. Yes, it was I, and I glory in it. You think you're going to arrest me now, and put me where I belong—on the scaffold, maybe. But, you can never wipe that memory out of your mind—that you had a son who died in the gutter, that you're a childless old man who has no son to follow you!"

"I can't wipe that out!" said Jack o' Judgment. "I can't wipe that out!" He raised his hand to his masked face as though to hide the picture which Boundary conjured. "But I can wipe you out," he said fiercely, "and I've given my life, my career, my reputation, all that I held dear to get you! I've smashed your schemes, I've ruined you, even if I've ruined myself. They're waiting for you downstairs, Boundary. I told them to be here at this very minute. Stafford King——"

"You'll never see me taken," said Boundary.

Two shots rang out together, and the colonel sprawled back over the bed, dead. Propped against the wall was Jack o' Judgment, and the hand that gripped his breast dripped red.

They heard the shots outside. Stafford King was the first to enter the room. One glance at the colonel was sufficient, and then he turned to the man who had slipped to the floor and was sitting with his back propped against the wall.

"Jack o' Judgment," said Stafford wonderingly.

"Poor old Jack!" said the mocking voice.

Stafford's arm was about his shoulder, and he laid the head gently back upon his bent knee. He lifted the mask gently, and the light of the oil lamp which swung from the ceiling fell upon the white face.

"Sir Stanley Belcom! Sir Stanley!" he whispered.

"Poor old Jack o' Judgment!" he mimicked. "This is going to be a first-class scandal, Stafford. For the sake of the service you ought to hush it up."

"But nobody need know, sir," said Stafford. "You can explain to the Home Secretary——"

Sir Stanley shook his head.

"I'm going to see a greater Home Secretary than ever lived in Whitehall," he said slowly. "I'm finished, Stafford. Strip this mummery from me if you can."

With shaking hands Stafford King tore off the black cloak and flung it under the bed.

"Now," said Sir Stanley weakly, you can introduce me to the provincial police as head of our department and you can keep my secret, Stafford—if you will.

Stafford laid his hand upon Sir Stanley's.

"I told my solicitor"—Sir Stanley spoke with difficulty—"to give you a letter in case—in case anything happened. I know I haven't played the game as I should. I ought to have resigned years ago when I found what had happened to my poor boy. I was chief of police in one of the provinces of India at the time, but they wouldn't let me go. I came to Scotland Yard and was promoted. No, I haven't played the game as I should with the department. And yet perhaps I have."

He did not speak for some time. His breathing was growing fainter and fainter, and when Stafford asked him, he said he was in no pain.

"I had to deceive you," he said after a while; "I had to pretend that Jack o' Judgment called on me, too. That was to take suspicion from your—Miss White." He smiled. "No; I haven't played the game. I stood for the law, and yet—I broke that gang, which the law could not touch. I broke them! I broke them!" he whispered. "If Boundary hadn't known me I should have been gone before you came, and resigned tomorrow," he said; "but he must have discovered the boy's name. I wonder he hadn't tried before. I smashed them; didn't I, Stafford? It cost me thousands. I have committed alost every kind of crime. I robbed the diamond smiths'—but you must give me your word you will never tell. Phillopolis must suffer. They must all be punished."

Stafford had sent the police from the room, but the police surgeon would not be denied. He had the sense to see that nothing could be done for the dying man, however, and that a change of position would probably hasten the end. He, too, left him alone with King.

"Stafford, I have quite a lot of money," said the first commissioner; "it is yours. There's a will—yours."

Then he ceased to speak, and Stafford thought that the end had come, but did not dare move in case he were mistaken. After five minutes the man in his arms stirred slightly, and his voice sounded strangely clear and strong.

"Gregory, my boy! Good old Gregory! Father's here, old man!"

His voice died away to a rumble and then to a murmur.

The tears were running down Stafford's face. He sensed all the tragedy, all the loneliness of this man who had offered so cheerful a face to the world. Then Sir Stanley struggled to draw himself to his feet and Stafford held him.

"Gently, sir, gently," he said; "you're only hurting yourself."

"Here I am, poor old Jack o' Judgment! Little old Jack o' Judgment! Give me the lives you took and the hopes you've blasted. Give them to Jack o' Judgment—Jack o' Judgment!"

They were his last words.

A year later, First Commissioner Sir Stafford King received a letter from South America. It contained nothing but a photograph—of a very good-looking man and a singularly pretty woman, who held in her lap a very tiny baby.

"Here is the last of the Boundary gang," said Sir Stafford to Maisie. "It is the one happy ending that has emerged from so much misery and evil."

"Why, it is Lollie Marsh!"

"Lollie Crewe, I think her name is now," said Stafford. "It was queer how Sir Stanley recognized the only human members of the gang."

"Then they got away after all?" said the girl. "I've often wondered what happened at that airdrome."

Stafford laughed.

"Oh, yes," he said dryly, "they got away. They left at twenty minutes past three, after a long argument with the aviator, a man named Cartwright."

"How do you know?" she asked.

"Sir Stanley and I watched them go off," said Stafford.

He looked at the photograph again and shook his head.

"There were times when the judgment of Jack was very merciful," he said soberly.

CHAMP AND WILLS TO SIGN ARTICLES SOON

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, June 30.—A contract binding Jack Dempsey to meet Harry Wills, negro, in a bout for the world's heavyweight championship, probably will be signed and sealed in New York late next week. Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, said today that he and the champion would meet Wills and his manager, Paddy Mullins, about July 5.

"On behalf of Dempsey I am ready to go through with the match," declared Kearns, "and we're going to talk turkey."

An invitation had been extended to Mullins to meet Kearns today, but Mullins had gone to Trenton, N. J., to see Wills fight Jeff Smith tonight.

ICE CREAM ONE OF BEST FOODS

All-Important Milk Vital to Good Health

Particularly Suitable to Hot Summer Months

Light but Nourishing for "Lunch" Substitute

BY WINIFRED STUART GIBBS

"Hurry, kids, the Ice Cream Lady's a comin'!"

This was the jubilant shout that often greeted the ears of a dietitian who visited the homes of certain undernourished children in an attempt to help the busy mothers solve the problem of making those youngsters strong and sturdy.

It seemed to be necessary for the Ice Cream Lady to waste a certain amount of time discussing the merits of oatmeal and milk and spinach and orange juice. These were all very well in their way, thought the impatient children, but why couldn't she stick to really sensible topics, such as ice cream? That's the stuff, they all agreed!

Now that the leaves of the calendar are turning toward the warm days, perhaps we should do well to follow the children's example and get acquainted with an Ice Cream Lady of our own.

Probably one of the first things this person would tell us, if she were a dietitian, would be the fact that the children were in a measure, correct in thinking that ice cream was very important, especially in summer. The kindly caution not to neglect the other important foods we should, of course, heed, but this is an ice cream story.

Why is ice cream a good food?

For one thing, its chief constituent is the all-important milk, a goodly supply of which we all need, whatever the number of years or gray hairs. Now this valuable milk need not necessarily be taken in the form of "just milk," to paraphrase the well-known man who said that he thought there were only two kinds of cake, layer cake and "just cake!" Ice cream makes a delightful and healthful way to get around the prejudices of the child or adult who "hates milk."

When prepared for children or delicate convalescents, this attractive food should take the form of orange and lemon milk sherbet, or junket ice cream, or a plain frozen pudding of milk and eggs. It is best to leave the elaborate dishes, such as ice cream made from rich cream, or other fancy frozen desserts to special occasions.

In the warm days, our Ice Cream Lady would tell us, our bodies are feeling the effects of sudden changes in temperature, from extreme and relaxing heat, perhaps, to a decidedly lower temperature. This often means lowered vitality and disturbed digestion.

Then there are the hot days themselves, when there is no appetite, when energy flags and work is a burden instead of the pleasure it should be.

Again, we feel the need of a "light" but nourishing lunch before an afternoon of close application, and do not wish to have even a moderate fire, nor contemplate even moderately hot food.

In any or all of these contingencies, as in many other possible ones, we may find in well-made ice cream one solution to our difficulty.

Because of the wide popular interest in food and nutrition, it is quite possible, with the best intentions in the world, to give information that is so incomplete as to be misleading. Therefore, a word of caution.

No one food can really take the place of any other food. Before making additions to the diet, especially in the case of children, see to it that the diet is carefully balanced, so as to include all needed foods.

But remember, also, that for special seasons there are special foods that fit into the main dietary plan with especially good results. One of these special helps for special times is ice cream. Added to the summer diet in judicious quantities, it supplies milk, rests an overworked digestion, and gives a needed zest to meals from which a jaded appetite might shrink.

Efficient Housekeeping

TWO WHOLESOME DINNERS FOR CHILDREN

"Please publish some dinners for young children (ages 6 to 8)," writes a reader of this column who signs herself "Auntie." "My little nieces are coming to visit me for two days and I haven't the slightest idea what they ought to eat!" The following two dinner menus are suitable for children of this age:

Lamb Chops
Baker Potatoes
Creamed Spinach
Milk Children's Sponge Cup-Cakes

Children's Sponge Cup-Cakes—Break 2 eggs into a cup and fill the cup with top-milk or cream. Mix and sift 1¼ cups of flour, 1 cup sugar, and 2 teaspoons baking powder. Put both mixtures into a bowl (that is, the egg-and-milk and the dry ingredients) and beat all together vigorously for five minutes. Then turn into buttered muffin rings and bake for ten minutes in a hot oven.

Fresh Fish
Mashed Potatoes
Creamed Peas
Milk Children's Apple Pudding

Children's Apple Pudding—(This pudding is also a good one to serve adults.) Slice enough apples to fill one-fourth of a buttered baking dish. Cover these sliced apples with sugar enough to sweeten, ¼ teaspoon cinnamon, and bits of butter. Pour over this the following batter:

Mix together and sift 1¼ cups flour; 1 teaspoon salt and 2 teaspoons baking powder; rub into this mixture 1 tablespoon shortening; add enough water to make a batter a little thinner than cake batter.

When this batter is poured over the apples in the baking dish, bake for thirty minutes in a medium oven. Serve with the following sauce:

Sauce for Children's Apple Pudding—Mix ½ cup of sugar with a little cold water, and 1 tablespoons of flour. Pour boiling water over this until it clears, then cook until thick enough to serve; after which add 1 teaspoon vanilla and a large lump of butter. If a large spoonful of grape jelly be also added, this sauce will be even more delicious.

Sand Cookies—Cream together 1 cup butter and 1½ cups brown sugar; beat the yolks of two eggs and the white of one, then add these to the sugar and butter; now sift together 2½ cups flour, 1 teaspoon soda, and 2 teaspoons cream of tartar, adding this to the mixture. Roll very thin, cut with a cookie cutter, brush the tops with the white of 1 egg, sprinkle with cinnamon and sugar mixed, and bake from six to eight minutes in a medium oven.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

Fistulas

"Dear Doctor: Being a constant reader of your articles, and knowing how you have helped others, I am wondering if you can help me. I think it is a fistula that troubles me. It breaks out very often. I have been like that for years but it is getting worse. Will you kindly let me know what I can do to give myself relief?.

"G. W."

I don't believe that you can do anything yourself. Go to a surgeon and he will tell you what is to be done. It may be possible that it can be made to heal up under treatment but I rather think a little surgery may be necessary. Never try to treat such a condition as this yourself.

Palpitation

"Dear Dr. Peters: I am interested in your Diet and Health column. Especially articles on too thin. I suffer, especially since summer has started, with continuous palpitation of the heart due to wrong diet no doubt, causing gas. I am naturally of a nervous disposition, but am working to overcome this. . . . I love candy. Another case is my little girl. She is underweight, has a bird appetite. It is coax and beg her to eat at all times. I write to you because I think you have hit upon the seat of all disease—incorrect diet—and hope to see in your column some answer that fits my case.

"A READER."

You are about twenty-eight pounds underweight. I would advise you to go to a physician. Be sure he is a physician, not a diploma mill turn-out. And have a thorough examination to see if there is not some organic cause of your palpitation and nervousness. If you were overweight and had palpitation you could be sure that your condition was due to incorrect eating. Of course excessive candy eating is harmful. It is possible you are eating too much of that and not getting the elements you need in your diet. Candy is an energy food only. It is full of calories but no vitamins or growth-producing elements or essential salts.

I advise both you and your little girl to count your calories and be sure that you get enough of the calories in the foods which will supply the needs of your body before you indulge in candy. For the little girl, can't you make a game of the calories? With other wholesome foods, she should have a pint or more of good milk every day. That's also good for you. Children are great imitators. You will often find them liking and eating what their parents like and eat and I suppose your little girl is probably imitating you. Now both of you get busy and build up your nutrition.

As far as incorrect diet being the seat of all disease, I would not say that that is so in all cases. We know that our bodies are made up of the food we eat and there is no doubt that incorrect diet contributes more to ill health than any other one factor.

Both you and your child need a lot of rest. Did you read my articles on saving energy by not too much talking and useless worrying? Do they apply to you? If you find you don't improve soon by increasing your calories of wholesome food, again let me say see a good physician for a personal examination. Thank you for your nice letter.

Eyes

"Dear Doctor: Your articles please me so that I have the presumption to ask for your help on the subject of eyes—especially as to what to use for an eye bath.

"ONE OF YOUR READERS."

My dear—If you have anything the matter with your eyes, do go to a good oculist. Maybe you need glasses or something. Boric acid solution is considered a good eye wash. We use it for babies. A teaspoonful to a pint of boiled water, or you can get it already made up. I am glad you like the column.

Epilepsy

In answer to the letter of one of our readers concerning her epilepsy—I will have a paper on epilepsy soon. Have you had your eyes examined? And are you sure you have no other organic condition in the body which may cause your trouble through reflex action? It is known that conditions such as these can cause the trouble. Have a thorough examination of yourself made by a competent physician.

MAXIMS ON FOODS FOR WARM DAYS

What We Should and Should Not Eat and Drink During Summer Months

Warm days bring many pleasures, but they also bring a certain amount of muscular relaxation, or "let down" feeling. Even when we do as much muscular work as in winter there is less tension when we are at rest. Translated in terms of bread and butter this means that we should decrease the quantity of food eaten in summer and look carefully to its digestibility.

Were we to compile a book of food maxims for warm weather it might read something like this:

Fatty foods delay digestion.

Eggs are easy to digest.

Merely a moderate amount of meat is best.

Savory salads supply something we must have.

Serve only a few foods at each meal.

Applying these maxims to a systematic daily plan would give us fresh fruit, hot porridge, alternating with puffed or shredded cereal; bran muffins or buttered toast and coffee for our summer breakfast.

For lunch there would be a creamed meat or fish, or a substantial salad or an omelette with vegetables, with wafers or home-made cookies and tea or cocoa.

Dinner would be more "hearty," but should also be carefully chosen. A clear soup is a good appetizer and brings a sense of refreshment after a hot day. The meat should be simple, such as roast lamb, chicken fricassee or broiled chops; if no salad has been served at luncheon there should be one at dinner, this time a plain lettuce. When salad is served at dinner one green vegetable is sufficient, and, if the salad is served with cheese, it may well replace the dessert on certain evenings. Otherwise, summer desserts should be "light," such as ice cream or simple puddings. Black coffee may complete the summer dinner, although it should never be given to children.

FOOD QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Answers to readers' questions regarding diet will be answered by Winifred Stuart Gibbs, food specialist, writer and lecturer on nutrition. Questions should be accompanied by a self-addressed stamped envelope, as only those of general interest will be answered in this column; others will be answered through the mail.

Is it a Good Plan to Omit Breakfast?—G. M.

In general, it may be said that an active person, in good health needs a simple, easily digested breakfast. There may be cases where the individual has been overeating, and where the digestive organs require rest, and these persons may, occasionally derive benefit from temporarily omitting breakfast. Then, too, very stout persons may sometimes omit breakfast with good results. The test is to observe carefully all points that have to do with the general health. Get a clean bill of health from your physician, then use your own common sense as to whether you will feel better or worse for eating breakfast.

Most authorities agree that children under 7 should not have meat. This is always provided that the child has a quart of milk a day, one egg at least three times a week and plenty of fresh vegetables. Meat is liable to putrefaction in the intestines, and the younger the child the greater is the danger of this, since the digestive apparatus does not "grow up" any faster than the other parts of the body.

Is it Harmful to Drink Milk and Eat Oranges at Same Meal?—K. M. M.

This, too, is largely a matter of common sense. If the digestion is in good order there is usually no objection to such a combination. Some physicians and dentists are now suggesting that it is advisable to eat fruit at the end of the meal rather than at the beginning. This also is a matter for individuals to decide.

My Little Girl is Backward in School; Has Her Diet Anything to do with it?—J. E. T.

It is quite possible that your little girl is not well nourished, even though she may be getting a plentiful supply of food. Consult your physician as to her general health and if his diagnosis is satisfactory, plan her diet with the idea of giving her the very best food. Frequently revision of the diet has been the means of promoting progress in school work.

Should Adults Drink Milk?—M. E. W.

While it is not so vitally necessary for adults as for children to form the milk-drinking habit, grown-ups need milk to keep the body built up, just as children need it to lay the foundations for future health and strength.

HUSBAND TOO OLD

Also Was Told by Wife to Leave, He Says; Asks Divorce

Taking his wife at her word when she advised him, he asserts, that he could leave any time he desired, Harry W. Wheeler yesterday sued Marion L. Wheeler for divorce. In taking his leave, Mr. Wheeler named two co-respondents with whom he charged his wife was consorting.

Mr. Wheeler charges in his complaint that his wife went to the beach with various men. When she came home at 3 a.m., she announced that her husband was "too old," the complaint states.

OPPOSES GRANTING FRANCHISES BY STATE

Councilman Conaway's resolution declared that this power of granting franchises in the city of Los Angeles rests now with the City Council and the Board of Public Utilities, and should remain there.

STEPHENS OUT FOR GOVERNOR

Formally Announces His Candidacy Here

Seeks Re-election on Ground of Past Record

But Has Little to Say About That "Economy"

Announcement of his candidacy for re-election was made here yesterday by Gov. Stephens immediately following his arrival here from Sacramento. The Governor will remain in Southern California for several weeks where, it is said, his advisors believe he faces his hardest campaign activities.

The Governor's declaration for a third term as chief executive of the State virtually ignores his chief campaign slogan four years ago, which was "economy and efficiency." His reference to State costs in the future is dismissed by the inference that, if elected, he will maintain "a cautious attitude toward increasing expenditures."

The statement follows in full:

"More vital to the State or the nation than the personal aspirations of any man, is the maintenance of a system of government consonant with the ideals and interests of the people.

"Realizing that, because of reactionary activities, a change of administration at this time would mean a complete change in the character of government that this State has indorsed and ratified on many occasions, I hereby submit my candidacy for re-election as Governor of the State of California.

"The greatest good to the greatest number, the maintenance of law had order, and the progressive development of the human and material interests of this State, have been the guiding principles of my administration of the State's affairs, and of the legislation that I have approved.

WHAT HE CLAIMS

"This has been evidenced in our agricultural progress, in our educational expansion, in our extension of child welfare work, in our antialien legislation, in our highway development, in our soldier welfare program, in our legislative support of national constitutional prohibition, in our equalization of taxes to the end that public service corporations should pay their just proportion in harmony with the demands of our State Constitution, in our increased efficiency through administrative reorganization and consolidation, and in other measures, upon which I am prepared to stand, as an evidence of good faith, and as a guaranty of the continuation of progressive policies in this State.

"Notwithstanding the greatest increase in the cost of materials and in the cost of living, that the nation has ever experienced, our State expenditures have been held to a strictly conservative basis in all our normal administrative functions. Only in the educational and constructive activities has there been any marked increase, and the larger part of this advance was necessitated by the direct vote of the people, whose right it is to determine how much money shall be used and for what purposes.

"Even including these expanding activities, California's State government has increased its expenses less proportionately than any other big business within the State, and this increase has gone into developments which are vital to our future economic and business welfare.

"In California after the war, reactionary interests rought to control the Legislature and to weaken the administration, by a subtle and organized movement which was as dangerous to the economic welfare and democratic government of our people, as any corporate control that was ever exercised in the history of the State, but fortunately in battling against these forces the people were victorious.

"I am fully aware that these selfish interests have thrown down the gauntlet in the coming election, and I feel called upon to fight again for the maintenance of government for the people, by the people.

"The State's future is bright with promise. The rapidity of our progress and the safety of our institutions demand a government in which are combined, a courage to meet reactionary propaganda, an understanding of existing economic conditions, a cautious attitude toward increasing expenditures, a practical sympathy for the human welfare of our people and a constructive policy of State development.

"To meet these demands I pledge my best endeavors."

SLANDER CHARGE FAILS

Because of lack of corroboration Judge Wellborn yesterday gave judgment in favor of Lillian Collett in the $20,000 slander suit filed against her by Anna V. Marks. The latter charged that the defendant accused her of stealing furs.

PINE .. FOREST .. BECOMES .. FAIRYLAND

Hundreds Enjoy Tea and Novel Booths on Flower-Carpeted Hillsides

Subdebutantes Entertained at Friday Morning Club's Forest Fete

BY MYRA NYE

THE Ingraham Grove and gardens were opened for the first time to the public yesterday in the interest of the Friday Morning Club. Twenty years ago, Mrs. Irving Ingraham supervised the planting of 500 trees and since that time many more have been added and now they have grown to maturity. Yesterday hundreds enjoyed her handiwork.

Mrs. Ingraham is now visiting in Europe, but as a member of the Friday Morning Club she sent word that her grove might be used for the forest fete which is being given to raise funds to erect the $400,000 clubhouse.

The fete is being conducted in the hollow of little hills carpeted with pine needles. Children were there with their balloons shouting as they rose in the air; boys played ball, the young people danced on the tennis court and a continuous program of music continued throughout the day.

COLORFUL SCENE

The lily pond between the Gypsy Village and the Childrens' Playground was dotted with pads and blossoms but to all appearance the school of gold fish had been transmuted by the magic that prevailed into rings and bracelets fairy dolls and novelty knives. There you baited your hook with a dime and drew forth—perhaps—a diamond. Today Miss Mildred Bulfinch who guides the bait and the rod promises to bring forth a whale.

The rainbow has been caught in balloons that float everywhere from gaily-colored umbrellas. Ye Olde Booke Shoppe lends a quiet charm to one of the paths from the brow of the hill to the hollow. Mrs. W. A. Bonynge is in charge.

Through the aisles of the trees there strolls in their variegated garments Watete, Mewanee and Geselda, fair-haired little Hermo Dorffer, born in East Africa, and his very dark mother, also, an East African, who is the singer, Vera Cappi Carl All. The Etta Mack, a former Navy submarine chaser, cleared the Canadian port ostensibly for Nootka Sound, but the custom men discount the possibility of her carrying such a valuable cargo to a point on the deserted west coast of Vancouver Island.

SEEK MISSING CRAFT

Special Agent Frank E. Johnson of the Treasury Department, in Los Angeles, is also co-operating with the customs service.

Federal officials are also on the lookout for the 100-foot craft which escaped from the Los Angeles Harbor police early yesterday morning after attempting to land a small boat at Portuguese Bend and Smuggler's Cove. Police hurried to those points after the craft had signaled to confederates ashore. After signalling for nearly an hour the vessel extinguished all lights and put out to sea.

Tomorrow Miss Workman, Miss Ingraham, Miss Bonynge, Miss Hancock, Miss Hummel, Miss Quinlan, Miss Carpenter and Miss Andrews will be stationed as follows: Cahokia, Humboldt Bay (Eureka;) Smith, Ketchikan, Alaska; Vaughan, Seattle, and the Cygan at San Francisco. The Tingard will remain at San Diego and upon her arrival from Mobile July 20, the Tamaroa will be stationed at Los Angeles Harbor. She is in command of Lieut. W. K. Thompson.

Meanwhile, the customs authorities are on the lookout for two British motorships, the San Diego and Etta Mack, both of which cleared Vancouver several days ago with several carloads of liquor. The San Diego is in command of Capt. Carl All. The Etta Mack, a former Navy submarine chaser, cleared the Canadian port ostensibly for Nootka Sound, but the custom men discount the possibility of her carrying such a valuable cargo to a point on the deserted west coast of Vancouver Island.

MAGIC OF EGYPT

By another magic the distant streets of Cairo have been spirited out of Egypt. They now lie under the dappled lights and shades of this fete forest for the pleasure of the people and the benefit of the fund.

Yesterday there were many dancing and luncheon parties given in the gay pavillion erected in the copse at the foot of the hills and across the rustic bridge of the brook. Dancing was on the tennis courts made smooth with wax. Miss Audree Workman, just home from school at Menlo Park, entertained Miss Rosemary Hancock, Miss Harriet Andrews, Miss Gertrude Hummel, Miss Luigina Carpenter and Miss Peggy Quinlan.

Mrs. Harry Callender entertained for her daughter, Miss Virginia Callender, and today will entertain with a dancing party for her son, Harry Callender, Jr. Miss Hildegarde Silvers and Miss Eileen Osborne were joint hostesses for a dancing party of young people and today Mrs. Lawrence Burck, one of the patronesses at the fortnightly assemblies, is entertaining for her daughter, Miss Bobbie Burck. Yesterday Cosmos Morgan entertained groups of his friends with legerdermain parties at the magic booth, where Mrs. Cosmos Morgan is patroness. Miss Gladys Loblgier, a Wellesley graduate, will entertain a group of her friends today. Yesterday there were fifty tables of bridge and today there will be more, according to reservations.

RECEPTION YESTERDAY

The chief reception was yesterday afternoon, when Mrs. Andrew Stewart Loblgier and Mrs. John A. Osgood, president and president-emeritus of the club, received. She was assisted by past presidents and charter members. Events for children will be featured today. In one program number alone eighty-five children will take part under the direction of Miss Hortense Willis of the Echo Park playground.

The entire committee numbers over 200 members with the following executive officers of both the finishing fund and fete: Mrs. O. P. Clark, Mrs. S. L. Kreider, Mrs. Elizabeth Pepper, Mrs. Boyle Workman, Mrs. Carrie S. Green, Mrs. John R. Haynes, Mrs. Jennie H. Keen, Mrs. Benjamin Goldman and Miss Myra B. Miller.

RESTAURANT OWNER SENTENCED TO JAIL

Chris Puente, proprietor of a restaurant at 683 North Spring street, arrested for the tenth time, was yesterday sentenced in Police Judge Chambers's court to spend 180 days in the City Jail on a charge of violating the Gandier ordinance. It was charged that Puente had been mixing intoxicating ingredients with his soft-drink beverages. Puente gave notice of appeal and Judge Chambers fixed his bail at $500.

ROOF WEDDING SETS RECORD

By a Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, June 30. This morning Edward D. Barnett, a city fireman, and Miss Elsie M. Lane, his bride, clambered to the roof of the uncompleted City Hall, where, under a brilliant sun, they were united in marriage by Police Judge Hawkins. William Brady, police court clerk, acted as a witness to the ceremony.

"We wanted to have the distinction of being the first couple to be married in the new City Hall," Barnett explained to reporters just before the couple departed for a brief honeymoon.

PLAN CAMPAIGN ON SMUGGLERS

Customs and Coast Guard to Co-operate

Four New Cutters Ready for the Service

Whisky Blockade Will be Effective Soon

Preparations for a campaign against liquor smuggling between California and British Columbia ports are being made by the United States Customs and coast guard services, it was disclosed yesterday by Deputy Collector of Customs Putnam. Six new coast guard cutters, of which four are already at the local port, will be stationed along the coast line from the Mexican border to Alaska, Mr. Putnam said.

By August 1 the six craft will have arrived at their stations and a smuggling blockade, reinforced by radio communication between the cutters, will be maintained. A careful check will be kept, Mr. Putnam said, of all vessels whose destinations or cargoes are of a doubtful nature.

STATIONS SEDEOTED

The four coast guard cutters now at Los Angeles Harbor, in command of Lieut. G. T. Finley, will be stationed as follows: Cahokia, Humboldt Bay (Eureka;) Smith, Ketchikan, Alaska; Vaughan, Seattle, and the Cygan at San Francisco. The Tingard will remain at San Diego and upon her arrival from Mobile July 20, the Tamaroa will be stationed at Los Angeles Harbor. She is in command of Lieut. W. K. Thompson.

Meanwhile, the customs authorities are on the lookout for two British motorships, the San Diego and Etta Mack, both of which cleared Vancouver several days ago with several carloads of liquor. Association for New Poll Plan Has More Names

An additional petition of more than 10,000 names will be filed by the Association for District Representation as the result of the campaign in which 25,000 names have already been secured, it was announced yesterday at the headquarters of the association in the Hollenbeck Hotel by Mrs. Mary E. Eyiward, secretary.

Though the filing of the additional names were not necessary, officials of the association felt they would indicate more clearly the sentiment of the voting public.

It is now mandatory on the City Council to place the charter amendment on the ballot for the election. A vigorous campaign to place the issue squarely before the voters will be launched immediately and carried on extensively during the next two months.

FRAUD SUSPECT LOCATED

Long Sought Angeleno Found by Buffalo Police Living Under Assumed Name

Suspected by Buffalo police of masquerading under the name of a boyhood friend who is thought to have been murdered, a man declared to be Charles E. Williamson, formerly president of the National Tuna Fishing and Canning Company in this city, was under investigation yesterday.

Buffalo officers say that Williamson has been living in that city under the name of Charles H. Palmer, and that he is suspected of having forged several drafts in the name of H. D. Lewis. According to Elinore Jessemin of Wellesley Hills, Mass., who is Palmer's twin sister, Williamson and Palmer were playmates when they were boys. Palmer left Boston years ago, she stated, and is thought to have been murdered. When last heard from he was somewhere in the West, she says.

INDICTED IN 1914

Back in 1914 Williamson was indicted by a Federal grand jury in this city on a charge of fraud, and a series of bail-jumping episodes followed that resulted in forfeitures by the accused. When Thomas B. Emerson of the National Tuna Fishing and Canning Company died in this city his will was missing. This started the chain of episodes that involved Williamson. The estate became almost hopelessly tangled in litigation between his brother and the widow. Finally the widow recovered the property and transferred it to Williamson for stock in the fish cannery. Williamson mortgaged it to A. A. Hunt, and the money was apparently squandered. Mrs. Emerson, deciding that the stock was worthless, brought suit to recover her property.

The case went into the Federal courts and Williamson was indicted for fraud. Mrs. L. D. Cannon put up her home as surety bond for his appearance in court. He jumped the bond and she lost the property. Eventually the deeds of Mrs. Emerson, laden with mortgages, were returned to her, but she is said to have recovered nothing from the estate.

Williamson was sentenced by U. S. District Judge Bledsoe to serve two years in San Quentin for using the mails to defraud. His term expired in the fall of 1917. He was arrested in Chicago on fraud charges in 1918 and, according to friends who followed the case, he was found guilty and sentenced to a term in Joliet penitentiary.

FORM CLUB FOR MOORE AT HARBOR

Representative Citizens of San Pedro Pledge Aid to Popular Candidate

A large group of representative citizens gathered in San Pedro yesterday at a luncheon and pledged their united support to the candidacy of Charles C. Moore for United States Senator.

Ray Mitchell presided at the meeting, and C. B. Hollingsworth was named chairman of the executive committee, which will direct the campaign in San Pedro and vicinity. Other members of the committee are: Ray Mitchell, E. P. Ingmire, D. A. Byers, Mrs. Bertha McMullen, Mrs. John A. Elliott, Miss Juliet, C. H. Cleveland, Clark K. Cook, John Makins, Charles T. Wilder, Harry M. Carr, Mrs. R. G. Dupuy, E. D. Seward, Clyde W. Smith, Mrs. Alice M. Brouse, Mrs. Lloyd Nix, Dr. William Day Moore, George T. Porter, John M. Cannon, A. M. Rosenfeld and A. Esposito.

In an opening address Ray Mitchell asserted:

"The more we think of the candidacy of Charles C. Moore for the United States Senate, the more we like him. Mr. Moore has yielded to a widespread demand for his services in a public capacity. This demand upon Mr. Moore from prominent men and women throughout the entire State of California has been so insistent that, realizing the great necessity of having a man in the Senate who will represent the spirit of all California and be a representative man of California, he has yielded to his friends and announced his candidacy."

Mr. Mitchell said further: "I am greatly gratified and believe that all the men and women within the sound of my voice share this sentiment. The situation is one that demands public service of the highest order, and I am confident that Mr. Moore is entirely competent to meet it in a comprehensive way."

SPEEDING IS COSTLY PASTIME

Driver Prefers Ten Days in Jail to Paying Fine; Says Case Was "Fixed"

Two speeders were heavily fined yesterday in Justice Forbes's court. R. R. Shipman, who was brought into court on a bench warrant on two charges of speeding, was fined $65 with an alternative of ten days in jail. Mr. Shipman took the jail sentence.

Evidence given the court was that Mr. Shipman was arrested for going thirty-eight miles an hour on Alhambra Boulevard and notified to appear in court. A half hour later he was arrested for going forty miles an hour.

The defendant failed to appear in court. In explaining he stated he had paid $15 to a man to "fix" the case and the court ordered that steps be taken at once to bring the asserted "fixer" into court.

Lester E. Shaw, a farmer of Hanford, paid one of the heaviest fines imposed in the county courts for speeding. He was halted for going thirty-one miles an hour on curves on the Ridge Route and thirty-nine miles on the straightaways.

He wrote to the court that he could not get to Los Angeles and asked what he was fined. The court fined him $125 and yesterday received a check in payment. Mr. Shaw was also sentenced to ten days in jail, but the sentence was suspended.

was the following message from Gov. William C. Sproul of Pennsylvania, the State where the special was made up for its triumphant journey:

"Please accept the congratulations of your namesake, the Governor of Pennsylvania, upon the arrival of the train of Pennsylvania-built locomotives comprising the 'Prosperity Special.' It has been a great lesson of confidence in our country's progressive future, and the Southern Pacific Company is to be commended for its faith and courage in the business outlook."

ADVANCES NEW PLAN FOR OPENING STREET

Attorney Edward Winterer of the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce yesterday laid before the executive committee of the Los Angeles Traffic Commission a comprehensive plan for opening and widening of streets in the city of Los Angeles in order to handle the present population and future growth of the city. "Now is the time to at once start on a program of opening and widening of streets," declared Mr. Winterer. He proposed that the district improvement plan be followed in making these street improvements, as the benefits from them would be distributed over the entire area of the district.

W. H. Pierce, City Planning Commissioner and a member of the committee, spoke in behalf of the proposed tax by the State on gasoline of 2 cents a gallon, the money be derived from the tax to be distributed to the city, county and State, for maintenance of highways. Fourteen States in the United States now have this tax.

Ballona Creek Sewer Outlet Plan Opposed

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

VENICE, June 30.—Residents of Del Rey and the Ballona Creek district will go to court to fight Los Angeles in her attempt to use Ballona Creek as a sewer outlet. This decision was reached last night at a meeting of the two districts when it was decided to take the same steps this city took to prevent sewage from Los Angeles contaminating contingent beaches.

The step caused interest here in view of the annexation move. Louis Wilhelm, president of the Ballona Self-Preservation League pointed out that if annexation went through and Venice became a part of Los Angeles, the city would put through its sewer project without consideration of the beach cities.

A TERRIBLE WARNING

A Wichita woman washed her pet poodle in a toilet preparation the other day and turned his fleaship into a bright pink shade. The result has been to cause a great wave of prohibition in the Country Club district, for the hooch drinkers think they are seeing things when they spy the pasteurate pup and are signing the pledge right and left.—[Eldorado (Kan.) "I Eat Very Little Bread"

You hear it often. Usually the person who says it lacks vitality and endurance.

It takes the finest ingredients; each scientifically tested, all carefully blended and baked—to make bread that actually nourishes.

HOLSUM Bread is real food—the cheapest food you can buy. In White, Graham, Bran, Sandwich, Whole Wheat—each slice from any of these HOLSUM loaves contains in fullest measure the elements that build good health.

MANAGER TROTS ACTS TO AND FROM THE ORIENT

By Grace Kingsley

Even if Julian Eltinge is vacationing at his Silver Lake home these days, there is no rest for his manager, James B. Barton, who is exhibiting a laudable spirit of national reciprocity and giving an upward wallop to art by bringing Japanese theatricals into touch with the Occident, and good old United States dramatics into touch with Japan.

Mr. Eltinge is to close his home in about a fortnight and travel back to New York, accompanied by his father and mother. The actor is not well, and expects to undergo another operation at the Mayo Hospital in Buffalo before producing his new musical comedy, tentatively called "The Vanishing Lady." This he will give in New York next season. He does not expect to be able to resume work before October, however.

As will be remembered, Eltinge underwent an operation for appendicitis about a year ago, and never fully recovered from it, due to the fact that he returned to the stage too soon. He was compelled to cancel his Coast Orpheum engagements this summer.

Commuting back and forth between here and Japan has been the pleasant occupation of Mr. Barton during the past year. Having taken Eltinge to the Orient a few years ago, when he gauged the taste of the Japanese public as regards entertainment, he reports that taste rather catholic when it comes to Anglo-Saxon theatricals.

He is to leave for the Orient from San Francisco early next week, taking with him Carter, the magician, and several accompanying vaudeville acts. Having duly launched Carter, he will take over the Ben Greet Players in Shakespearean repertoire next fall, to appear at the Imperial Theater in Tokio. But in order to balance things, he is bringing back with him, on his return trip this time, the Cherry Blossom Dancers of Kioto, a purely Japanese organization, who are to appear next season at the New York Hippodrome. He will arrive in San Francisco August 25.

If any dancer may be said to have undergone the acid test, it is certainly those performed by this organization, inasmuch as there have been Cherry Blossom Dancers of Kioto for the last 110 years, which ought to be a long enough test for the most conservative manager. Their entertainment includes ten dances and lasts an hour and a half. Barton is to take them on tour in this country following their Hippodrome engagement.

The Japanese are enthusiastic admirers of English and American entertainment, declares Barton, as evidenced by their reception of Mischa Elman, who has just finished a series of ten concerts for which he received $110,000. Mme. Pavlowa goes over with her entire company next fall. The five principal cities which are sophisticated enough for the Anglo-Saxon entertainment are Tokio, Osaka, Yokohama, Kioto and Kobe.

Strange as it may seem, in view of the fact that the Japanese love motion pictures, there is not a decent theater in Tokio, says Barton. The White City Company, a Tokio concern, is commissioning Barton to bring back plans from America with him for an up-to-date picture theater.

Wally MacDonald Busy

Wallace MacDonald, who has been vacationing with his wife, Doris May, at Catalina Island for the last two weeks, has to roll up his sleeves and go to work again next week. He will play the lead opposite Shirley Mason in her next Fox picture.

In "Capt. Blackbird"

Brer Raoul Walsh is going to have a mighty fine cast for his Goldwyn picture, "Captain Blackbird," if he keeps on. Rosemary Theby and baby Mary Jane Irving are the latest additions.

Well-Known Players In It

Louis B. Mayer announces that he has engaged Edith Roberts and Cleo Madison for prominent roles in the all-star cast of "The Dangerous Age," John M. Stahl's new production for First National release.

In addition to these newly signed celebrities, the cast list for this picture now includes Lewis Stone, Ruth Clifford, Myrtle Stedman and Richard Tucker, and there are still two more star parts to be filled.

Mary MacLaren Writes

There's one actress in this big wide world who isn't going to be accused of understudying the person who buried his talents in a napkin, and that is Mary MacLaren. Miss MacLaren, who used to delight us in pictures, who took a course in art last summer in New York, and who has just completed a short, but successful, engagement in stock in Minneapolis, has deserted the good old drama.

According to no less an authority than Miss MacLaren's sister, Katherine MacDonald, Miss Mary is going to take up writing as a profession. The young lady is at present visiting friends who are writers up in Maine, where she is taking a course in short-story writing.

"Mary is a very talented person," declared Miss MacDonald, "and we have always felt that her real forte is writing. My grandmother was a writer, and Mary inherited her talent. She has already written a story which has good chance of acceptance. Later she wants to specialize in scenarios."

Alexander Shifts

Everybody has a right to change his mind, and nobody has a better right than an important person like a picture producer. So we announce with interest that Edward Alexander, director of Edward Alexander Productions, will not make "Inner Fires," the story by Margaret Kingsley Goodrich, as his first production, but will film instead "The Fighting Chance," an original story, by Mr. Alexander, continuity by Louis Stevenson.

Ethel Ritchey, starred by Mr. Alexander in a series of westerns, recently completed, will be featured in "The Fighting Chance," other members of the cast being Edward Cowen and Sidney De Gray. Henry Otto will direct, and Lige Zerr, who was Mr. Otto's cameraman on his South Sea voyage, will do the photography.

The studio scenes will be made at Clune's, and the exteriors at Warner Hot Springs.

Civil Service to Quizz Official About Shooting

Just after John Allen, negro, who was convicted last week of manslaughter for the shooting of Jack Ronsee, manager of the La Crescenta Water Works, was sentenced to a term of from one to ten years in San Quentin by Judge Monroe yesterday, the Civil Service Commission announced that on July 11, Dep. Dist.-Atty. Burke will be asked to explain some of his actions in connection with the case. The Burke investigation was asked for by citizens of La Crescenta.

According to testimony given during the Allen case, the negro was given a revolver last New Year's eve and told to guard some automobiles at La Crescenta Lodge. Some time later Ronsee, according to witnesses, approached and made motion as if to draw a weapon. Allen then pulled his revolver and killed him.

Burke appeared at the Coroner's inquest following the killing and his conduct at that time did not please citizens of La Crescenta, who asserted that the deputy District Attorney apparently favored Allen. After the hearing and the conviction of Allen the citizens addressed a letter to the County Civil Service Commission and requested a hearing.

MUSICAL PARADE

Sherwoods Singing Orchestra Attracts Attention

Downtown Los Angeles was given an opportunity of viewing the Sherwood Singing Orchestra, a group of musicians who left New York City two weeks ago, headed for this city and the Kinema Theater, traveling via automobiles. They completed the last leg of their transcontinental jaunt yesterday after making 3500 miles. The trip was made unusually interesting with camp life and big game hunts in Arizona.

The Sherwoods caravan was met by more than 100 automobiles carrying officials of the West Coast Theaters, Inc., and various theatrical agencies about the city. Floats representing practically every cafe and restaurant in the city furnished "jazzy" music for the occasion, while other floats carrying bathing girls and bands add a zip and dash to the affair. An escort of mounted traffic policemen headed the parade and brought them through the crowded city streets.

An Eskimo float bearing real Eskimos encountered difficulty on colliding with a police patrol and held up traffic for some time. A great deal of comedy was furnished through the inability of the passengers in the Eskimo float to intelligently comprehend the verbal tirade made by the indignant police officers. The float was decorated with souvenirs from the north land, and attracted much attention as it passed through the downtown section.

ACTION IS REFUSED ON BURKE CHARGES

The County Civil Service Commission yesterday declined to act on charges of "unethical and improper conduct" filed against Dep. Dist.-Attys. W. Maxwell Burke and William Clark by Attorney Charles I. Rosin. The charges were made following the conviction on murder charges of Calvin Rowell, James Thaxton, William Bringhurst and Willard Thompson. The four men were defended by Attorney Rosin and prosecuted by the two men against whom the charges were filed.

In disposing of the charges the Civil Service Commission declared that "as the acts complained of appear to have taken place in open court, the matter should be taken up with the presiding judge or the Bar Association."

MORNING CONCERT

A number of brilliant artists will appear at Grauman's Sunday morning concert, tomorrow. Popper's "Tarantella" will be played by Carl Singer, an accomplished cellist. Dr. Elfredda Gailey, a pianist of note, will give Schumann's Grand Fantasia in C. Albert Angermayer, violinist, will render the Bruch Concerto in G Minor. An added special attraction will be Grauman's Octette, composed of eight great violinists, including: L. Lawrence, Meritzer, A. Augermayer, Anron Bradae, Victor Young, Rene Hemery, Jaime Overton and A. Campiola. They will play two Schubert numbers, "Ave Maria" and "The Bee." Henry Murtagh has chosen his five numbers with much care. His first selection will be Wagner's "Pilgrim's Chorus," from "Tannhauser;" Frimi's "Butterfly Dance," "Espana," by Waldteufel, selections from "Irene," and his own transcription of "The Last Rose of Summer."

PREPARING COSTUMES

Under the direction of Walter Isreal, nationally known as a designer, work is progressing rapidly on the production costumes of Miss Talmadge and her cast for the Robert Hitchens story, "The Voice From the Minaret," which Frank Lloyd is directing for Producer Joseph M. Schenck for release through Associated First National. Mr. Isreal has made a comprehensive study of Period costuming and has as well a wide knowledge of the clothes and habits of people of all foreign countries in contemporary times. For this reason he is especially fitted to take full charge of the elaborate details in connection with the staging of the lavish production now under way at the United studios.

ESKIMO PHOTODRAMA

"Nanook of the North," showing at the Kinema Theater today, is the first motion picture photographed wholly in the Arctic regions. It is also the first motion picture depicting the actual life of the Eskimo—being a truthful and vivid story of father and mother Eskimo and all the little Eskimos at home. Robert J. Flaherty, engineer and explorer of five Sir William Mackenzie expeditions in the barren lands of the far northeast coast of the Hudson bay, photographed the entire film, requiring a period of three years consumed partly in obtaining many retakes.

MEET AT PATIO

Mrs. Alfred Hollingsworth of 411 North Kenmore avenue gave a social evening Friday for those who appeared in the last production of the Patio Players, and for the other members. An impromptu program was given. Joseph Swickard was the honor guest.

Youth Faints in Court; Case is Postponed

Harry T. Gorman, who served overseas and who is wanted in St. Paul, Minn., on the charge of forging a signature to a government pay check varied the proceedings in United States Commissioner Long's court yesterday by fainting. The young man soon rallied, at least long enough to have his case postponed for a week. Meanwhile another effort will be made to get his purported record in a hospital in France, where it is said he was confined at the time of the commission of the crime with which he is charged.

NOTED ACTRESS HERE

Somewhat ahead of schedule, Helen Freeman, noted as a Belasco player, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday to begin rehearsal for her role of ary Magdalen in the "Pilgrimage Play," Life of the Christ, which opens its third annual season the 10th inst.

Miss Freeman is a young actress of unusual talent and her work in emotional roles has won her an enviable place in the dramatic world.

Immediately upon her arrival here Miss Freeman began rehearsals with Henry Herbert, who plays the role of the Christ, and others in the big cast who had already been assembled.

PIONEERS OF SAN FERNANDO TO CELEBRATE

One of the most notable Fourth of July celebrations in Southern California this year will be held at San Fernando Mission. Pioneers of the San Fernando Valley will gather in the costumes of the early days, and singers and dancers will entertain. The proceeds of the celebration will go toward the restoration of the San Fernando Mission.

BONDS STOLEN HERE SEIZED

Five Men Jailed Suspected of Mail Robbery

Detectives Hope to Recover About Half Million

Attempt to Sell Securities in East is Fatal

Liberty bonds amounting to more than $6000 looted from the truck of Mail Driver Nelson Grimes when he was held up and robbed on March 8, 1921, while driving his truck at Fourth and Alameda streets, were recovered yesterday in New York City with the arrest of five men believed to be a band of mail robbers.

The five men were taken into custody after one of their number had placed $10,000 in stolen bonds in the hands of a Federal agent, believing that he was a broker. After the arrests the authorities began a search of New York City for the prisoner's rooms, where it is believed they have more than $500,000 in stolen bonds.

The men arrested are Thomas F. Lamon, who said he was the president of the Trans-Coast Finance Company; W. F. Pierce, the man who made the mistake that brought about the arrests; Albert Fitzroy, Abraham Rosenthal and Robert Burns. All of the prisoners are being held by the Federal authorities in New York City.

According to the information received here yesterday by the local Federal authorities, $6000 of the Liberty bonds already recovered have been traced to Los Angeles. Records show that they were taken by bandits, along with about $20,000 in bonds, from the mail truck of Nelson Grimes when he was held up and robbed by two daring bandits a year ago last March.

From what could be learned yesterday the authorities believe that other members of the asserted band of mail robbers live in this city and the local Federal authorities are said to be making a search for them. No statement could be secured from the Department of Justice agents yesterday, but they declared that if any local angles in the case developed they would make a complete investigation.

Late yesterday afternoon Lamon and Pierce were being held in New York under $10,000 cash bail each, but the others were released under smaller bonds.

OBENCHAIN TRIAL SET OVER WEEK

Death of Judge's Father Causes Postponement of Case Till 10th Inst.

The trial of Mrs. Madalynne C. Obenchain, charged with the murder of J. Belton Kennedy, was continued yesterday until Monday, the 10th inst., because of the death of Rev. J. W. Shenk, father of Judge Shenk, before whom she is being tried. Announcement of the death of Dr. Shenk came at the opening of court yesterday.

Subpoenaed for the State, S. S. Hahn, attorney and former newspaper man; Chester G. Hanson, newspaper man, and Arthur C. Burch, codefendant of Mrs. Obenchain, were expected to testify to a number of the most important facts developed. It is expected when court reconvenes that Burch's attorneys will fight any effort to place him on the stand.

The announcement yesterday morning that Burch would take the stand drew a large crowd of flappers to the courtroom. The walks in front of the Hall of Justice, where Mrs. Obenchain's trial is being held, were jammed with men and women hoping to catch a glimpse of the two defendants.

The interim between trial sessions is expected to develop sensational testimony to be used later. It is known that certain facts have recently come to the attention of Jud B. Rush, one of Madalynne's attorneys, and he will use the intervening week to check them up. It will also allow the State, under the direction of Dep. Dist.-Attys. Keyes and McCartney, to muster a more formidable array of witnesses than they already have.

Hotel Leased at San Diego by Angelenos

Charles B. Hervey, owner of the Samarkand Hotel at Santa Barbara, and F. W. Paget, former manager of the Angelus Hotel in this city, have leased the 300-room Maryland Hotel, one of the leading hostelries of San Diego, and will assume charge today. Mr. Paget becomes resident manager of the hotel and the new owners are contemplating a number of improvements which will be started shortly.

The deal was negotiated through the Cason-Minster Company, hotel brokers of this city.

Mr. Hervey is well known in Southern California, having come to Los Angeles twenty-seven years ago, at which time he was associated with A. C. Bilicke in the operation of the Hollenbeck Hotel. Later he operated a string of hotels in Florida, Alabama and Texas. He has the unique honor of being the only man not actively connected with the Fourth Estate to be elected to an honorary life membership in the Florida State Press Association.

Mr. Paget, since leaving Los Angeles, has been engaged in the management of the Albany Hotel, Denver, and the Newhouse Hotel, Salt Lake City.

FAILS TO CONTEST WIFE'S DIVORCE SUIT

Although Lee Foote filed an answer to the charges contained in the divorce suit of his wife, Lillian Peer Foote, denying that he nagged her and accused her of thinking too much of other men, he did not appear and contest the case tried by Judge Valentine yesterday. Mrs. Foote charged cruelty. She was granted a decree.

RIDE CREST OF RADIOLAND

Gage Christopher Program Heard from KHJ

Bed-Time Story Teller is Kiddie Host

Saxophone Dominates P.M. Entertainment

Through the courtesy of Gage Christopher, KHJ, The Times radiophone, gave to listeners-in last night forty-five minutes of intense interest—forty-five minutes in which soprano, tenor, pianist and dramatic reader divided honors.

When Margaret Ruth Kernan's clear soprano rang out through radioland in "De Whipporwill," by Stickley, surely Mr. Whipporwill, if he were listening, must have wondered who was usurping his domain. The rare quality of Miss Kernan's voice was again exemplified in Carrie Jacobs Bond's "The Hand of You." She was accompanied at the piano by Leah Wood, who, in addition to playing all the accompaniments of the evening, gave two charming piano solos—"D Major Waltz," by Moszkowski, and "Love Dream," by Liszt.

"My Garden of Roses," by Polk, offered great possibilities for the range of A. Watson McAllister's rich tenor voice and he put a fine touch of tenderness into "Lassie of Mine," by Walt.

"Uncle John's" bed-time story was well augmented last night when Marie Becker McAllister, dramatic reader, told the lads and lassies of radioland two additional stories, "May and the Auto," by Edgar A. Guest, and "Daddy," by Nichols, told in Miss McAllister's inimitable style, were a keen enjoyment to the kiddies.

Some listeners-in might think KHJ specializes on saxophone solos, but there seems to be something about the music of a saxophone which gives radioland a real "kick," judging by the number of requests for this particular instrument. Fortunately, KHJ was able to give its invisible audience another trio of saxophone solos yesterday, this time from an artist new to KHJ—Mrs. Bing Richey—who is a real master in her art. Accompanied by Mrs. Nina Ghirardelli at the piano, Mrs. Richey rendered three numbers—"The Magic of Your Eyes," by Arthur Penn; "Gin, Gin, Ginny Shore" and "Tell Her at Twilight," by Donaldson, the latter being by special request.

As an extra number, Mrs. Nina Ghirardelli introduced a real ragtime piano solo—something infrequently heard from KHJ—"Syncopated Echoes." She showed herself master of every key on the piano and made a "stingery" finish to the afternoon bill.

Miles F. Walton, basso, accompanied by Gladys Garwick, sang three numbers—"Noon and Night," by Hawley; "Banjo Song" from "Bandanna Ballads," by Sidney Homer, and "Armorer Song" from "Robin Hood," by De Koven. Another member of the McAllister family, Albion W., tenor, also accompanied by Miss Garwick, sang three numbers—"Shoogy Shoo," by Grace Mayhew; "My Ain Folk," by Laura G. Lemon, and "Mavourneen," by Row-MacMurrough.

BOATING CONCESSION IN PARKS ATTACKED

Boating concessions in the city parks came in for attack at yesterday's session of the City Council, Councilmen Mallard and Sparks declaring that the parks belonged to the people and that the public should not be compelled to pay excessive rentals for boats and canoes in these parks. The Council asked the park department to make a report on the board's proposal to establish and operate a municipal boathouse at Echo Park and revoke the boating concession there now given to private interests.

Several hundred employees of the Public Service Department were entertained by radio Thursday evening between 7:15 and 8:00 in the auditorium at 707 South Broadway, by the KHJ all-Spanish program. The receiver was furnished by Lloyd M. Boothby, 1601 South Bonnie Brae street, who demonstrated a new Japanese paper loud speaker horn in connection with a Baldwin telephone.

Beginning Monday morning, July 3, at the Daily Vacation Bible School at Westlake, all boys under 14 attending the school will be given a course in radio. Barker Brothers have furnished all necessary equipment. The school opens at 9 a.m. and closes at noon, and will continue every day during July, excepting Saturdays and holidays.

A variable condenser used in conjunction with a crystal detector receiving set is usually more or less of a nuisance. Tuning can be done in an efficient manner with this type of set by the use of variable inductances without variable condensers.

Owing to last-minute changes in times "on the air" it is impossible to publish the July schedule today. But this schedule will appear in tomorrow's issue of The Times.

Consolidated Realty Stock Held Valuable

Declaring that many of the stockholders of the Consolidated Realty Company, which recently sold its building at the southwest corner of Sixth and Hill street, are being invited to sell their stock at $130 per share, Max Loewenthal, attorney and director of the company, issued a statement last night advising stockholders to hold on.

"We have just made application to the corporation commissioner for permission to distribute $130 per share to every stockholder," said Mr. Loewenthal, "and after that amount has been paid to them we will still have several hundred thousand dollars worth of property to dispose of. It will only be a short time until we can distribute the money."

ACCUSED OF SELLING CHALK AS MORPHINE

An asserted attempt to sell powdered chalk for morphine and sal-soda for heroin yesterday afternoon landed Henry Jameson, aged 36 years, in the City Jail on a charge of violating the State poison law. Jameson in looking about for customers at Eleventh street and Central avenue, picked out Police Detectives Mailheau and Littlejohn, and Inspector Earl of the State Board of Pharmacy. According to the detectives the sal-soda and chalk were offered to them at $2 a bindle.

CALE CHARGED WITH ASSAULT

Asserted Klan Member is Under Arrest

Was Witness at the Trial of John Vitelle

Brought to Bakersfield, Held in Jail

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BAKERSFIELD June 30.—Homer Cale, a witness in the trial of John Vitelle, was charged today with assaulting Dr. Mason by hanging and flogging him in the Taft Klan raid, which resulted in the arrest and conviction of Vitelle.

Cale was brought to Bakersfield late last night and placed in solitary confinement. Charges identical to the second and third counts in the grand jury indictment upon which Vitelle was convicted were preferred against the prisoner today by Dr. Mason.

ASSAULT CHARGED

One charge against Cale asserts assault to inflict great bodily injury by means of hanging the physician by the neck with a rope, and the second charges the same offense by flogging Dr. Mason with a heavy rope.

These were the second and third counts in the Vitelle indictment, the first count having been assault to commit murder with a gun. Vitelle was convicted by a jury on the third count.

WILL USE TESTIMONY

Testimony that Cale gave in the trial of Vitelle will be used against him, and in addition, Dist.-Atty. Dorsey has other evidence against the man, the prosecutor said this morning. The prisoner was a member of the Taft Klan at the time of the assault on Mason. He testified in the Vitelle trial, under examination by Dist.-Atty. Dorsey, that a "Klan party" assaulted Dr. Mason and that he (Cale) was a member of the party. Cale first said when questioned by Dorsey that he was only at the baseball park a few minutes the night of the Mason attack and did not know about all the proceedings there. Then Dr. Mason was questioned as to Cale's part in the torture. When Dorsey asked Dr. Mason about Cale, Mason said:

"That is the man," pointing to Cale, "who asked me questions which the Klan wanted answered."

Upon Dr. Mason's identification a warrant was issued for the arrest of Cale and charges were placed against him by Mason. Cale was nervous when he was on the witness stand in the Vitelle trial.

RAILWAY MAN HELD

F. W. Booth, an employee of the Salt Lake, charged with having sold a pass issued to him by virtue of such employment, was bound over to the grand jury yesterday by U. S. Commissioner Long. The transportation would have carried him from Los Angeles to St. Louis, and the regular passenger rate was about $70, but he sold the pass for $10, it is said.

BOBBED HAIR CAUSES ROW AND DIVORCE

Wife Has Crowning Glory Cut Off and Home Soon is Disrupted

John P. Arnoldy, a steel man, evidently believed that a woman's crowning glory is her hair. When his wife, Caroline E. Arnoldy, had her hair bobbed, the glory departed, or at least precipitated a row and was one of the causes that disrupted their home, Mrs. Arnoldy testified yesterday when she was granted a divorce in Judge Summerfield's court. She testified that her husband admired her hair, but when it was bobbed, he objected. She did not bob it to be in the mode, but because she had been ill and the hair was falling out, she said.

She told the court her husband objected to her friends and acquaintances acquired before her marriage to him and insisted that she give them up.

Mr. Arnoldy prepared a paper which he wanted her to sign, and she wanted to read it over carefully before signing, she stated. He objected, she said, and a row was on. She says he threw her on the floor in the struggle for the possession of the paper and recovered it.

The couple also disputed about property matters, it was testified. She said he wanted all of her property and all the money she had.

In a letter to his wife, addressed "My Dear Mrs. Arnoldy," he wrote he wanted it understood that when he furnished the money and took care of the rent, "I am going to have a say in all matters."

The former husband of Mrs. Arnoldy was Cliff Reuman, well known in club circles.

Indiana School Plans Lectures on Film Making

Talks on the motion-picture industry will be a part of the instruction in schools of Terre Haute, Ind., next winter, according to announcement made here yesterday by Alvin Heyhouse, principal of one of the large schools there. He headed a delegation from there that visited the Cosmopolitan Film Company at the Fine Arts studio this week, where Finis Fox is directing former Congressman M. W. Howard in "The Bishop of the Ozarks."

With Prof. Heyhouse were Miss Emma Dodson and Mrs. Heyhouse, both teachers in the Terre Haute schools, and a number of pupils in their charge. The instructors took notes, collected bits of film from the cutting-room showing features of the mechanism of the picture industry, which never reach the theater, and viewed the day's run in the little projection-room.

The Terre Haute instructors were the guests of Guy Bogart, secretary of the Cosmopolitan Film Company, who was formerly a student in the Indiana State Normal School at Terre Haute.

RESIDENTS ON BILL

Los Angeles talent will be largely represented on the Orpheum bill next week. For while Singer's Midgets, in their new and revised series of acts, will hold over, two incoming features will be "home folks." One is the team of "Skeet" Gallagher and Irene Martin, who own a home here and spend the time they are not on the road cultivating flowers and oranges. The other is Jimmy Savo, erstwhile the funny man of the flickers, who, with Joan Franza, his wife, is doing a comedy turn. Paul Decker, in a gossipy skit, "I Heard——" is also on the list, but he hails from New York.

Decision in Mine Workers' Case Considered Serious for Unions

Press Likens Supreme Court Action to Famous Taff Vale Result

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, July 1.—The decision of the United States Supreme Court in the case of the United Mine Workers of America caused comment in this country, where it is compared with the historic Taff Vale decision of 1901.

Although the text of the decision has not been received here, newspaper reports indicate that it is more far-reaching than the Taff Vale decision, and is a heavy and perhaps knockout blow to trade unionism in America. For, if these reports are correct, the decision means that not only can an employer against whom a strike is directed claim and collect damages against the striking union, but any third party injured by the strike can also proceed against the union and claim damages. The Taff Vale decision did not recognize the rights of a third party, "If that is the law," says the New

When the conference called by the President adjourned tonight it appeared that little, if any, progress had been made in the direction of getting the antagonistic factions together.
